2017/2018 Annual Report – Public Interest Disclosure (Whistleblower Protection) Act (PIDA)

The University of Manitoba (the "University") is designated as a "government body" under the regulations to The Public Interest Disclosure (Whistleblower Protection) Act, C.C.S.M., c.P217 ("PIDA"). All government bodies are required to implement Procedures to manage disclosures, as defined by PIDA, and the University is committed to meeting or exceeding the requirements of PIDA.

The University's Safe Disclosure (Whistleblower) Policy and Procedure is intended to detail how the University will manage disclosures under PIDA. A wrongdoing is a very serious act or omission that is an offence under another law, an act that creates a specific or substantial danger to life, health or safety of persons or the environment, or gross mismanagement, including the mismanagement of public funds or government property; or directing our counselling a person to commit wrongdoing.

A disclosure made by an employee in good faith, in accordance with PIDA, and with a reasonable belief that wrongdoing has been or is about to be committed, is considered to be a disclosure under PIDA whether or not the subject matter constitutes wrongdoing. All disclosures receive careful and thorough review to determine if action is required, and must be reported in the annual report.

The following is a report on the disclosures that were received under PIDA for the fiscal year April 1, 2017 – March 31, 2018.
