The fifth wave of Ukrainian immigration in Winnipeg: Is there a need for a new study?
by Dr. Oleksandr (Sasha) Kondrashov

In 2008, MSW thesis “An exploratory study of fourth wave Ukrainian immigration in Winnipeg: Problems and perspectives of immigrants’ adaptation” highlighted stories of 16 immigrants who came from Ukraine after 1991 and settled in Winnipeg, Canada. One of the recommendations from the study was to conduct follow-up research in ten years. Dr. Oleksandr (Sasha) Kondrashov in his presentation will explore whether there is a need for a new study and highlight critical developments in Ukraine and Canada that lead to the formation of the new (fifth) wave of Ukrainian immigration to Canada.

Dr. Oleksandr (Sasha) Kondrashov, immigrated to Canada from Western Ukraine. He completed his PhD in Social Work at the University of Manitoba and currently teaches at the Faculty of Education and Social Work at the Thompson Rivers University, Kamloops, BC. One of his research areas is connected to newcomer’s adaptation experience in Canada, with a specific focus on the fourth wave of Ukrainian immigration in Winnipeg.
