JOINT UNIVERSITY OF MANITOBA (UM)/UNIVERSITY OF WINNIPEG (UW)

MASTER'S PROGRAMS PROPOSED REVISIONS

SUBMITTED TO THE SENATES OF THE UNIVERSITIES OF MANITOBA AND WINNIPEG, SEPTEMBER 2005

PART A – GENERAL AND INSTITUTIONAL ARRANGEMENTS

1. Introduction and Definitions

There shall be one joint parity committee at the level of Senates hereinafter referred to as the Joint Senate Committee (JSC). Its detailed terms of reference are specified below in Section 4. For each Joint Masters Program (JMP) there will be a joint committee at the departmental or discipline level hereinafter referred to as a Joint Discipline Committee (JDC). The detailed and specific terms of reference for each JDC are specified in parts, B, C and D, etc., of this document. The Chair of the JSC will be designated as CJSC and the Chair of the JDC will be designated as CJDC.

The institutional arrangements provided in this Agreement are intended to apply to initial JMPs and should not preclude the initiation, in the future, of other types of JMPs, such as a sub-disciplinary JMP as may be mutually negotiated and agreed to by the respective Universities.

Students enrolled in JMPs of UM and UW shall enjoy all the rights and privileges at both Universities normally accorded to graduate students.

2. General Responsibility for Standards and Appeals

Notwithstanding the powers and duties of the JSC as specified below, it is agreed that general responsibility for the operation of JMPs and the maintenance of high academic standards therein rests jointly with the Dean of the Faculty of Graduate Studies (UM) and the Vice-President (Research, Graduate Studies and International) (UW) or their delegates. Similarly it is agreed that the Dean of the Faculty of Graduate Studies (UM) and/or the Vice-President (Research, Graduate Studies and International) (UW) or their delegates may, if they judge it appropriate, attempt to use their good offices to reach an amicable solution to an appeal before the appeal is formally submitted to the Joint Senate Committee.

3. Implementation - Review - Termination

The formal start date for the agreement establishing the JMPs was July 1, 1976. The original agreement called for a review after the first three years and envisaged the possibility of terminating the arrangement at the end of an initial five-year period.

It is now agreed that Part A of the agreement shall continue without term, but with a comprehensive review of each program in accordance with the schedule of reviews of graduate programs, but not less frequently than the beginning of the fifth year following the reviews currently scheduled for 2005 and 2007. Moreover, in the event that either party wishes to withdraw from a specific JMP, the party wishing to withdraw shall give notice at least two years prior to the intended date of withdrawal. In such event, the JSC will review the request and recommend to the Senates of the two Universities on continuation or termination of the specific JMP. In the event of termination, the two Universities and the apparatus created by them shall ensure that those students then enrolled in the JMP are allowed to complete their graduate programs.

4. Approval Procedures for new Joint Master's Program Proposals

Following is a brief summary of the steps involved in proposing a new Joint Master's Program. For a comprehensive description of the process of developing a new program proposal, please see: http://www.umanitoba.ca/faculties/graduate_studies/admin/117.htm

Individuals or units interested in a Joint Masters Program must first meet with the concerned units from each University and come to an agreement to move forward by creating a draft Letter of Intent and Proposal. This draft Letter of Intent and Proposal is then reviewed by the concerned Faculty Councils at both Universities (UW, UM). Once agreement in principle has been received from the unit Deans, the Letter of Intent and Proposal is then submitted to the Faculty of Graduate Studies (FGS) at the University of Manitoba. The FGS will obtain comments and suggestions from the Programs and Planning Committee. The Letter of Intent will then be sent to both Vice Presidents (Academic) for submission to the Council on Post Secondary Education (COPSE) on behalf of both Universities.

With the Council on Post Secondary Education's (COPSE) support, the Proposal will then follow the normal process for approval of programs at the University of Manitoba. The Program and Planning Committee, the Faculty Executive Committee and Faculty Council must approve the Proposal. The Proposal is then sent to the Joint Senate Committee for recommendation to the Senates of the UW and the UM for their approval, and that of the Board of Regents (UW) and the Board of Governors (UM). The approved Proposal is then sent to COPSE. Once COPSE has given approval the Vice Presidents Academic (UM, UW) will be responsible for implementation of the approved Proposal. (Please see Appendix A for a chart of these procedures.)

5. General Regulations

Unless otherwise stated in this document, the regulations, procedures, forms and deadlines which now govern Master's Programs at the UM shall govern all JMPs. These are now published in the Academic Guide of the Faculty of Graduate Studies. The Academic Guide, with appropriate substitutions of certain words and phrases, shall be the authority for such regulations, procedures, etc. In particular, in the Academic Guide section on "General Regulations for the Master's Program", the important appropriate substitutions are:

1. "JSC" for "Executive Committee of Graduate Studies"
2. "JDC" for "Major Department" or "Department"
3. "CJDC" for "Department Head"
4. "Joint Masters Program" for "Masters Program at UM"

Regulations supplementary to the Academic Guide and specific to JMPs must be approved by the JDC and JSC. Supplementary Regulations must also be approved by the Faculty of Graduate Studies Guidelines and Policy Committee (UM) and in some circumstances, approval by Faculty Councils and Senates may be required.

6. Terms of Reference of Joint Senate Committee (JSC)

Secretariat for the JSC shall be provided on a three to five year rotational basis by UM and UW, with the understanding each University has equal responsibilities in this matter.

6.1 Size and Composition of JSC

1. Three members of the academic staff to be named by each University, of whom one from each University shall be from outside the departments or disciplines

- participating in JMPs, the Vice-President (Research, Graduate Studies and International) (UW) and the Dean of Graduate Studies (UM), as voting members.
2. A Chair, to be named by the Presidents of the two participating Universities, with a tie casting vote only.
 3. One graduate student, enrolled in the JMP to be proposed by the Graduate Students' Association as a member of the Senate Nominating Committee, and approved by the University of Manitoba Senate.
 4. One graduate student, enrolled in a JMP, to be proposed by the Chairs of the Joint Masters Programs to the University of Winnipeg Senate Nominating Committee and approved by the University of Winnipeg Senate.

6.2 Powers and Duties of the JSC

The Joint Senate Committee will:

1. Recommend to the respective Senates the candidates for degrees. In November 2004, this responsibility was delegated to the Executive Committee of the Faculty of Graduate Studies.
2. Hear and determine student appeals from JDC decisions on academic matters.
3. Recommend to Senate (through appropriate committees at each University) changes in initial general regulations for the JMPs.
4. Approve, upon request of a JDC, changes in the supplementary regulations governing the respective JMP.
5. Upon recommendation from a JDC approve the imposition of higher standards than the minima set by the Faculty of Graduate Studies at the University of Manitoba in any JMP.
6. Make a comprehensive review in accordance with the schedule of reviews of graduate programs, but not less frequently than the beginning of the fifth year following the reviews currently scheduled for 2005 and 2007 and make such recommendations for the revision of this Agreement as deemed appropriate.
7. Attempt to resolve specific problems that may arise in any JMP during the life of the Agreement¹.
8. Determine its own procedures regarding meetings, delegation of powers and duties, etc.
9. Review and act or recommend on the financial matters referred to in Section 7, below.
10. Assume such further powers and duties as may be mutually agreed to by the two Universities.

7. Roles of the Office of Faculty of Graduate Studies (OFGS) and of the JDC

The UM Office of the Faculty of Graduate Studies (OFGS) will have the primary responsibility for handling the 'paperwork', including student files related to JMPs. That Office will also provide one of its personnel to serve as administrative coordinator for the JSC. The forms used in the daily administration of Graduate Programs (application, registration, etc.) will be made available to each department office that is involved in a JMP.

After completion, such forms are transmitted to the appropriate CJDC. They are considered in accordance with procedures stipulated in the Agreement, or where not so stipulated, devised by the

JDC. Completed forms, with appropriate recommendation or approval, are signed by CJDC and forwarded to OFGS. OFGS will segregate the files (and forms) for these Joint Master's students and perform the same duties for them as it does for all other graduate students.

The Chair of examining committees (thesis or comprehensive) will forward results of such examinations to CJDC, who will transmit them to the administrative coordinator of the JSC.

The JDCs will be responsible for the overall academic administration of their respective JMP, including:

1. Recommending admission to JMPs
2. Periodically supplying the OFGS with up-to-date course marks (including results of language examination or alternate requirements) for each graduate student
3. Supplying the OFGS with a list of approved thesis and course examiners
4. Providing lists of potential graduates
5. Recommending whether there should be remedial action for students with failed grades
6. Recommending and rank ordering applicants for University of Manitoba / University of Winnipeg Graduate Fellowships

8. Program and Student Information

In order that JMP students may enjoy the rights and privileges of graduate students at each University, the following information will be forwarded to the Vice-President (Research, Graduate Studies and International) (UW) by the administrative coordinator for the JSC. Preliminary information should be forwarded following the registration deadline in September and updated information provided mid-term.

8.1 Student List

This list should contain the names, student identification numbers and contact information for all JMP students.

8.2 Thesis Supervision Lists

The Program Director shall provide the name of UW faculty supervisor, the name and student number of the student being supervised, the expected date of completion and the names and department affiliations of all thesis committee members.

9. Process of Approval of and Changes to JMP Supplemental Regulations

The process for approval and/or changes must follow the administrative path as follows: 1) Joint Discipline Committee; 2) Department Chairs/Heads (UM & UW); 3) Faculty of Graduate Studies Guidelines and Policy Committee; 4) Executive Committee of Graduate Studies (UM if required); 5) Faculty Council of Graduate Studies (UM, if required); 6) Joint Senate Committee

10. Reporting and Handling of Academic Dishonesty Cases

In such cases, UM students are to follow the guidelines of the Student Discipline By-Law.

In the case of the UW, if the student is a JMP student, the case should be reported to the JDC Chair of the program who will in turn report it to the Dean of the Faculty of Graduate Studies at the UM. The Dean will investigate the allegation and determine an action. The Vice-President (Research, Graduate Studies and International) at the UW will be informed of the action when the instructor and the student are informed (c.c. of letter). All UW Chairs and UW professors must be alerted to this process as JMP students may be in non-JMP courses at the UW.

11. Appeal Processes

All appeals must be in writing, and decisions will be made by the appropriate body based on the information and supporting documentation provided by the student, and upon information in the student's file.

► If Disciplinary Appeal: (e.g. Plagiarism, fraud, etc.)

1st level of appeal is made to the decision maker, the Dean FGS (UM)

2nd level of appeal is to FGS Local Discipline Committee

3rd level of appeal is to Senate University Discipline Committee (UM)

► If Grade Appeal

1st level of appeal is made to the decision maker informally (i.e. Instructor)

- If course taught at UM, this process is formally initiated through the Student Records Office grade appeal process.

- If course is at UW, Department Review Committee

3rd level of appeal:

- If graduate level course appeal is made to Faculty of Graduate Studies Appeals Committee, ruling can be made on process only

- If undergraduate level course:

- At UM, appeal is made to Teaching Faculty Appeals Committee, e.g. Faculty of Arts Appeals Committee

- At UW, appeal is made to the Senate Appeals Committee

► If Academic Appeal (Not Grade Appeal):

11.1 Appeals to the Joint Senate Committee

An appeal to the Joint Senate Committee will be referred to its sub-committee, the Joint Senate Appeals Committee, for its recommendation. The decision of the Joint Senate Appeals Committee will be final.

This Joint Senate Appeals Committee will be a panel of three persons consisting of one faculty member from each University, and one graduate student, all of who are not members of the appealing student's JMP.

All appeals heard by the Joint Senate Appeals Committee shall be heard with due regard for natural justice.

An appeal to the Joint Senate Appeals Committee must be based upon one of the following grounds only:

- Procedural errors at the prior level of appeal
- New evidence that could not have been seen at the prior level of appeal
- Allegations of bias at the prior level of appeal

12. Financial Matters

12.1 Tuition fees and administrative costs shall be divided on an enrollment based, proportional basis. That proportion shall be calculated using a rolling 3 year average of the number of credit hours attributed to UW relative to the total JMP credit hours, based on November 1st enrollment figures. Credit hours are totaled for courses taken at each University and 12 credit hours are designated for advising on supervising a thesis. Thus the proportion for each year is calculated by dividing UW JMP credit hours by total JMP credit hours.

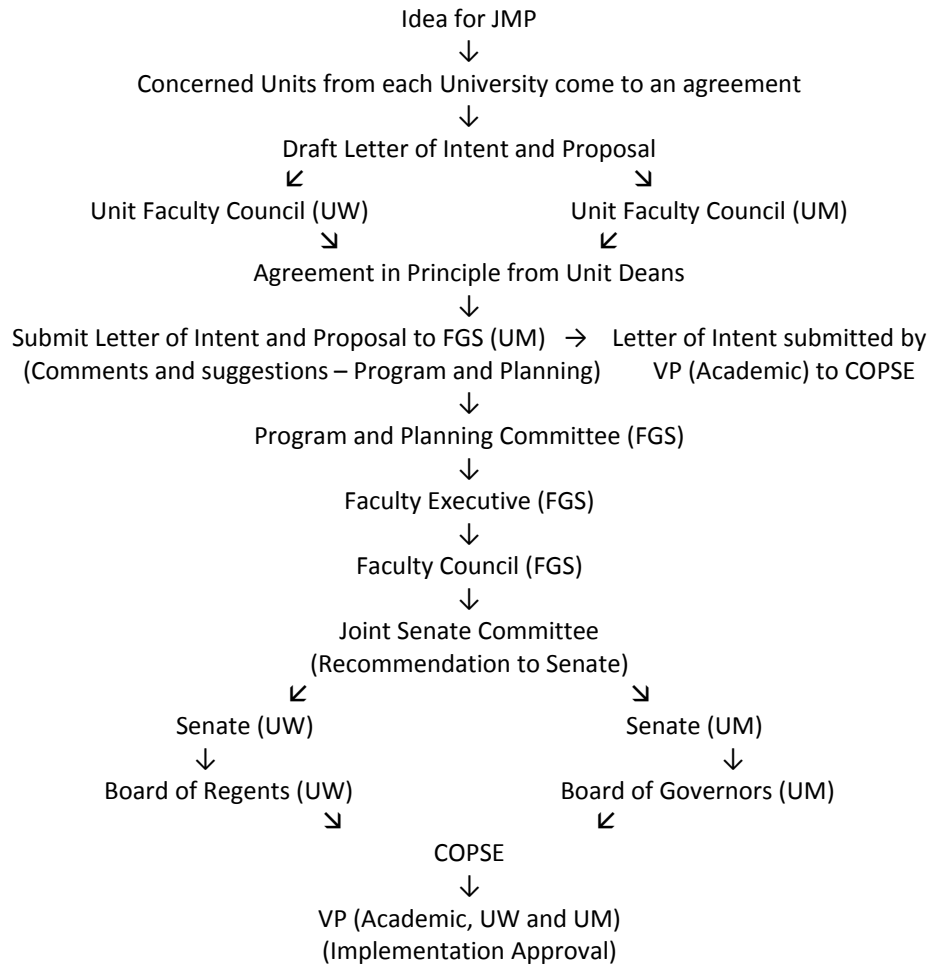

12.2 For purposes of fee distribution, tuition fees are the total of tuition, faculty fees and student services fees

12.3 Administrative costs attributable to the JMP shall be a proportion of the annual operating budget of the Faculty of Graduate Studies. In each fiscal year, the April budget amount shall be used in determining these administrative costs. The portion of costs attributable to the JMP shall be determined by dividing the number of JMP students by the total number of UM graduate students as of November 1st. The portion of these administrative costs to be paid by UW each year will be determined using the same proportion used to distribute tuition fees for that year.

12.4 JMP students are eligible to compete for University of Manitoba Fellowships. The costs of fellowships awarded to JMP students shall be split equally by UM and UW. This co-funding is to be acknowledged in all communications regarding fellowships awarded to JMP students and for these students the Fellowships shall be designated the UM/UW Graduate Fellowships.

All students in JMPs are members of the Graduate Students' Association; they should also be members of UMSU and UWSA without having to pay greater student fees than other Masters students at the UM.

- 12) Explore the possibility of seeking faculty volunteers to work with fund-raising officers at each institution to build resources for fellowship, bursary, prize, and other support for JMP history students, with emphasis on secure funding for the best-qualified students entering the first year of the program. These volunteers would undertake both to increase the support levels available from existing fellowships and other dedicated funds, and to seek additional funds from the university communities, graduates, foundations, corporations, and other potential donors, and would report annually to the JDC on their results and the status of such funding.

In either case, this person may mediate or enlist the services of the University of Manitoba Conflict Resolution Service. In either case, both departments agree to cooperate fully with the named mediator, and to accept the recommended resolution to the problem or conflict.

Supplementary Regulations

The Joint Master's Program in Public Administration is supervised by a Joint Discipline Committee consisting of members of the faculty of the University of Manitoba and the University of Winnipeg, and graduate students.

The regulations governing the Joint Master's Program in Public Administration are the general regulations of the Faculty of Graduate Studies, as supplemented by the following:

Regulations on admission, advanced standing, the program of studies, and the maximum time limit are those contained in the program proposal.

Academic Standing

Students must attain a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 in the whole program in order to graduate. Students are required to attain a grade point average of 3.0 in the core courses. Students who fail to attain this GPA will normally be required to withdraw from the program.

The minimum passing grade in any course in the MPA program is C+. Students who fail to attain this grade may repeat the course (with the permission of the JDC) or take an equivalent substitute course. Students who fail to attain a grade of C+ in more than 6 credit hours of courses (or equivalent) or on more than one occasion are normally required to withdraw from the program.

Students who fail to attain a grade of B in more than 12 credit hours of courses (or equivalent) may be required to withdraw from the program.

Comprehensive Examination

Upon completion of the required course work, a student (unless submitting a thesis) is required to take a comprehensive examination consisting of two stages, the first written, the second oral. Exceptionally strong performance in the written stage may be cause for the examining committee to waive the need for the oral exam. Such a decision is normally rendered to the student at the meeting time of the oral examination. The examination covers the candidate's fields of emphasis, and the examining committee is normally composed of three of the student's course instructors, plus a Chair designated by the JDC. However, each examining committee shall include at least one instructor from each of the University of Winnipeg and the University of Manitoba.

Comprehensive oral examinations are normally conducted in April-May and August and, as needed, December/January. The student is expected to demonstrate a sound knowledge of his field of emphasis. The examination may continue until the examining committee is satisfied that it can render a judgment on the student's performance, although the usual duration is approximately 60-90 minutes.

Candidates must inform the Chair of the JDC by March 1 whether they intend to take the comprehensive examination in the Spring or in September. Permission to take the comprehensive examination at a time other than the customary examination periods is entirely at the discretion of the JDC.

The report of the examining committee to the Office of the Faculty of Graduate Studies shall be in terms of Approved or not approved or Approved with distinction and should be unanimous. If the examiners are unable to reach a unanimous decision, this fact must be reported to the Joint Senate Committee in the form of signed majority and minority statements.

Students who fail the comprehensive oral examination must take the examination again within one calendar year. Students who fail the comprehensive oral examination on more than one occasion are required to withdraw from the program.

Thesis

A student who wishes to elect the thesis option should consult as soon as practicable with the Chair of the JDC. An interim advisor, knowledgeable in the likely research topic shall be assigned to the student, who will also be encouraged to consult with other instructors.

With the advice of the interim advisor, the student will prepare a research project proposal, which shall include:

- Proposed title;
- A brief statement on the nature of the subject and the scope and objective of the investigation (not more than 500 words)
- A preliminary review of the general literature dealing with the subject;
- A statement on the materials to be used and their availability, and on any methodological problems likely to be encountered.

Once a research proposal has been prepared, it will be considered by the JDC, which may approve, disapprove or suggest modifications of the proposed research. When a research project proposal has been approved, the Committee, after consultation with the student, will assign a thesis advisor. The thesis advisory committee shall consist of the thesis advisor (as Chair) and in addition at least one member of the academic staff of each of the two participating universities.

The development of the thesis is under the general supervision of the thesis advisor. The other members of the committee may be consulted by the student and/or the thesis advisor on matters pertaining to the thesis.

The Master's thesis itself should be a work of original research and should attempt to make some worthwhile contribution to the study of its particular field. Length, should not be a major consideration, but it is anticipated that a Master= thesis would normally range from 100 to 150 pages of double-spaced typescript.

When the thesis has been completed to the satisfaction of the student and the thesis advisor, four copies of the thesis should be delivered to the Chair of the JDC, to whom the thesis advisor shall also submit a written appraisal of the thesis. However, a student has a right to an examination of his/her thesis and may submit it for examination despite the advisor's objections.

Thesis Examining Committee

The Thesis Examining Committee shall be nominated by the JDC after consultation with the thesis advisor, and shall consist of at least three persons, plus a non-voting Chair. The Thesis Examining Committee shall normally include the members of the Advisory Committee. At least one member of the Thesis Examining Committee shall be from each of the two participating universities, and one must be a person other than a professor who participates in the MPA program or one who is a member of the Political Science or Political Studies departments.

Thesis Examination

The Chair of the JDC shall distribute the copies of the thesis submitted by the student to the Thesis Examining Committee, and shall schedule a date for the oral examination of the thesis. The oral examination itself shall normally take place only if the student has successfully completed the prescribed course work with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0.

If the Thesis Examining Committee finds the thesis unacceptable, it will cancel the oral examination and require the student to rewrite the thesis. This instruction must be accompanied by concrete and constructive criticism.

In the oral examination the student will be asked to comment for five to ten minutes on the nature and significance of the research before being asked direct questions by members of the Examining Committee. Each examiner is expected to question the candidate for approximately 15-30 minutes, and the thesis examination normally lasts 60-90 minutes.

The Thesis Examining Committee may require modifications or revisions of the thesis.

The acceptability of the thesis as satisfying in part the requirements of the Master's program in Public Administration is reported to the Office of the Faculty of Graduate Studies on a form to be signed by all thesis examiners, and the outcome of the oral examination is reported to that Office, on a pass/fail basis or a pass with distinction, by the Chair of the Thesis Examining Committee. If there is lack of unanimity, the outcome of the examination shall be reported in signed majority and minority reports.

If the thesis writer fails to satisfy the Thesis Examining Committee on two occasions, he/she will be required to withdraw from the program.

Periodic Review of the Joint Graduate Programs

Date: April 22, 2008

Introduction

This program assessment document takes a student-oriented approach inasmuch as students should have the best possible programs available to them. The way to ensure this is by carrying out a periodic review of existing programs with the aim of identifying improvements where necessary and restructuring where appropriate. For purposes of review, a Joint Master's Program (JMP) at the University of Manitoba and The University of Winnipeg is defined as a plan approved by both Senates and the Joint Senate Committee (JSC) for advanced study that comprises credit courses and related activities delivered by (at least) one academic unit from each of the two universities, and administered according to the Joint Programs governing documents as approved by the two Senates, and leading to a Joint Master's Degree from the two universities.

Preamble²

Purpose of Program Review

There are many reasons why institutions conduct reviews or participate in evaluations of their graduate programs. The primary purpose of all program review is the improvement of graduate programs, as measured by the quality of the faculty, the students, library and other educational resources, the curriculum, available facilities, and the academic reputation of the program among its peers. Institutions of higher education, like individuals, require regular scrutiny and self-examination to improve, and the systematic review of academic programs is an integral part of this process of improvement. In the face of the many external pressures on institutions to review programs — from government, public interest groups, and accrediting societies — and the many internal pressures in the form of budget adjustments, space needs, and organizational restructuring, it is imperative that this primary purpose be kept in mind.

In addition to the improvement of joint graduate programs, program review, whether at the provincial or institutional level, has several associated objectives or goals. For the individual university, program review helps in long-range planning and in setting both institutional and departmental priorities. It gives administrators and academic leaders critical information about the size and stability of a program, its future faculty resources and student market, its equipment and space needs, its strengths and weaknesses, and its contribution to the mission of the institution. It helps set goals and directions for the future, and ensures that overall academic plans and budget decisions are based on real information and agreed-upon priorities, not vague impressions or theoretical schemes.

Program review also provides a mechanism for change. Joint graduate programs, like all social structures, evolve slowly; intellectual differences, bureaucracy, time pressures, vested interests, concern for survival, and simple inertia all make change difficult. By creating a structured, scheduled opportunity for a program to be examined, program review provides a strategy for improvement that is well-reasoned, far-seeing, and as apolitical as possible. Changes in joint graduate programs which are made in the heat of the moment or in response to a particular action (e.g., annual budget decisions, turnover in administrators, individual faculty promotions, student admissions decisions, or new course approvals) seldom contain the kind of solid information, broad collegial involvement, and careful thought which a program review promotes, and which is necessary for lasting program improvement.

From an external point of view, program review has two very important purposes. First, it provides a mechanism whereby universities are accountable to society for their activities and for the quality of their programs. Provincial governments, funding agencies, private donors, taxpayers, and tuition-paying students can be reassured through the program review process that the institutions which receive their support have joint graduate programs of high quality which are regularly reviewed and revised, and which are responsive to the needs of the society and consistent with the aims and objectives of the universities involved.

Second, program review assists the universities in their efforts to garner financial, philosophical, and political support from provincial government, federal funding agencies, and other constituencies. The information gathered in the review process, and the assessment of program strengths and needs, provide strong and compelling evidence of the quality of joint graduate programs, the areas of greatest need, and the foundation on which future improvements should be built. This information can and should support decisions about resource allocation, enrollments, special initiatives, research grants, and even private gifts. The stronger and more careful the program review process, the more persuasive the results.

What Is Program Review?

Program review may take many different shapes and forms, but it always has certain key characteristics.

1. Because the provinces are constitutionally responsible for education, including post-secondary education, there is considerable variation among program reviews. However, in all cases the review is periodic. In Ontario all graduate programs are reviewed regularly in a seven-year cycle by a central organization (the Ontario Council on Graduate Studies), which is administered and funded on a cooperative basis by the fifteen provincially-supported universities. Similarly, the Conference des Recteurs et Principaux des Universités du Québec (CREPUQ) is responsible for reviewing new graduate programs in its jurisdiction. Program review in the other provinces tends to occur at the level of the individual institution.
2. Program review is evaluative, not just descriptive. More than the compilation of data on a particular joint graduate program, it requires academic judgments by peers and recognized experts in the field about the quality of the program and adequacy of its resources.
3. Review of joint graduate programs is forward-looking; it is directed toward improvement of the program, not simply assessment of its current status. It makes specific recommendations for changes which need to be made in the future, as part of departmental and institutional long-range plans.
4. Departments engaged in program review are evaluated using academic criteria, not financial or political ones. They are scrutinized on the basis of their academic strengths and weaknesses, not their ability to produce funds for the institution or generate development for the province. Finances and organizational issues are certainly relevant in the review, but only as they affect the quality of the academic program (e.g. low faculty salaries, lack of laboratory equipment, rapid turnover in department chairs).
5. To the extent possible, program review is an objective process. It asks graduate departments to engage in self-studies which assess, as objectively as possible, their own programs. It brings in faculty members from other departments and often from outside the institution to review the self-studies and to make their own evaluations, using independent judgments. It is part of an established, transparent process in which all joint graduate programs are similarly reviewed.
6. Program review is an independent process, separate from any other review. Reviews conducted by regional or professional accrediting associations, licensing agencies, or budget committees are separate and distinct, and cannot substitute for program reviews. Data collection and parts of the departmental self-study may often serve a number of review purposes, and there is much to be saved in time and effort by timing a program review to coincide with an accreditation or other external review, if possible. However, to be effective, program review must be a unique, identifiable process, which stands on its own, draws its own set of conclusions, and directs its recommendations to the only individuals who have the power to improve joint graduate programs: the faculty and administrators of the institution.

7. Most important of all, program review results in action. Growing out of the reviewers' comments and recommendations, the institutions develop a plan to implement the desired changes on a specific, agreed-upon timetable. This plan is linked to the institutions budget and planning process, to help ensure that recommended changes actually get made, that necessary resources are set aside, and that the program's goals fit into the institution's overall academic plans. If no action results from the review, departments soon lose interest in the process, the quality of the product deteriorates rapidly, and large amounts of time and money are wasted. In addition, other less objective and collegial ways of making decisions arise, and the advantages of systematic program review are lost.
8. Successful program review, then, is a process of evaluation which has all of the above characteristics. It provides answers to the following kinds of questions:
 - Is the joint graduate program advancing the state of the discipline or profession?
 - Is the teaching or training of students useful and effective?
 - Does the joint graduate program meet the institutions' goals?
 - Does it respond to the profession's needs?
 - How is it assessed by experts in the field?

Clearly, this list of questions can be supplemented by others, and the emphasis given to any particular question depends on the mission of the institution and the individual joint graduate program. But these are the kinds of questions that program review is designed to address.

Why Have Joint Graduate Program Reviews?

Joint graduate education is replete with evaluations. Faculty are evaluated for promotion and tenure and, in many institutions, for membership in the graduate faculty; students are evaluated for admissions, performance on comprehensive examinations, and degree completion; courses are evaluated as they are added to the curriculum; and facilities and financial resources are scrutinized annually in the budgeting process. Joint Graduate Program reviews, however, provide the only comprehensive evaluation of an entire academic program, integrating all of the elements which contribute to its success.

While it is true that the reviews conducted by professional licensing or accrediting associations are also comprehensive in scope, they have special goals which may or may not coincide with those of the institution. Accreditation reviews often are extremely focused on the existence of standards adequate for licensure or accreditation. They do not necessarily contain the broad academic judgments and recommendations for change in program direction which should come out of a program review.

Joint graduate programs are dynamic; they change constantly as faculty come and go, the student applicant pool increases or declines, degree requirements are eased or tightened, and as the academic discipline just naturally evolves. Although joint graduate degree programs are usually reviewed carefully when they are first proposed, once they are approved they may never be evaluated again. Constant scrutiny is unhealthy for any program, but periodic, thorough review will ensure that the program has lived up to its original goals and will identify key areas in which it should be strengthened. It will also, if necessary, identify programs which should be cut back or terminated.

Joint Graduate Program Review at the University of Manitoba and The University of Winnipeg

Preamble

The University of Manitoba Task Force on Strategic Planning made the following two recommendations (#42a, #42b) in their final report Building on Strengths (Feb. 1998):

- Define the criteria, by December 31, 1998, for maintaining existing graduate programs, and propose to the Provost, a mechanism to review programs
- Implement an approved, periodic review of graduate programs. Programs of good quality shall be retained, those that are found weak, but of strategic importance to the Faculty shall be given an opportunity to improve, those that are found weak and not of strategic importance shall be eliminated

There currently exists a policy that deals with academic reviews of units: Policy 429 states that all programs are ultimately the responsibility of Senate and the Board of Governors. Each Faculty, School and Department has direct responsibility for its programs and the academic review of those programs, although coordinated centrally, is properly based in these units.

In an effort to initiate the Task Force-recommended periodic review of its programs, the Faculty of Graduate Studies is implementing i) a procedure for the review of all graduate programs and ii) a set of evaluative criteria for assessing existing programs.

The University of Winnipeg Strategic Plan 2004-2010 was approved by the Board of Regents of the University of Winnipeg 3 May 2004.

The University of Winnipeg Academic Plan 2004-2010 was approved by the Senate of the University of Winnipeg 28 April 2004 and received by the Board of Regents as part of the Strategic Plan 2004-2010 approved 3 May 2004. Both documents are supportive of the notion of program review. The Academic Plan explicitly recommends program review on page 5.

While prerequisite programs at the undergraduate level must be considered in a general sense for the proper review of joint graduate programs, the actual review of joint graduate programs is very different from the review of undergraduate programs and thus, should be carried out separately.

The Joint Masters Programs (JMP) will be reviewed in accordance with the provisions of Part A of the Joint University of Manitoba (UM) University of Winnipeg (UW) Master's Programs Proposed Revisions Submitted to the Senates of the Universities of Manitoba and Winnipeg, September 2005. Updates to the University of Manitoba template (Appendix A) will be communicated to the chair of the Joint Senate Committee (JSC).

Any future policy that deals with the academic review of Joint Masters Programs (JMP) shall be developed in consultation with both the University of Manitoba and The University of Winnipeg.

Process

1. Each joint graduate program shall be reviewed on a cycle no greater than seven (7) years as described in the process below.
2. The order in which programs are to be assessed shall be determined by the Chair of the Joint Senate Committee that governs Joint Master's Programs hereinafter referred to as the Joint Senate Committee or JSC, in consultation with Dean of Graduate Studies at the University of Manitoba and the Vice President (Research and Graduate Studies) at The University of Winnipeg, and the Programs and Planning Committee of the Faculty of Graduate Studies. Every attempt shall be made to coordinate program assessment with accreditation review and the review of the PhD programs at the University of Manitoba.
3. The Joint Discipline Committee (JDC) unit delivering the program shall be responsible for collecting pertinent data as outlined in Appendices A, B and C of this document. Prior to distributing personal data covered under Freedom of Information and Privacy Protection Act (FIPPA) the reciprocal nondisclosure agreement shall be signed by external reviewers and both - universities.

4. The JDC chairs in consultation with the unit/department/heads/chairs shall prepare a report (in accordance with the format given in Appendix A), a list of five potential external reviewers (Appendix C) as well as a list of three potential internal reviewers from a cognate area (not connected to the JDC) for submission to the Chair of the Joint Senate Committee as well as the Dean of Graduate Studies of the University of Manitoba and the Vice President (Research and Graduate Studies) at the University of Winnipeg, within 9 months of the request from the Chair of the Joint Senate Committee.
 5. The JDC chair shall make a copy of the report available, as early as possible, to the relevant budget Dean at the University of Manitoba and Dean of Faculty at The University of Winnipeg so as to allow those Deans to prepare comments on i) the strategic directions and priorities of the Faculty and ii) how the specific unit's/department's programs fit into that context. The Deans shall submit his/her comments directly within two weeks of the request from the Chair of the Joint Senate Committee.
 6. A committee, to be known as the Review Committee, comprising two external reviewers to the both university sites and one internal reviewer to either site shall be chosen by the Chair of the Joint Senate Committee acting in consultation with the Dean of Graduate Studies at the University of Manitoba and the Vice President (Research and Graduate Studies) at The University of Winnipeg from the lists submitted by the JDC.
 7. The Review Committee will receive copies of the unit JDC's report (along with the relevant budget Dean at the University of Manitoba and Dean or Faculty at The University of Winnipeg comments) directly from the Chair of the Joint Senate Committee and shall conduct a site visit in accordance with the general guidelines provided in Appendix E.
 8. The Review Committee shall prepare a report that articulates clear, unequivocal recommendations and/or priorities of choice.
 9. In their report, the Review Committee shall classify the program within one of the following categories:

Adequate	A)	Continue as is OR
	B)	Requires minor revision or restructuring to enhance effectiveness or appeal
Inadequate		Major change, restructuring or amalgamation required if to continue
 10. The Review Committee's report shall be sent directly to the Chair of the Joint Senate Committee, as well as the Dean of Graduate Studies of the University of Manitoba and the Vice-President (Research and Graduate Studies) at The University of Winnipeg.
 11. The Chair of the Joint Senate Committee shall forward the report to the JDC chair and relevant budget Dean at the University of Manitoba and Dean of Faculty at The University of Winnipeg for comments and shall request a plan for revising/restructuring the program as needed along with a timeline for completion and any budgetary implications. The plan is to be submitted within three (3) months and is to be designed to begin implementation within six (6) months of the initial request to the unit.
 12. The Chair of the Joint Senate Committee in consultation with the JSC shall transmit the plan and his/her comments on the process/procedural issues to the Provost of the University of Manitoba and to the Vice-President (Academic) at The University of Winnipeg. Comments on academic standards from the Dean of the Faculty of Graduate Studies at the University of Manitoba, and the Vice- President (Research and Graduate Studies) at The University of Winnipeg may also be forwarded at the same time.
 13. A unit/department that does not comply with the request to submit a plan or fails to implement an approved plan may have enrolment in the affected program restricted by the Dean of the Faculty of Graduate Studies at the University of Manitoba and Vice-President (Research and Graduate Studies) at The University of Winnipeg. Restriction may range from "limited enrolment" to "no further enrolment permitted". (A unit/department that does not fully participate in the review process, i.e. generating the required report, within the scheduled timeframe may have enrolment in its joint graduate programs suspended until such time as a full review indicates that the suspension should be lifted.)
