COURSE DESCRIPTION

U of M Course Calendar Description

Identification, biology and ecology of weeds of agricultural importance in western Canada, including principles of cultural, mechanical, biological, and chemical management. Topics include weed interference, effects of rotational and management practices on weed species composition, herbicide selectivity and mechanisms of action, and emerging control strategies.

General Course Description

During the Winter 2021 semester, the course and lab will be offered online only using synchronous and asynchronous teaching methods. Synchronous lecture and labs will be recorded and available within UM Learn via Webex for 7 days after the original date of the class. The recordings will facilitate access to the lectures and labs if the synchronous class/lab cannot be attended due to illness or technical issues, for example. It is highly recommended that you attend each live lecture and lab (the iclicker part of the course will only work during the live portions of the course). By participating in the recorded synchronous lectures and labs you consent to being recorded. Recorded synchronous material will be available via streaming only. Downloading of this material is not permitted. Asynchronous course material will be uploaded on UM Learn or links to such material will be provided in UM Learn.

Skeleton notes of lecture material will be posted in UMLearn before the live lectures (<https://universityofmanitoba.desire2learn.com/>).

Course Goals

The objectives of the course are for students to be able to:

- 1) Define a weed.
- 2) Identify endemic and invasive weed species present in Manitoba.
- 3) Understand the ecological principles that govern plant species, plant communities and crop-weed interactions.
- 4) Understand weed management thresholds and the critical period for weed control.
- 5) Understand effective cultural, mechanical, biological, and chemical methods for managing weeds and when to apply these.
- 6) Understand the principles that contribute to herbicide selectivity.
- 7) Design integrated weed management systems and understand the tradeoffs among weed management techniques.

Course Learning Objectives

At the end of this course, students will gain:

- 1) Technical knowledge on weeds and their management.
- 2) Critically evaluate weed management options within ecological, economic, and social constraints and design effective integrated management systems.
- 3) Improved abilities to communicate these ideas.

Academic integrity looks like referencing the work of others that you have used and completing your assignments independently unless otherwise specified

If you are encouraged to work in a team, ensure that your project is completed with integrity. You must also do your own work during exams. Plagiarism, duplicate submission, cheating on quizzes, tests, and exams, inappropriate collaboration, academic fraud, and personation are in violation of the Student Discipline Bylaw and will lead to the serious disciplinary action. Visit the Academic Calendar, Student Advocacy, and Academic Integrity web pages for more information and support.

LEARNER SUPPORT

Section (a): Writing and Learning Support

The Academic Learning Centre (ALC) offers writing and learning supports to help you throughout your academic program. These supports are offered online during the Covid-19 pandemic.

Make an appointment with an ALC writing tutor who can give you feedback at any stage of the writing process, whether you are just beginning to work on a written assignment or already have a draft. The ALC also has an English as an Additional Language (EAL) specialist available to work with students on improving their English-language academic writing skills.

Consult an ALC learning specialist or attend an academic skills workshop to improve your time management, learning strategies and test-taking strategies. Get support in select courses by making an appointment with an ALC content tutor. The ALC also offers peer-facilitated study groups called Supplemental Instruction (SI) for certain courses that students have typically found difficult. In SI study groups, students ask questions, compare notes, discuss content, solve practice problems, and develop new study strategies in a group-learning format.

In addition to one-to-one and group sessions, you can also find writing and study tip sheets and videos on the ALC website.

Academic Learning Centre services are free for U of M students. For more information, please visit the Academic Learning Centre website at: <http://umanitoba.ca/student/academiclearning/>

Contact the Academic Learning Centre by calling 204-480-1481 or emailing academic\_learning@umanitoba.ca. Bannatyne students can contact the Bannatyne Student
