The annual interest on this fund will support, in perpetuity, a scholarship which will be offered to a student who:

- is enrolled as a full-time student (in at least 60 percent of a full course load) in the Faculty of Music;
- is studying trumpet as the major practical study area; and
- has achieved the highest cumulative grade point average on courses completed (with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0).

In years when a suitable candidate majoring in trumpet is not available, the scholarship may be offered to the most suitable candidate majoring in any of the other brass instruments.

The selection committee shall be named by the Dean of the Faculty of Music.
