

Research Assistantships

Faculty members occasionally hire capable Women's and Gender Studies students to assist in their research. Types of work vary by position and may include data entry, coding, transcription, abstracting, creating annotated bibliographies or other forms of databases, translation, library and/or archival research, interviewing research participants, etc.

Hours and rates of pay vary by position.