Post-Doctoral Fellow Position
Centre for Global Public Health
Department of Community Health Sciences
University of Manitoba

Position Description
We are seeking a highly-motivated postdoctoral fellow with background in qualitative methods and experience working with vulnerable populations. Under the supervision of Drs. Robert Lorway and Marissa Becker, the successful candidate will join an international team of researchers in a project to understand the consequences of conflict on the HIV, sexually transmitted infection (STI) and Hepatitis C (HCV) epidemic in Ukraine as mediated through sex work. This position has a one-year term, but can be extended for up to three additional years subject to availability of funding and satisfactory performance evaluations.

Requirements
The primary responsibility of this position involves 1) leading archival and document review; 2) providing support and supervision to a local qualitative team; 3) conducting data analysis and developing manuscripts with support from the Canada-Ukraine team; and 4) providing on-the-ground support for data collection in Ukraine. The successful applicant should hold a PhD in a social science and health-related discipline with experience in qualitative methods and analysis. S/he will be willing to be positioned in Ukraine for periods of time. S/he must be proficient in written and spoken Ukrainian/Russian. A demonstrable potential to be published and strong communication skills are essential. Experience in engagement with diverse stakeholders types (e.g., peers, researchers, policy makers, public health program managers, practitioners and community-based organizations) is an asset.

Salary
$40,000 per year. Successful candidate will be expected to apply for fellowship funding from external sources as eligible. A yearly research allowance is negotiable, commensurate with experience.

To apply
Send a cover letter summarizing your qualifications and research interests, a CV in PDF format, transcript, an English reprint of your most significant publication, proof of proficiency in English for candidates whose native language is not English, and contact information for three references to robert.lorway@umanitoba.ca. We thank all applicants; however, only selected candidates will be contacted for an interview. Application deadline is October 13, 2017. Expected start date for this position is November 10, 2017.

The University of Manitoba is strongly committed to equity and diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from women, members of racialized communities, Indigenous persons, persons with disabilities, persons of all sexual orientations and genders, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority.

Application materials, including letters of reference, will be handled in accordance with the protection of privacy provision of The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (Manitoba). Please note that curriculum vitae may be provided to participating members of the search process.
