The Manitoba First Nations Centre for Aboriginal Health Research (MFN CAHR) is celebrating the last 40 years of First Nations, Metis, Inuit and Indigenous health research in Manitoba. Join us as we celebrate those who have made this intriguing journey possible through the collective strength, resiliency and commitment to transform health research to what it is today.