Research projects

Attach your research project in a separate document. See requirements outlined below.

Aging definition

For the purposes of the student awards, the research should focus on some aspect of the human aging process or study older participants/subjects. Studying diseases as the focus, even if that disease commonly occurs in older people, might make the application ineligible for funding.

Proposed Research

Describe your proposed research in maximum of 500 words. Include:

1. Description
2. Methodology
3. Practical applicability (i.e., how the research will enhance the lives of the aging population) and an indication of relevant literature.

Do not exceed 500 words. Review the Page setup and format for project description below for document specifications. All applications must have a title (not included in word count).

Page setup and format for project description

Margins:	¾ inch (2 cm)	Line spacing:	Single
Page:	8 ½ x 11 inches (21.59 x 27.94 cm)	Font:	12 points
Spacing:	No condensed type or spacing	Word limit:	500 words

- The Centre on Aging expects the use of appropriate and respectful language when describing older adults. Review the aging terminology guidelines for language to include in your application submission.
- The project MUST have a title.
- Word count for project descriptions do not include references or title. Include your name on each page and page numbers in either the header or footer. With the exception of the reference list, no other attachments will be accepted or reviewed.
- Applicants must provide all requested information and ensure their applications are concise, well-written and easy to understand by anyone. All abbreviations and acronyms should be explained and jargon kept to a minimum.
- The proposal should clearly indicate the rationale and methodology for the proposed study. Proposals are evaluated on the basis of what might be reasonably expected of a candidate at their stage in graduate training.
- The research proposal should adequately reference the published literature.
No attachments (other than the reference list).
