Organizational restructuring events since the early 1980s resulted in the largest firms employing fewer workers and demanding specialized skills. Our research shows that these changes have exacerbated state-level income inequality in the U.S.

Friday, June 19
9:30 am
530 Drake Centre

GUEST SPEAKER:
Adam Cobb
Assistant Professor, The Wharton School
University of Pennsylvania