Department of Religion
Creed, Culture, and Change: Student Colloquium 2020
Tuesday, April 28th
Call for Papers

The Department of Religion invites proposals for a one-day colloquium to be held on Tuesday, April 28th, 2020 at the University of Manitoba. The purpose of the colloquium is to showcase and discuss research by graduate and undergraduate students in the Department of Religion from the University of Manitoba and the University of Winnipeg. Present your best paper or research project! Giving a presentation at a conference is an important academic skill, a way for you to share your research and ideas with other students and faculty members, to get feedback on your work, and an important addition to your CV.

Coffee and Lunch provided.

Format:

Graduate students and 4th year Honours students will each present their research; reading a paper, speaking, and/or using power point for up to 15 minutes followed by discussion.

Undergraduate students will give a 5-minute summary of their research or paper for discussion in a group: referring to notes if desired but not reading a paper or using power point.

Please submit your proposal as an attachment in Word or in the body of the email to Religion@umanitoba.ca with the subject title ‘Religion Colloquium’ no later than 4:00pm on Monday, March 9th.

Submission Guidelines:

Graduate Students / 4th year Honours Students should submit a proposal of 200-300 words describing their research, stating their presentation’s topic, thesis, and main content.

Undergraduate Students should submit a proposal of 100-200 words describing their paper or the research they would like to discuss.

We are hoping all who submit proposals will be able to present, given time constraints. All who submit proposals will be informed by the end of March whether they will be able to present.

If you are not presenting but would like to attend, please RSVP by April 16th to Religion@umanitoba.ca in order to plan for lunch and ensure adequate seating.
