

Labour Studies Meet and Greet

Wednesday, March 13
3-6PM

Cross Common Room
St. John's College

Representatives from a range of organizations, some of whom have hosted Labour Studies field placement students and/or hired graduates of our program, will be there, so it will be an opportunity to get to know a bit about these organizations. After very brief presentations from our guests, there will be an informal reception with free food and drink so you'll be able to chat with the guests, fellow students and instructors. It's always a fun event, so please do come.

Labour Studies Field Placement & Seminar Next Year

We're going to be offering the Field Placement LABR 4520 and the Field Placement Seminar LABR 4510 in the 2019-2020 academic year. These are unique courses that offer a great opportunity to develop research and writing skills while gaining "hands on" experience in a workplace setting. These courses are only offered every second year, so they won't be offered again until 2021-22. Only students in the Advanced Major program are eligible to take them. If you're interested in taking these courses (which must be taken together, and are worth 9 credit hours), please e-mail David Camfield and cc Jesse Hajer, who'll be running these courses

Labour Studies Writing Tutor

Don't forget that Labour Studies is funding a writing tutor to work with our students. Antony Tomlin will hold tutoring hours in 115 Isbister every Wednesday. Students must book appointments online at: <https://manitoba.mywonline.com/>

Faculty and Staff

David Camfield

Coordinator, Associate Professor, Labour
Studies & Sociology

David.Camfield@umanitoba.ca

Office Hours: Tuesdays and Thursdays
2:45-3:45pm or by appointment.

Julie Guard

Professor, Labour Studies & History

Julie.Guard@umanitoba.ca

Office Hours: Tuesdays & Thursdays 10-
11am, 1-2pm or by appointment.

Jesse Hajer

Assistant Professor, Economics & Labour
Studies

Jesse.Hajer@umanitoba.ca

Office Hours: Fridays 1-2pm or by appointment.

--

Sessional Instructors (Winter)

Karen Naylor

Chris Rigaux

Johanna Willows

--

Program Assistant

Kyla Shead

Kyla.Shead@umanitoba.ca

218 Isbister Bldg.

--

Writing Tutor

Antony Tomlin

Recommended Reading

If you didn't read this 2018 article, you should: it's a useful challenge to most of what we hear about the future of work:

Sarita Gupta, Stephen Lerner and Joseph A McCartin, "It's Not the 'Future of Work' But the Future of Workers That's in Doubt"

<http://prospect.org/article/its-not-future-work-its-future-workers-doubt>

Labour Studies Resource Room

All Labour Studies students and other students enrolled in a Labour Studies course are invited to use the Labour Studies Resource Room, 115 Isbister.

The resource room has a small library and is a quiet space for studying and reading. It's usually open at 9AM. If you find it locked, please ask Kyla Shead to open it for you.

NOTE: The books and other materials in the Labour Studies Resource Room are for use in the room only; they do not circulate. Please do not remove them from 115 Isbister.