Course Description

This course introduces students to the study of macroeconomics. Topics include: aggregate performance and policy; the determinants of national income, employment and the price level, the role of monetary and fiscal policies in stabilizing the economy and promoting economic growth.

General Course Information

This course satisfies a prerequisite for a number of more specialized courses in economics at the second year level. Therefore, the study of the principles of economics allows you to look at the world in which you live in a different way – rationally and objectively. It gives you a better understanding of the decisions you are making every day, and at the same time develops your reasoning and analytical skills. At the end of the course, you should be able to talk about economic issues with relative comfort, as you will have a better idea of how the economy works. The presentation of this course will make use of Graphs and Algebra.

Textbook, Readings, Materials

The textbook being used for this course is Macroeconomics, 15th Canadian Edition by McConnell, Brue, Flynn, Barbiero. We will be using CONNECT for our home works. The CONNECT registration information can be found on our course website. The text with CONNECT is available in the bookstore in electronic form only. The URL for CONNECT is <https://connect.mheducation.com/class/m-uddin-winter-2019-1>

CONNECT Labs: You will complete 10 CONNECT labs, each worth 1.5% towards your final grade. The due dates for these labs are listed on the next page (as well as the CONNECT site) and are setup to provide maximum flexibility for your schedule. However, you should aim to complete one chapter per week and attempt the accompanying CONNECT lab accordingly so that you don't fall behind in your coverage of the material. You may redo the labs as often as you wish prior to the due dates. Your highest grade for each lab prior to the due date will be recorded. These questions serve as a check of your understanding of the material and are helpful for your preparation for the midterm and final exams.

Course Evaluation Methods

There are two grading options. Option A includes on-line labs for each chapter that we cover, and are completed through CONNECT. Under Option B, your grade consists of only the in-class tests and exams. At the end of the term, your grade will be calculated under both options, and the highest outcome will automatically be selected for you. There is no need to ask me.

Assessment Tool	Due Date	Value of Final Grade
		Option A	Option B
CONNECT assignments	See the course website	15%	0%
Class Test 1	February 8 th	20%	25%
Class Test 2	March 8 th	20%	25%
Final Exam	April exam period	45%	50%

Final Exam: This course includes a final examination which is 2 hours in length. The final examination will be closed-book and invigilated. This exam covers material from all units covered in this course (Final exam is cumulative), and it is scheduled at the end of the class (check the relevant websites for the actual date of the exam). The final exam will consist of 100 multiple choice questions (or any other suitable combination subject to instructor's discretion).

BRING A CALCULATOR TO ALL EXAMS.

No cellphones in exams.

Class Communication

The University requires all students to activate an official University email account. For full details of the Electronic Communication with Students please visit:

http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/media/Electronic_Communication_with_Students_Policy_-_2014_06_05.pdf

Please note that all communication between myself and you as a student must comply with the electronic communication with student policy

(http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/governing_documents/community/electronic_communication_with_students_policy.html). You are required to obtain and use your U of M email account for all communication between yourself and the university.

Course Technology

Technology use during class:

I suggest that you take notes longhand, rather than typing on a computer. Numerous studies have shown that students retain information better when they write rather than type. Moreover, it is far too easy to be distracted when your laptop is open. However, I won't ban the use of electronics outright. If you want to use a computer in the classroom, ask me.

The following rules will apply:

- Student should not participate in personal direct electronic messaging / posting activities (e-mail, texting, video or voice chat, wikis, blogs, social networking (e.g. Facebook, twitter, etc.) online and offline "gaming" during scheduled class time.
- If you jump around to different sites during a lecture, be respectful of your classmates and sit at the back of the class to minimize the extent to which you are being disruptive to those around you.
- Turn off your phone. Or, if necessary switch your phone to vibrate mode and leave the classroom before using it. Any student who uses a personal communication device in class will either lose 5% of the mark per occurrence or complete an extra assignment per occurrence.
- You may NOT take pictures, video or audio recordings during lectures without my permission (see copyright note above).

Please bring a calculator to all classes and exams.

Respectful learning environment:

Students learn best by working together. So, please feel free to come a bit early and greet your fellow students before class starts.

Naturally, all communication with other students, professors, food service providers, maintenance, and support staff should be respectful. This includes communications across age groups, gender, and race.

Students should report any misbehaviour on the part of students, staff, or faculty. Maintaining a respectful environment means not laughing at hateful remarks presented as a joke, telling people directly that something is out of line, and reporting when behaviour is egregious enough to warrant discipline.

That said, I expect us all to behave respectfully with one another and have a great year!

Expectations

Students are expected to attend lectures, listen attentively, participate in classroom and group activities, and take notes. Students are expected to complete assigned readings from the textbook either before or immediately following the lecture. Students should arrive on time.

Academic Integrity:

Students should acquaint themselves with the University's policy on plagiarism, cheating, exam personation, ("Personation at Examinations" (Section 5.2.9) and "Plagiarism and Cheating" (Section 8.1)) and duplicate submission by reading documentation provided at the Arts Student Resources web site at <http://www.umanitoba.ca/faculties/arts/student/index.html>.

Ignorance of the regulations and policies regarding academic integrity is not a valid excuse for violating them.

Students Accessibility Services

If you are a student with a disability, please contact SAS for academic accommodation supports and services such as note-taking, interpreting, assistive technology and exam accommodations. Students who have, or think they may have, a disability (e.g. mental illness, learning, medical, hearing, injury-related, visual) are invited to contact SAS to arrange a confidential consultation.

As required by the University, please note the following as well:

Section (A)

Writing and Learning Support

The Academic Learning Centre (ALC) offers services that may be helpful to you throughout your academic program. Through the ALC, you can meet with a learning specialist to discuss concerns such as time management, learning strategies, and test-taking strategies. The ALC also offers peer supported study groups called Supplemental Instruction (SI) for certain courses that students have typically found difficult. In these study groups, students have opportunities to ask questions, compare notes, discuss content, solve practice problems, and develop new study strategies in a group-learning format.

You can also meet one-to-one with a writing tutor who can give you feedback at any stage of the writing process, whether you are just beginning to work on a written assignment or already have a draft. If you are interested in meeting with a writing tutor, reserve your appointment two to three days in advance of the time you would like to meet. Also, plan to meet with a writing tutor a few days before your paper is due so that you have time to work with the tutor's feedback.

These Academic Learning Centre services are free for U of M students. For more information, please visit the Academic Learning Centre website at: <http://umanitoba.ca/student/academiclearning/>

You can also contact the Academic Learning Centre by calling 204-480-1481 or by visiting 201 Tier Building.

University of Manitoba Libraries (UML)

As the primary contact for all research needs, your liaison librarian can play a vital role when completing academic papers and assignments. Liaisons can answer questions about managing citations, or locating appropriate resources, and will address any other concerns you may have, regarding the research process. Liaisons can be contacted by email or phone, and are also available to meet with you in-person. A complete list of liaison librarians can be found by subject: <http://bit.ly/WcEbA1> or name: <http://bit.ly/1tJ0bB4> In addition, general library assistance is provided in person at 19 University Libraries, located on both the Fort Garry and Bannatyne campuses, as well as in many Winnipeg hospitals. For a listing of all libraries, please consult the following: <http://bit.ly/1sXe6RA>. When working remotely, students can also receive help online, via the Ask-a-Librarian chat found on the Libraries' homepage: www.umanitoba.ca/libraries.

Section (D)

Your rights and responsibilities

As a student of the University of Manitoba you have rights and responsibilities. It is important for you to know what you can expect from the University as a student and to understand what the University expects from you. Become familiar with the policies and procedures of the University and the regulations that are specific to your faculty, college or school.

The Academic Calendar <http://umanitoba.ca/student/records/academiccalendar.html> is one important source of information. View the sections University Policies and Procedures and General Academic Regulations.

While all of the information contained in these two sections is important, the following information is highlighted.

Course Outline: Winter 2019

- If you have questions about your grades, talk to your instructor. There is a process for term work and final grade appeals. Note that you have the right to access your final examination scripts. See the Registrar's Office website for more information including appeal deadline dates and the appeal form <http://umanitoba.ca/registrar/>
- You are expected to view the General Academic Regulation section within the Academic Calendar and specifically read the Academic Integrity regulation. Consult the course syllabus or ask your instructor for additional information about demonstrating academic integrity in your academic work. Visit the Academic Integrity Site for tools and support <http://umanitoba.ca/academicintegrity/> View the Student Academic Misconduct procedure for more information.
- The University is committed to a respectful work and learning environment. You have the right to be treated with respect and you are expected conduct yourself in an appropriate respectful manner. Policies governing behavior include the:

Respectful Work and Learning Environment

Student Discipline

http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/governing_documents/students/student_discipline.html and,

Violent or Threatening Behaviour

http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/governing_documents/community/669.html

- If you experience Sexual Assault or know a member of the University community who has, it is important to know there is a policy that provides information about the supports available to those who disclose and outlines a process for reporting. The Sexual Assault policy may be found at: http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/governing_documents/community/230.html. More information and resources can be found by reviewing the Sexual Assault site <http://umanitoba.ca/student/sexual-assault/>
- For information about rights and responsibilities regarding Intellectual Property view the policy http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/media/Intellectual_Property_Policy_-_2013_10_01.pdf

For information on regulations that are specific to your academic program, read the section in the Academic Calendar and on the respective faculty/college/school web site <http://umanitoba.ca/faculties/> Contact an Academic Advisor within our faculty/college or school for questions about your academic program and regulations <http://umanitoba.ca/academic-advisors/>
