

What is Indigenous Community Planning?

November 15 | 12:00 | Migizii Agamik Foyer

All are welcome.

An information session with Aaron Aubin, one of the few Indigenous Registered Professional Planners in Canada.

Aaron will speak about how Indigenous communities are using the tools of community and land use planning to promote cultural well-being, sustainability, economic development and self-determination.

Aaron Aubin is a Principal and Founder of Aaron Aubin Consulting Inc. Specializing in Indigenous engagement, Aaron has worked with both Indigenous and non-Indigenous clients throughout Canada. A member of Da'naxda'xw / Awaetlala First Nation in British Columbia, he is active in the Indigenous communities through participation in several cultural and community events. Aaron has worked with Indigenous communities across Canada to design, develop and help implement: comprehensive community plans, land use plans, and concept plans. Aaron is also the former Chair of the Indigenous Peoples Planning Committee, which he led for eight years on behalf of the Canadian Institute of Planners.
