PRESIDENT’S REPORT: October 1, 2014

GENERAL

First day enrolment in September 2014 was the second-highest on record, at 29,015 students. This includes 3,306 graduate students, and an all-time high of 4,237 international students. Several faculties recorded increases in enrolment, including Arts, Dentistry, Engineering, Science, and the Asper School of Business, along with the Colleges of Medicine and Medical Rehabilitation.

Homecoming 2014 featured a wide range of opportunities for the more than 131,000 graduates of the University of Manitoba to celebrate their connections with the University and their classmates. Music, sport, more than 15 reunions, and a dinner and concert featuring performances by the Desautels Faculty of Music were all included in the 2014 events. Notably, the Faculty of Law and the Manitoban both celebrated their 100-year milestone anniversaries.

Over the summer, under the leadership of Dr. Joanne Keselman, Vice-President (Academic) and Provost, the Strategic Planning Committee has significantly advanced work on the development of an updated plan. Following a period of extensive consultation in late winter, the Committee has worked to develop a draft plan, which is currently being finalized. It then will be shared with the University and broader communities for input through an online process. It also will be forwarded to the Senate Planning and Priorities Committee, Senate Executive, Senate and our Board of Governors for discussion and input. Feedback resulting from these consultation opportunities will be considered by the Strategic Planning Committee and a final Strategic Planning Framework will then be formally presented to our governing bodies for approval.

The approaching civic election provides an opportunity to consider the breadth of the relationship between the University of Manitoba and the City of Winnipeg, and the range of important issues being discussed. In recent weeks, President Barnard has met with five of the mayoral candidates to discuss each one’s vision for that relationship, and to express the University’s commitment to continued collaboration with the City of Winnipeg.

ACADEMIC MATTERS

- Digvir Jayas, biosystems engineering and vice president (research and international), was presented with the Kishida International Award for outstanding contributions by the American Society of Agricultural and Biological Engineers at their annual international meeting in Montreal in July.

- Adele Perry won the Hilda Neatby Prize at the Canadian Historical Association’s Annual Meeting for her article entitled James Douglas, Amelia Connolly, and the Writing of Gender and Women’s History. This prize recognizes the best articles in French and English on women's history each year.

- The Financial Aid and Awards office went live on June 17th with a searchable awards database. The database will provide students with an easy-to-use, comprehensive and central source of information on Senate-approved awards at the undergraduate, graduate and post-graduate levels.
Initiated this year, the youth-in-care grants provide the opportunity for young people who are, or who have been, in the care of Child and Family Services in Manitoba to attend the University of Manitoba. The grants will cover the costs of undergraduate tuition up to $5,000 per year for a maximum of 4 years for each recipient. Ten grant recipients have been selected for this inaugural year.

A new online First Year Planning Guide was launched May 15, 2014 to help ease the transition of students to the University of Manitoba and provide the foundation for academic success. The Guide was developed by the University 1 First Year Centre in collaboration with Marketing Communications Office, advising staff in a number of faculties, the Registrar’s Office, Career Services, and the Access program. First year students are led through a step-by-step process of career exploration, program and course selection (including a recommended introductory course list), timetable planning, registration guidance, and a “to-do” First Year Student Checklist.

English, film and theatre faculty, students and alumni participated in thirteen productions at this year’s Winnipeg Fringe Festival held from July 16 to 27.

The Faculty of Education hosted the 1st Annual Canadian Assessment for Learning Network (CAfLN) conference entitled, “Assessment for Learning: What Have We Learned? Where Are We Going?”

RESEARCH MATTERS

The University of Manitoba has entered into an Affiliation Agreement with the Centre for Drug Research and Development (CDRD), Canada’s national drug development and commercialization centre. University researchers will now be able to collaborate with CDRD’s drug development and commercialization experts, and access its specialized platform supporting the development of both small molecule and biologic therapeutics across a broad spectrum of disease indications. The partnership will help faculty members move their research from the lab into practice; and will strengthen the western Canadian drug development and commercial pipeline.

The Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SSHRC) has awarded $395,293 in grant funding for two partnership development projects at the University of Manitoba. Professor Shirley Thompson (Natural Resources Institute) will be working with community organizations researching solutions to food insecurity and underdevelopment in northern Manitoba Aboriginal communities. Professor Andrew Woolford (Sociology), with Adam Muller and Struan Sinclair (English, Film and Theatre) will be leading the Embodying Empathy project, which will use leading-edge technologies to create a prototype virtual Indian Residential School (IRS) in partnership with Survivors, Indigenous commemorative and educational agencies, archivists, scholars and technology experts. Their research will explore if virtual-reality technologies can bring audiences closer to the experiences of forced assimilation.

Graduate student Kathryn Marcynuk is the recipient of a 2014 Vanier Canada Graduate Scholarship, and will receive $150,000 over three years toward her research. She is doing her graduate work in the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering, Faculty of Engineering. Her research aims to separate out the numerous background noises (referred to as the ‘cocktail party problem’) picked up during an electrocardiogram (ECG) of a mother and her fetus. By separating the fetal heartbeat from the other signals, she will be able to improve the reliability of a fetal ECG, reducing the number of falsely indicated problems that lead to unnecessary medical intervention.

- On June 24, 2014, Western Diversification announced funding of $3.5 million to the Manitoba Institute for Materials infrastructure. This will fund the purchase of three high performance electron scanning microscopes required to establish an advanced materials characterization facility. This facility will enable academia and industry to integrate more fully and capitalize on the growing emphasis on composites and aerospace research and development being undertaken in Western Canada, and demonstrate the University’s expertise and leadership in this field.

- Researchers at the University of Manitoba will receive $8,868,529 in new funding for grants and scholarships from the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada (NSERC) over the next five years. The money will support 57 professors and 21 students at the graduate, doctoral, or post-doctoral levels in their research that will further discoveries in a full range of fields in science, technology, engineering and mathematics. The award was announced on June 26 by the Honourable Ed Holder, Minister of State (Science and Technology).

- On June 13, 2014, the University of Manitoba announced new major support from the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation to the Centre for Global Public Health (CGPH) for an innovative and comprehensive maternal and child health initiative in Uttar Pradesh, India. The University of Manitoba will lead Technical Support Units with partner India Health Action Trust to help build capacity and train community health workers and lead mentors to deliver effective interventions to reduce the number of adverse health outcomes among mothers, infants and young children related to childbirth, malnutrition and common illnesses.

- Eighty-two researchers were awarded $5,211,242 in funding for 97 projects from various sponsors. Those projects receiving more than $25,000 are:

ADMINISTRATIVE MATTERS

- Outdoor Student Orientation activities at the Fort Garry Campus were held from September 2 – 14 at the Curry Place Pedway, Quad, and University Centre patio.

- University participation in the annual Commuter Challenge increased 89% over last year, with University of Manitoba employees logging over 22,000 km of sustainable transportation over seven days in June. More than half of the University of Manitoba staff and students choose sustainable transportation every day. Results as an infographic: http://umanitoba.ca/campus/sustainability/media/commuter_challenge_analysis__Final.pdf

- The University was recently awarded an Ecologically Sustainable Development Grant of $456,000 by the Manitoba Education and Advanced Learning, Advanced Learning Division, to upgrade the EITC Engineering III ventilation system. The upgrades will optimize system performance by tracking the actual building loads to minimum energy conservation.

- Tri-Council has notified the University that it will be conducting a monitoring review in March 2015 covering the period October 1, 2013 to September 30, 2014. Compliance with accountability expectations of research funders has received additional focus over the last number of years because the last Tri-Council monitoring visit concluded that our system of controls was not satisfactorily addressing their expectations. The implementation of Concur and EPIC have introduced control improvements, and Financial Services has been conducting research compliance workshops to raise awareness and improve processes. This effort has also been supported by Audit Services.

- On August 12, the University's internet service provider encountered a 13.5 hour impact to service. Main impacts to the university included external email not being delivered or received, HR Smart could not be accessed, and access to remote hosted systems was restricted.

- Windows XP to 7 Migration Project is very near completion. Over 3,000 computers were identified as part of this project and all of them have either been replaced, upgraded to Windows 7 or sufficiently isolated from our network to pose the least risk.

- Wireless N work continues with the installation complete in 17 buildings and 2 near completion. 29 buildings and 2 outdoor locations are included in the next phase which will see the remaining campus wireless service migrated to wireless N.

- Commvault has been selected for the University's consolidated backup and recovery system. This system will allow the University to retire several disparate systems currently in use for different file types, and will greatly enhance the ability to properly manage archives and improve disaster recovery posture.

- Managed Print Service agreement with Xerox was terminated on August 20th.
EXTERNAL MATTERS

• For the period of April 1, 2014 to August 31, 2014, the University has raised $5,525,094.39 for the 2014/2015 fiscal year.

• Significant gifts and activities in the last reporting period include:

  o The Western Grains Research Foundation made a gift of $100,000 to support the Western Grains Research Foundation Endowment Fund Graduate Scholarship in the Faculty of Agricultural and Food Sciences. The purpose of the scholarships is to support and encourage top students to further their studies in crop research, to generate improved technology and productivity for western crop producers.

  o Pauline and Roger Presland made a five-year commitment of $125,000 to support student awards through the Aboriginal Business Education Partners program.

• The Manitoba Scholarship and Bursary Initiative (MSBI) have been approved for the 2014/15 fiscal year. The preliminary allocation for the University of Manitoba is $2,050,900, up slightly from previous years (2013/14 - $2,032,500, 2012/13 - $2,025,000)

• Minister of Jobs and Economy, Theresa Oswald, and Deputy Minister of Jobs and the Economy, Hugh Eliasson, met with President Barnard, John Kearsey, Vice-President (External) and Leah Janzen, Associate Vice-President (Outreach and Engagement) to discuss the University of Manitoba as an economic driver and the role of graduate student support in the comprehensive campaign.

Letter from the President

To come at conclusion of process
Introduction

The University of Manitoba was established almost 140 years ago, and with the passage of An Act to establish a Provincial University (1877), became the first degree-granting institution west of southern Ontario. The Act described the University’s purpose as “raising the standard of higher education in the Province, and of enabling all denominations and classes to obtain academical degrees”.

Echoes of this early statement of purpose remain in the University of Manitoba’s current mission: To create, preserve, communicate and apply knowledge, contributing to the cultural, social and economic well-being of the people of Manitoba, Canada and the world.

It is still the case, as it was then, that the University seeks to meet Manitoba’s needs. In 1877, this was defined simply as a need for a degree-granting body, to raise the standard of higher education. From this foundation however has grown a University with a role that far exceeds its initial mission. The University of Manitoba now offers a wide range of degrees to its students, of whom 80% still come from within Manitoba and, after graduation, pursue their careers here, becoming our next generation of cultural, community, business and government leaders.

At the same time, it now shares this excellence in education with students from around the world, and actively seeks to engage as part of the interconnected international community, through research partnerships, student and academic exchanges and the pursuit of solutions to challenges faced globally. The University of Manitoba offers a broad range of programs, many of which are unique within the province. This is particularly true in the case of professional programs. The University of Manitoba is the only university in the province providing degree programs in disciplines including Architecture, Dentistry, Engineering, Law, Medicine, Medical Rehabilitation and Pharmacy, and also is responsible for awarding the majority of degrees in other professional disciplines including Education, Nursing and Social Work. In addition, as Manitoba’s only research (medical-doctoral) university, the University of Manitoba’s role within the provincial post-secondary system is defined by the extent of its provision of graduate education and its extensive research enterprise. The University dominates the Manitoba research landscape and ranks among Canada’s most research-intensive universities, with world-class faculty who connect their expertise to local, national and international needs and provide students with a uniquely enriched educational experience. Over $1.8 billion in annual economic activity in the province is attributable to the University of Manitoba, making it one of the most important contributors to the province’s prosperity.

The University of Manitoba has evolved over 140 years to meet the unique needs and challenges of the Province and, unlike its early beginnings, fully recognizes the diversity of the people of Manitoba, particularly the Indigenous population. The University is engaged in a comprehensive effort to attract and retain more Indigenous students, faculty and staff, to incorporate Indigenous perspectives and knowledge within its program offerings, and honour First Nations, Metis and Inuit traditions and cultures in its spaces.

Planning Context

In 2009, the University of Manitoba’s Senate and Board of Governors approved, for the purposes of planning, the Strategic Planning Framework 2009 – 2014 that was intended to guide the major decisions to be made over the ensuing five years. While recognizing the breadth and depth of the University’s capacity, it identified areas where it was thought that the allocation of focused effort and resources would allow for the greatest progress in pursuing the University’s vision and mission. An October 2013 report on progress under the Strategic Planning Framework (http://umanitoba.ca/admin/vp_academic/media/October_2013_status_UPDATED_Feb_2014.pdf) identified much progress attained to that point, including almost $32 million in funding reallocated in support of framework priorities. It also acknowledged there were some improvements that would need to be incorporated in the new plan, such as addressing in greater detail the University’s commitment to teaching, research, scholarship and creative works, and the depth of the work required to make meaningful improvements to the University’s institutional infrastructure and organizational structures. It also has become clear that the University’s commitment to providing an exceptional student experience, rather than being pigeonholed as a discrete set of activities, must be integrated within all of the University’s programs and services.

The lessons learned in implementing the Strategic Planning Framework 2009-2014 provide important context in charting a course for the next planning period, as will the environment in which the University will be making its decisions.

As a publicly funded institution, the University of Manitoba will be affected significantly by the increasingly-constrained financial environment in the coming years. Governments across the country have been adjusting their approaches to funding universities, choosing to reduce or constrain the growth of operating grants, establish targeted program funding, change eligibility criteria for research funding, or limit the availability of capital. The University of Manitoba in particular will need to respond to continued limits on its provincial operating grant, restrictions to its ability to adjust tuition fees to competitive market rates, and limited provincial funding for the research endeavor.

These challenges will occur at a time when the competition for top talent will continue to intensify, and will be compounded by the scope of the investment that is necessary for the University to pursue its priorities. These include its commitment to improving and modernizing its institutional infrastructure, which is a key ingredient in attracting and retaining exceptional faculty, staff and students and to maintaining our commitment to offering a broad range of opportunities to students from a variety of backgrounds. Our current commitment in this area has resulted in a significant investment in information technology, for example, and this need will remain strong for the foreseeable future. So, too, will be the need to continue investments in student support in order to attract top graduate and undergraduate students.

Changing demographics, along with other factors which affect enrolment, are expected to have a significant impact on the University in the coming years. The projected declines in provincial high school graduates and the provincial population aged 18-24 are concerning, but are tempered by factors such as current trends in immigration rates and university participation rates, and international demand for our programs. The implementation of Strategic Enrolment Management targets, both for the University’s overall student population as well as for specific categories of students, make it even more important that these factors are monitored on an ongoing basis and their effects understood.

Over the past few years, the University has been engaged in what can be described as the largest business transformation project in Manitoba’s history. This has involved a range of efforts designed to update the University’s processes, update and improve the way in which it offers its services, and reorganize its structure. This has generated savings that have allowed the University to reinvest in high-priority activities, but it also has led to a great deal of change within the organization, which in turn has led to concerns from faculty and staff related to its rate and impacts. The University will need to focus on effective change support and communication, both to address existing challenges being faced by members of its community and to prepare effectively for and implement future changes.
The University of Manitoba has an opportunity to capitalize on the growing desire within its community for increased, more effective and more meaningful engagement, both internally and externally. It has emerged as such a significant area for focus that external engagement is defined as a distinct priority for the University, and internal engagement has become a core feature of how a positive work and learning environment is defined.

The role that the University of Manitoba has evolved to fulfil is unique within the province, as are the impacts it can have in meeting economic and social needs in the province and globally, the opportunities it is able to offer its students, and the connections it is able to forge with other institutions, organizations, and communities. The University’s commitment to Indigenous achievement is notable in this regard; not only does it involve a focus on meeting the needs of Indigenous students, but also an ability to work with communities to address a range of pressing issues.

In developing this plan, more than 50 input sessions were held involving almost 1,200 faculty, staff, students and alumni, who were asked a series of questions related to their perspectives about the future direction of the university. This input was tremendously valuable to the planning committee in considering the types of goals that would have strategic importance to the University of Manitoba over the next five years. The process also served as a rich source of input from members of our community about the context in which we are planning for the future. Several themes emerged from these consultations that speak to the issues preoccupying members of our community, and can be used to guide the approaches that academic and administrative units will take to pursuing the University’s priorities.

Sense of community: The need for a more connected community emerged as one of the strongest areas of consensus in the feedback from the consultation sessions. There is a clear sense that the University would benefit both from better communication and engagement within its own structures, and with the broader community as well. Internally, this might manifest itself as greater opportunity for collaboration and teamwork among faculties, meaningful dialogue as a community about major issues facing the University or decisions affecting the workplace, or – in the case of students – creating better ways to engage students in campus life. In addition, a clear sense emerged from University faculty and staff, students and community partners that all would benefit from greater integration and dialogue between the University and the external community.

Positive working environment: Faculty and staff share a strong desire to foster a work environment where individuals are respected, contributions are valued and recognized, and where opportunities for growth and development are promoted. In addition, staff wanted better work-life balance, which they suggested could be enhanced through offerings such as accessible childcare and flexible work schedules. Faculty stressed the importance of a work environment that respects and fosters collegial decision making and that provides sufficient administrative support in order for them to focus on their primary responsibilities of teaching and research.

Innovations in learning: Students’ participation in the consultation sessions provided important feedback regarding what they are seeking from their university experience. They prioritized flexibility in how they are able to pursue their programs, as well as greater opportunities for experiential education and a stronger connection between their studies and their careers of choice. The kind of supports they are seeking include enhanced career services and the ability to develop their ‘job-readiness’ skills while pursuing their degrees, through means such as co-op programs. They also promoted an increased emphasis on teaching excellence (both in terms of content and pedagogy) when recruiting faculty and assessing their performance.

Technology: Faculty, staff and students alike emphasized the increasingly important role that technology is playing in society in general and in the University’s learning and work environment in particular. At the same time, the complexity of using technology and social media as an enabler of learning was identified as a challenge.
requiring additional support and guidance. In addition, it was acknowledged that more robust technology infrastructure will be required to support the University’s teaching and research programs.

Indigenous student success: A great strength of the University of Manitoba is the diversity of its student body, particularly its growing population of First Nations, Metis and Inuit students. There is a shared view among faculty, staff and students that one of the key elements to enhancing Indigenous student success is the availability of academic and student supports that are relevant, culturally affirming and innovative. Many discussions took place at Indigenous-focused consultation sessions about the need to decolonize the University to better support Indigenous students and faculty by offering more Indigenous-based curricula, supporting more community-based research, and increasing awareness about the contributions of Indigenous peoples. Another suggestion was that the University can play an important role in enhancing early Indigenous student success by engaging with the pre-university student population through K-12 outreach and mentoring programs. Participants, Indigenous students in particular, spoke about the need for more Indigenous academics and staff on campus. Equally important was the need for engaged and active Indigenous alumni who can serve as role models and mentors.

Changing role of universities: The consultation sessions yielded a wide range of perspectives related to the changing role of universities, the context in which they are operating, and how the University of Manitoba should respond to these changes. Reflecting the breadth of the role of universities, participants spoke about the need both to respond to change while remaining true to the University’s fundamental purpose to educate and create and share ideas and new knowledge for the public good, recognized the need to create greater connections between students’ education and the workplace while expressing concern about a national skills discussion that appears to devalue the benefits of university education in favour of skilled trades, and acknowledged the need to diversify funding sources while expressing concern about a focus on revenue generation. Though this range of perspectives highlights the need for balance in addressing diverse interests, what was consistent was a view that the University’s academic principles must not be compromised, and that institutional resources, whatever their source, should be used so as to maximize their impact in support of the University’s mission.

Reputation: Enhancing the University’s reputation as a nationally and internationally recognized leader in its areas of strength was identified as a priority for many participants, who linked reputational strength to the University’s ability to compete effectively for high quality faculty, staff, students, grant funding, and support from other sources. Though not universal, there was a commonly held view that building recognition would require choices and selective investments, given the current fiscal reality. In other words, the University of Manitoba cannot afford to be all things to all people.

Considered together, these themes reflect the forward-focused views of our community. They reflect our collective assessment of the opportunities that exist both on our campuses and in our greater society, ways in which our University can uniquely address those opportunities in the communities we serve and the conditions that need to be met to fulfill our role. The themes illustrate that while we’ve accomplished many things, including those guided by our previous planning framework, there are additional opportunities for our university to be even more responsive.

We recognize the distinctive role the University of Manitoba can play in addressing these opportunities. It is this distinct role that has inspired the title of our updated Strategic Plan. Taking Our Place means employing intentional and strategic measures to the meet the ever-changing needs of our world. It means increasing both our influence in, and our collaboration with communities. And it sets our sights on reinforcing our standing as a leading university.
Acknowledgement, Mission, Vision and Values

The University of Manitoba’s role in reconciliation, its connections with Indigenous students, partners and communities, and its commitment to Indigenous Achievement are central to the kind of future the University seeks to create. A strongly held view emerged from consultation sessions, the strategic planning committee and the leadership of the university that in order to truly be “Manitoba’s University” required that the University of Manitoba’s commitment to Indigenous Achievement and to Indigenizing the University be elevated to a level of prominence within its strategic plan that traditionally is held by its mission, vision and values. In recent years, the University has adopted the practice, at formal functions, of acknowledging the traditional lands on which it sits. An acknowledgement of these lands, and of the University’s commitment to Indigenous peoples and communities, now form part of the foundational statements that define of the University of Manitoba.

Acknowledgement

The University of Manitoba campuses are located on original lands of Anishinaabeg, Cree, Oji-Cree, Dakota, and Dene peoples, and on the homeland of the Metis Nation.

We respect the Treaties that were made on these territories, we acknowledge the harms and mistakes of the past, and we dedicate ourselves to move forward in partnership with Indigenous communities in a spirit of reconciliation and collaboration.

The University of Manitoba is committed to ensuring that First Nations, Metis and Inuit cultures and worldviews are embraced and reflected in the pursuit of its mission.

Strategic Priorities

The strategic priorities of Taking our Place: University of Manitoba Strategic Plan 2015-2020 ("the Plan") build on those identified in the Strategic Planning Framework 2009-2014, the lessons learned in implementing this framework and the perspectives on the future direction of the University shared by faculty, staff, students and alumni as part of the consultation process associated with the development of the Plan. What follows is a description of these priorities, where the University will direct its efforts and resources to realize these priorities, and how it will assess its progress in doing so.

The Plan identifies five strategic priorities or broad directions for the University for 2015-2020. For each of these priority areas, the Plan begins with a statement of commitment or aspiration – what the University hopes to achieve in setting a particular priority. A set of high level goals is then identified for each priority area along with a set of supporting actions. In most cases, these supporting actions are aligned with a specific goal. In some cases, however, they may support more than one goal, given their overlapping nature.

For each priority area, examples of the metrics that will be used to monitor our progress are provided in the Implementation section. These examples are consistent with a series of metrics that have been used to monitor progress on the Strategic Planning Framework 2009-2014, and will be used as a starting point in developing a more complete set of metrics for assessment purposes, including baseline data and targets where possible.

I. Inspiring Minds through innovative and quality teaching

The University of Manitoba is this province’s research university; therefore, research informs our teaching and teaching informs our research. We provide a wide range of high quality liberal arts, science and professional programs that are appropriate to our mission and size and that equip our undergraduate and graduate students to be globally engaged citizens.

We are committed to ensuring that our undergraduate and graduate students have an outstanding educational experience. They engage with their courses and programs in learning and related environments that best contribute to their success. They have access to experiential learning opportunities as well as proper recognition of their relevant learning outside of the University of Manitoba. Excellent professors who are properly recognized and rewarded for their skills and achievements teach them. And they understand the importance and contributions of Indigenous peoples in Manitoba and Canada.

III. Creating Pathways to Indigenous achievement

Manitoba has a large and growing Indigenous population. This population is younger and growing at a faster rate than the non-Indigenous Canadian population. In fact, it is predicted based on Statistics Canada Census data that Indigenous peoples will comprise nearly 19% of Manitoba’s population by 2026. The success of First Nations, Metis and Inuit peoples and communities is vital to the health and well-being of our province and, indeed, our nation.

By incorporating Indigenous world views into our learning, discovery and engagement programs, the University will help to transform the lives of both Indigenous and non-Indigenous peoples and communities, and make Manitoba and Canada a better place to live. Through the sharing of Indigenous knowledge, cultures and traditions across our campuses, we will build a stronger foundation for students, staff and the wider community.

We are committed to fostering the development of the next generation of Indigenous leaders by providing an inclusive and supportive learning environment that promotes Indigenous student success from the time of admission through graduation. As Manitoba’s research university, we are dedicated to advancing Indigenous research and scholarship, becoming a centre of excellence for this work. In addition, we seek to play a greater role in reaching out to First Nations, Metis and Inuit K-12 students to better support academic success, building a more prosperous and fulfilling future through post-secondary studies for Indigenous families, communities, Manitoba and the rest of Canada. In all our activities, the University acknowledges the need to work respectfully and collaboratively in partnership with First Nations, Metis and Inuit communities.

IV. Building Community

that creates an outstanding learning and working environment

As the largest university in the Province, the University of Manitoba is also one of the largest communities in Manitoba. Each of our more than 38,000 students, staff and faculty have ambitions, potential and promise that contributes to the diversity of our community and establishes a unique environment for learning and working.

Our university community engages in programs that foster interchange and creation of knowledge, ideas and opinions in a respectful, mutually supportive climate of trust. In this collegial environment each individual grows to achieve their full potential while concurrently contributing to the growth of colleagues, the community as a whole and Manitoba.

At the University of Manitoba we believe an outstanding learning and working environment is foundational to achieving our Mission and Vision. We are committed to recognizing and celebrating the contributions of all community members and the diversity of our community, particularly the role of Indigenous peoples. We encourage dialogue and inclusivity for the continuous refinement of academic, administrative and governance programs and processes. We are dedicated to provide all students, staff and faculty learning, research and leadership support and development opportunities.

V. Forging Connections

to foster high impact community engagement

Our mission includes the traditional aspect of service to the community, yet we have embraced a shift in thinking to better respect the reality that we don’t simply serve our communities, we engage with them. Our relationships with our alumni, friends, donors, and partners – local, national and international – are both reciprocal and collaborative.

We believe in the importance of forging strong connections, ones that join our efforts with those in other organizations, that embed members of our community within others, or that create opportunities for the University of Manitoba to be the place where those joint efforts take shape. We are firmly committed to engaging with communities beyond the University, to closer collaborative relationships with them, and more integration of the University and community. We believe in being present in the communities we serve, and to welcoming them in return.

We are committed to aligning our research and teaching activities to meet local and global needs in a collaborative way, and to developing and fostering relationships that enable the University and our alumni, donors, and partners to have a direct and positive impact on people’s lives.

x. Develop and execute a $500 million comprehensive campaign that engages students, faculty, staff, Board of Governors members, alumni, friends, and governments in the goal of advancing the University.
Implementation

The Strategic Planning Framework 2009 – 2014 was intended to be used as a guide for the University of Manitoba community in making decisions about programs, structures, and the allocation of resources and effort. The Plan similarly will provide direction, though to a greater degree of specificity.

Faculties, departments and administrative units will continue to be expected to develop and connect their internal plans and priorities in alignment with the goals and supporting actions of the Plan and to report on their progress during the annual strategic resource allocation process.

Integration

Numerous operational plans and reports exist that provide additional context and background for the priorities articulated in this plan, and will support implementation efforts. These include the objectives articulated in major plans like the Strategic Enrolment Planning Framework, the Comprehensive Campaign Case for Support, or the Strategic Research Plan, for instance.

In some other cases, such as Pathways to Indigenous Achievement, operational plans do not yet exist, but are under development. The Vice-Presidents will be accountable for ensuring that those necessary operational plans are developed in support of the Plan. The absence of an operational plan, however, will not be seen as an impediment to the pursuit of the University’s priorities – faculties, departments and administrative units should continue to feel free to innovate in how they contribute to the attainment of the objectives contained herein.

Measurement and Reporting

The Strategic Planning Framework 2009 – 2014 identified, as its first priority for implementation, the development of a self-assessment framework that would allow the University to be able to gauge its progress in pursuing its priorities. This work proved challenging, due to the limited availability of data that could generate meaningful information about outcomes or comparability with similar institutions.

Two significant factors have since had the effect of improving the University’s position in this area. In 2011 the University joined with the U15 group of universities, which has resulted in an ability to access a significant amount of comparative data from peer institutions. In addition, the University has enhanced its support to the Office of Institutional Analysis (OIA) in order to bolster its internal capacity.

A series of metrics has been developed however, that has been used to monitor progress on the Strategic Planning Framework 2009-2014 and will serve as a starting point as a measurement framework for Taking our Selected examples of these metrics are listed below. In some instances, such as metrics that support the University’s Strategic Enrolment Management (SEM) plan, baseline data and targets already have been established. For those metrics where baseline data and targets do not yet exist, it will be an early requirement that they are developed.

To this end and in collaboration with the Office of Institutional Analysis, an updated set of metrics that speaks more completely to the goals and supporting actions for each of the priorities in the Plan will be developed, including the collection of baseline data for those metrics where these data do not currently exist. Starting in 2015/16, the University will report annually to the Board of Governors and Senate on this new set of metrics, and share this report with the University of Manitoba community.

Dear Dr. Hultin,

Please accept this letter as formal support for the Arun Sud Memorial Scholarship. This scholarship would be used to support students with mental health disabilities who are enrolled at the University of Manitoba.

Students with mental health disabilities are the largest growing population within the Student Accessibility Services office. The percentages of students with a mental health disability have increased from 7.5% to 36% of the SAS population. I have included a table to show the percentage of students registered with SAS in the mental health disability category in relation to the overall student population at the University of Manitoba. However there would be more students with mental health illness at the UM, who may not request services.

Report of the Senate Committee on Admissions concerning a proposal from the Faculty of Engineering to create an Aboriginal special consideration category for Engineering Access Program students (2014.08.26)

Preamble:

1. The terms of reference for this committee can be found at: http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/governing_documents/governance/sen_committees/490.htm.

2. The Faculty of Engineering is proposing the creation of a new Aboriginal special consideration category for Aboriginal students who are enrolled in the Engineering Access Program (ENGAP), and who will be applying to a specific year two program in the Faculty of Engineering.

3. The proposal was approved by the Engineering Faculty Council in August 12, 2014 and by SCADM on August 26, 2014.

Observations:

1. The Engineering Access Program is a specially designed program to support First Nation, Metis, and Inuit people enrolled in the Faculty of Engineering at the University of Manitoba. ENGAP provides assistance in four main areas, social, personal, academic and financial. It delivers upgrading courses in physics, pre-calculus math, computer science and chemistry to ensure ENGAP students are prepared for the rigours of an engineering degree.

2. First Nation, Metis, and Inuit people are vastly under represented within Science Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) career areas. In order to help address this vast under-representation the ENGAP program was created. Even with ENGAP, the most successful program of its kind in Canada, the current undergraduate enrolment in the Faculty of Engineering of First Nation, Metis, and Inuit people is approximately 4.6%; the current population of First Nation, Metis, and Inuit people in Manitoba is over 15%. The University of Manitoba has set a goal of 10% undergraduate Aboriginal student enrolment by 2018.

3. The eligibility requirements for the new category would be as follows:
   a. Meet the general minimum Faculty of Engineering eligibility requirements
   b. Be an Aboriginal applicant who has been enrolled in ENGAP for a minimum of eight months by the end of April of the year of application
   Note: Enrolment in ENGAP requires proof of Aboriginal identity

4. Up to eight spaces (supernumerary) are available in this category
Recommendation:

The Senate Committee on Admissions recommends that the proposal to create a new Aboriginal special consideration category for Aboriginal students who are enrolled in the Engineering Access Program be approved and be in effect for the September, 2015 intake.

Respectfully submitted
Susan Gottheil, Chair, Senate Committee on Admissions

Attach
Aboriginal Special Consideration Category for Engineering Access Program (ENGAP) Students

The Faculty of Engineering is proposing the creation of an Aboriginal Special Consideration category for students who will be applying to a specific program in year two in the Faculty of Engineering. This category is intended for all First Nations, Metis, and Inuit applicants who are enrolled in ENGAP, and who meet the minimum admission requirements for a specific program, but who do not meet the cut-off AGPA for the current year’s admission.

Up to eight admission spaces (supernumerary) are available in this category annually. Assuming eight students are admitted, the expected distribution would be as follows:

Eligibility
- Meet the general minimum Faculty of Engineering eligibility requirements
- Be an Aboriginal applicant who has been enrolled in ENGAP for a minimum of eight months by the end of April of the year of application

Note: Enrolment in ENGAP requires proof of Aboriginal identity

Selection process
Applicants will automatically be assessed in the regular stream based on their AGPA (current admission criterion). If their AGPA is not competitive in the regular stream they will be assessed through the Aboriginal Special Consideration category.

Each program will hold the above noted spots open for ENGAP candidates under the Aboriginal Special Consideration category. Applicants will be ranked based on AGPA for those ENGAP students who did not gain acceptance through the regular stream. All ENGAP students should have a minimum AGPA of 2.00 in their eight (out of the required 12) courses to enter a program. If the student has completed more than eight of the twelve courses needed for selection, the eight courses with the highest grades will be used to determine the AGPA for selection.

SUBJECT: Revised Chairs and Professorships policy and procedures

Please find attached the revised Chairs and Professorships policy and procedures. The updated policy and procedures include one significant revision and a number of minor additions and edits to update the information. The primary change in wording in the policy was made to allow for greater flexibility in the recruitment process. Many Deans had indicated that they wanted this change in wording to the policy. The Senate Committee on University Research was consulted and passed a motion in support of the change in wording.

The original wording states “individuals appointed to Chairs and Professorships shall normally have the academic qualifications commensurate with an appointment at the rank of Professor.” The proposed change states “the academic qualifications commensurate with an appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor, Associate Professor or Professor.”

There is no additional impact on resources required to implement this policy and I see the changes as allowing for greater flexibility in obtaining the best possible candidate.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions.

Part I

Reason for Policy

1.1 The University continually seeks to develop and enhance its academic programs and activities. To this end, it welcomes external funding from donors that will assist the University in discharging its academic responsibilities. The establishment of Chairs or Professorships is one way in which this may be achieved.

1.2 The University is committed to the tradition and importance of Chairs and Professorships as a means of developing, recognizing and promoting academic programs and fields of study that are consistent with the University's mission and scholarly objectives. To this end, it has developed a policy and attendant procedures governing the establishment of Chairs and Professorships.

Part II

Policy Content

2.1 This policy and its attendant procedures pertain to sponsored academic appointments where the appointees are selected by a process that is internal to and determined by the University. It does not pertain to academic appointments where the appointee is selected by other means (e.g. those that are underwritten by the national granting agencies). It also does not apply to visiting professorships.

2.2 This policy applies to all new initiatives and shall have no retroactive application, that is, it shall not apply to Chairs and Professorships that were established before the approval of this policy. Such Chairs and Professorships shall be governed by the policy in place at the time of their establishment. If, however, a previous gift becomes sufficient to change, for example, a Professorship to a Chair, this change shall be made in accordance with this policy.

Purpose, Definitions and Criteria

2.3 Chairs and Professorships are established to advance the University's academic goals and objectives.

2.4 The primary distinction between Chairs and Professorships is the extent of external funding that is available to support the appointment.

   (a) A Chair normally must, at its establishment, be fully funded from sources outside of the University's regular operating budget. The funding for a Chair normally must be sufficient to cover the full salary and benefits of the incumbent and an appropriate level of unrestricted research/scholarly support.

   (b) A Professorship normally must, at its establishment, be partially funded from sources outside of the University's operating budget. The funding for a Professorship normally must be sufficient to cover at least 20 percent of the salary and benefits of the incumbent and an appropriate level of unrestricted research/scholarly support.

2.5 For Chairs and Professorships, funds may be provided by way of an endowment or through a schedule of annual expendable gifts for a defined period of not less than five years, or by an appropriate combination of endowment and annual expendable gifts.

2.6 From their inception, Chairs and Professorships shall normally be attached to a department, faculty, school, college, centre or institute of the University. Accordingly, the goals of the Chair or Professorship shall be consistent with those of the unit to which it is attached.

2.7 The establishment of a Chair or Professorship normally shall not be tied to the appointment of a particular individual.

2.8 Individuals appointed to Chairs and Professorships normally shall have academic qualifications commensurate with an appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, or Professor.

2.9 The initial term of appointment of Chairs and Professorships shall be three to five years. If the renewal of an appointment is permitted, such renewal is subject to a successful performance review and the availability of funds.

Value of Chairs and Professorships

2.10 From time to time, normally for a three-year period or for the period of a capital campaign, the University President shall determine minimum values for any and all newly established Chairs and Professorships. These values shall be based on the requirements of this policy, as stipulated in the definitions of Chairs and Professorships (see sections 2.4(a) and 2.4(b)).

2.11 Nothing in this section will prevent a unit from augmenting the support provided to a Chair or Professorship under 2.10 above.
Joint Chairs or Professorships

2.12 A Chair or Professorship may be established jointly by the University and another university, an institution affiliated with the University (including teaching hospitals) or a research institute.

2.13 Such joint Chairs and Professorships shall be established on terms jointly agreed to by the parties. In such cases, funds may be held either by the University or by the other party, or both.

Establishment of Chairs and Professorships

2.14 All proposals for the establishment of Chairs and Professorships shall be considered by Senate and, following recommendation by Senate, by the Board of Governors. In the case of proposals for Chairs and Professorships that are primarily intended to enhance the University's research programs, the Senate Committee on University Research shall recommend to Senate.

Naming of Chairs and Professorships

2.15 Should the University wish to honour a donor(s) or at the request of a donor(s), Chairs and Professorships may be formally named.

2.16 The underlying principle of any naming is that both the person(s) or organization(s) for which the Chair or Professorship will be named and the University should be honoured by the naming of the Chair or Professorship.

2.17 The name may refer to a foundation, individual, family or similar unit, or to a respectable commercial or business unit.

2.18 If a Chair or Professorship is being named in recognition of a donor(s), the gift received relative to the Chair or Professorship must represent a significant contribution to the minimum value required to establish a Chair or Professorship as defined in section 2.10 The President shall determine the significance of any gift relative to the naming of a Chair or Professorship.

2.19 The autonomy of the University and the academic freedom of the professoriate to which the University of Manitoba is committed shall be safeguarded at all times. The attribution of a name does not imply or confer any involvement or oversight into the operations of the University or any of its units.

2.20 It is the University’s intention to respect the Donor’s intent. If, however, circumstances change so that the entire amount of the gift is not received by the University in due course, the University may, at its option, remove the Donor’s name from the Chair or Professorship, or any part therein or thereon where the Donor’s name appears, and/or reduce the name or form of recognition set out herein and/or offer the Donor an alternate naming opportunity and benefits commensurate with the Donor’s level of giving.

2.21 In the event that a program change affects the naming and form of recognition, the University will inform the Donor if possible, and the University and the Donor will consult as to options available at that time.

2.22 Ultimate authority to accept or decline any naming proposal at the University of Manitoba rests with the Board of Governors.
2.23 Ultimate authority to discontinue the named Chair or Professorship rests with the Board of Governors.

2.24 Notwithstanding any other provisions of this policy, no naming will be approved or existing naming be continued, that will call into serious question public respect for the University.

Disestablishment of Chairs or Professorships

2.25 Chairs and Professorships may be disestablished by mutual agreement of the University and the donor(s).

Establishment of Procedures

2.26 To give effect to this policy, the University shall establish certain mechanisms. These mechanisms shall include an articulation of:

(e) requirements regarding the review of the performance of individuals appointed to Chairs and Professorships, and the administrative and financial arrangements of Chairs and Professorships.

Part III

3.1 The Office of Legal Counsel is responsible for advising the President that a formal review of this Policy is required.

3.2 The Vice-President (Academic) and Provost is responsible for the implementation, administration and review of this Policy.

3.3 All Academic Staff are responsible for complying with this Policy.

4.1 The President may approve Procedures, if applicable, which are secondary to and comply with this Policy.
Part V

   (a) Procedure: Chairs and Professorships.
Part I

Reason for Procedure

1.1 To give effect to the Policy: Chairs and Professorships, these procedures articulate certain mechanisms, including:

(b) procedures for the selection and appointment of individuals to Chairs and Professorships;

(c) procedures for the naming of Chairs and Professorships;

(e) requirements regarding the review of performance of individuals appointed to Chairs and Professorships, and the administrative and financial arrangements of Chairs and Professorships.
Establishment of Chairs or Professorships

2.1 The initiative to establish a Chair or Professorship may come from a department, faculty, school, college, centre or institute of the University, from the President, a Vice-President or from a prospective donor(s).

2.2 Confidential discussions with a prospective donor(s) may precede the development of a formal proposal to establish a Chair or Professorship.

2.3 A formal proposal for the establishment of a Chair or Professorship shall normally be made by the head of the unit to which the Chair or Professorship will be attached. All such proposals shall have the approval of the relevant dean or director, where applicable, and the Vice-President (Academic) and Provost. In the case of proposals for Chairs and Professorships that are primarily intended to enhance the University's research programs, the Vice-President (Academic) and Provost shall consult with the Vice-President (Research) in assessing the proposal. The proposal shall indicate:

(a) the type of appointment (Chair, Professorship);
(b) the name of the Chair or Professorship;
(c) the purpose and objectives of the Chair or Professorship;
(d) the relationship of the goals of the Chair or Professorship to those of the proposing unit;
(e) the method by which the Chair or Professorship will be funded;

2.4 All proposals for the establishment of Chairs and Professorships shall be considered by Senate and, following recommendation by Senate, by the Board of Governors. In the case of proposals for Chairs and Professorships that are primarily intended to enhance the University's research programs, the Senate Committee on University Research shall recommend to Senate.

2.6 The Senate Committee on Honorary Degrees will recommend to Senate on the specific form of the name for the Chair or Professorship.
Selection and Appointment of Chairs or Professorships

2.7 The selection and appointment of an individual to a Chair or Professorship shall be conducted in accordance with normal University policy (including Policy: Academic Appointments) and/or the provisions of the relevant Collective Agreement (except as provided in section 2.8).

2.8 Notwithstanding the provisions of Policy: Academic Appointments, in cases where it is proposed that a member of the University's full-time (including G.F.T.) academic staff be appointed to a Chair or Professorship, such an appointment may be made without a search with the approval of the Vice-President (Academic) and Provost, normally on the recommendation of the unit head and, where appropriate, the dean or director.

2.9 Nothing in sections 2.7 and 2.8 will be deemed to prevent the University or the relevant unit of the University from providing an opportunity for consultation with the donor(s), or their representative(s). Responsibility for the appointment of individuals to Chairs and Professorships, however, rests solely with the University.

2.10 Appointees to Chairs and Professorships may be granted tenured, probationary, term or contingent appointments, as approved by the Board of Governors.

2.11 Appointees to Chairs and Professorships normally shall be full-time employees of the University (except for Joint Chairs or Professorships).

Responsibilities of Appointees to Chairs and Professorships

2.12 The specific duties and responsibilities of appointees to Chairs and Professorships shall be stated in a formal letter of offer.

2.13 While Chairs and Professorships may allow for a greater concentration on research, scholarship and creative works than that afforded by a regular academic appointment, a reasonable commitment to teaching is expected of all appointees to Chairs and Professorships.

2.14 During the first year of the appointment, appointees to Chairs and Professorships shall normally be required to give a public lecture. The scheduling and announcement of such lectures shall normally be coordinated by the relevant unit head, in collaboration with the University's Marketing Communications Office.

2.15 Appointees to Chairs and Professorships shall report annually, in the same manner as other faculty, to their unit head. Holders of Chairs and Professorships shall furnish an annual report of activities to the unit head, the dean or director, where applicable, and the Vice-President (Academic) and Provost. In the case of Chairs and Professorships that are primarily intended to enhance the University's research programs, an annual report of activities shall also be provided to the Vice-President (Research).

Review of Chairs and Professorships

2.16 The performance of appointees to Chairs and Professorships shall be reviewed in the same manner as other members of faculty.

2.17 If appointment renewal is permitted, the unit head or, where applicable, the dean or director is responsible for initiating and coordinating a timely reappointment review process. The resulting recommendation on reappointments shall be reported to the Vice-President (Academic) and Provost.

2.18 The administrative and financial arrangements pertaining to a Chair or Professorship shall be reviewed on a periodic basis but not less than every five years. The unit head or, where applicable, the dean or director is responsible for initiating and coordinating this review. The results of this review shall be reported to the Vice-President (Academic) and Provost.

MEMORANDUM

Subject: Request to convert the Guy Carpenter Professorship in Agricultural Risk Management and Insurance to the Guy Carpenter Chair

I am writing to request that the Guy Carpenter Professorship in Agricultural Risk Management and Insurance be converted to the Guy Carpenter Chair consistent with the terms of the Chair initially approved in June, 2012 by Senate and the Board of the University of Manitoba.

This Chair was converted to a Professorship in September 2012 because there were insufficient funds at the time to establish a Chair. The Professorship was named the Guy Carpenter Professorship soon after. The intent of the Asper School of Business was originally to create a Chair in Agricultural Risk Management and Insurance. The Chair was to be financed by a combination of funding from the private sector (Guy Carpenter Inc.), the Federal Government and the Asper School. Unfortunately, the Federal Government was unable to approve funding for this initiative until late in 2013 and budget constraints within the Asper School limited the school’s ability to fund the Chair. As of September 2012, funding for the Chair had only been received from Guy Carpenter Inc. A decision was therefore, taken to establish a five-year Professorship in place of the Chair. Senate approved the Professorship in September 2012.

Over the past year however, the federal government has provided $500,000 in funding towards the Chair. Moreover, the Asper School is now in position to allocate a tenure-track position to the Chair. As result, funding is now in place to establish the Chair.

Comments of the Senate Executive Committee:
The Senate Executive Committee endorses the report to Senate.

Re: Request to convert the Professorship in Agricultural Risk Management and Insurance to a Chair

In June, 2012, Senate and the Board approved the establishment of a Chair in Agricultural Risk Management and Insurance in the Asper School in Business. In September of that year, the proposed Chair was formally converted to a Professorship because there were insufficient funds in place at the time to support a Chair.

We have recently received a request from the Dean of the Asper School of Business to convert the Professorship back to a Chair, as there is now the funding in place to support a Chair. The terms of the Chair will be those approved in June, 2012 which are attached.

We both support this request and ask that it be put before Senate and the Board of Governors for consideration.

In addition, both the Federal and Manitoba Provincial Governments have indicated a willingness to contribute an additional $100,000 per year for a five-year period. Discussions with both levels of Government are ongoing.
