

Job Title: Interior Design Intern

Type: 4 month term, possibility to extend

Salary: Starting at $15/hr

About Gryd

Gryd is a fast-growing, well invested, Canadian-born startup committed to driving property tech-forward. We provide our suite of services to the property management industry with our clients being some of the largest property managers, owners and REITs in the country. Our services are segmented into 3 divisions: GrydDigital, GrydRent, GrydPark.

This role will be part of the GrydDigital team which provides media and marketing solutions to REITs, property managers, and owners across the country. Our network spans across Canada, giving us the ability to handle any volume of national portfolio. Acting as an extension of our client's marketing department, we assist in filling listings faster with more qualified tenants using cutting-edge media technology like virtual reality, 3D tours, photo and 3D virtual staging, and pre-build renders.

Check out more at www.gryddigital.com

About the Role

Was your favorite part of The Sims picking and laying out the furniture in your house? Then this is the perfect role for you! Gryd is seeking an interior design intern to assist in the creation of a virtual staging style guide, as well as the design and organization of virtual assets into cohesive sets and styles.

What we are looking for:

- A student currently in an interior design, residential decorating or similar program
- Experience with 3DS MAX is considered an asset
- A strong work ethic and a positive attitude
- A quick learner who will thrive in a fast-paced environment

- The ability to be flexible and adapt to changing demands
- Ability to work independently and be self-motivated

Why Gryd?

As a fast-growing start-up, we bring an exciting energy to the office (or slack channel) every day. We have a lot to do so you will be making meaningful contributions as soon as you start with us. We are growing rapidly and that means there are a lot of opportunities to grow with us. We have a collaborative, team-first culture where we tackle challenges and celebrate wins together. We have a flexible, fun and casual environment where we focus on results - no micromanaging or stuffy corporate environment here. Plus, you'll get to spend your days with some pretty great people.

What are you waiting for, apply today by sending your resume to careers@gryd.com!