

Unsure about copyright at U of M?

As long as I'm copying for educational use, it qualifies for fair dealing, right?

The course I'm teaching has a required textbook, which students need to purchase. Therefore, I can copy as much as I want from it, right?

If it's on the internet, it's public domain, right?

Here are three ways to have your questions answered

1. Attend a copyright information session. Each 30-minute session covers

- Fair dealing and the UM Copyright Guidelines
- Copyright compliance of journals, book excerpts, and text works posted to UM Learn
- Use of photos, artwork, and figures into lecture slides and handouts
- How to access and interpret license use for e-Resources accessible through UML
- Creative Commons licenses; Search strategies, license types, attributions

Where: Ft. Garry Campus, 307 Tier Building

When: Wednesday, September 18	11:45 am – 12:30 pm
Monday, September 23	12:30 – 1:15 pm
Thursday, October 3	1:00 – 1:45 pm

2. Take the UM Copyright Tutorial on UM Learn

- Eight modules, under 3 minutes each. Watch them any time, in any order
- Get the basics on everything from fair dealing to managing your own copyright
- Most faculty and instructors are pre-enrolled and can access the program at this link: U of M Copyright Tutorial - UM Learn login
- If the course doesn't open for you, follow these steps to self-register
  - Login to UM Learn
  - Select "Self-Registration" from the menu at the top of the page
  - Select "Copyright Tutorial" from the list of available courses
  - Return to UM Learn homepage and find the tutorial under "My courses"

3. Contact Copyright Solutions

- A service dedicated to supporting U of M faculty and instructors in the use of copyright protected works for educational purposes. We are here to help
- U of M Copyright Office
203 Allen Building
204-474-9607 / 7277
um\_copyright@umanitoba.ca
umanitoba.ca/copyright\_solutions

