INDIVIDUAL ROLES & RESPONSIBILITIES
GUIDELINES FOR FACULTY AND STUDENTS INVOLVED WITH GRADUATE PROGRAMS AT THE UNIVERSITY OF MANITOBA

Faculty of Graduate Studies
The office of the Faculty of Graduate Studies (FGS), under the leadership of the Dean, ensures that each graduate program is governed according to the Guidelines and Policies of the Faculty of Graduate Studies and that each program runs in an equitable and fair manner (see Academic Guide of the Faculty of Graduate Studies at http://umanitoba.ca/faculties/graduate_studies/admin/130.html).

Faculty Dean
The Faculty Dean of a department/unit offering a graduate program is expected to do the following:

• Recognize and support (in principle) each department/unit, faculty members, staff, and students engaged in graduate studies.
• Allocate appropriate resources towards the successful execution of the graduate programs offered by each department/unit.

Department/Unit Head
The Department/Unit Head is ultimately responsible for ensuring that the graduate program of the unit is operating according to the guidelines of FGS and their supplementary regulations (http://umanitoba.ca/faculties/graduate_studies/admin/532.html). The specific responsibilities include the following:

• Develop a committee structure to administer the graduate program. Identify and define the role of a Graduate Chair and provide the name of the advisor, and advisory committee and his or her own role and responsibilities.
• Ensure that the department/unit has a set of guidelines and criteria for admission of students and completion of their programs.
• Formulate specific guidelines if work experience is to be included as one of the admission criteria.
• Ensure that the supplementary regulations for administering the graduate program(s) are well defined and outlined in an official document (this document needs FGS approval).
• Provide mentorship to new faculty members as graduate advisors.
• Ensure that each student receives a letter of offer indicating the area of study, the name of the advisor, financial support (availability, the amount, source and duration).
• Define the applicable terms and conditions for each student (including those students who hold a fellowship or scholarship) receiving financial support from a unit or departmental fund or from an individual operating grant. The terms and conditions must address the issue of top-up or supplemental financial support.

Graduate Chair

Depending on the size of a unit, a Graduate Chair may perform the following duties with the help of a committee:

- Serve as a liaison person between the unit and FGS. Ensure a committee is in place to administer graduate programs including admission, assigning an advisor and advisory committee and reporting on student progress.
- Ensure that students' files are current with respect to the address of the student, name of the advisor and the advisory committee members and to inform FGS of any changes.
- Inform all members of the department/unit engaged in graduate education about the Academic Guide, FGS regulations, requirements and any supplementary regulations as well as important deadlines.
- Ensure that the students are made aware of workshops offered by UTS (University Teaching Services), e.g. CHET (Certification in Higher Education Teaching Program), and FGS specifically for graduate students.
- Organize students' orientation to the department/unit and the resources available to them.
- Provide the student with information about the role and responsibilities of the advisor, and advisory committee and his or her own role and responsibilities, i.e. Advisor-Student Agreement.
- Monitor implementation of the Department/Unit Head's decision regarding the student's access to an assigned advisor and to a designated acting advisor in the case of the advisor's absence (research study leave or leave of absence).
- Ensure that the student has formally submitted a thesis proposal to the advisory committee, including well-stated objectives and a path for achieving them.
- Ensure the student meets the advisor or advisory committee to discuss coursework, research program, progress and future plans.
- Ensure that collaborative research (inter-unit/departmental, inter-university or with an outside research institute) is identified and that the specific role of each unit is clearly defined.

Graduate Advisor

The advisor is not only a mentor to the student but also provides leadership in forming the partnership with his/her students, the department/unit, and the advisory committee. The following responsibilities are for the advisor to ensure equitable and high quality academic training to the students:

- Inform and update the student of his/her academic and holiday schedule on a regular basis so that the student is aware of how much time and when access can be reasonably expected from the advisor.
- Seek and provide the student with adequate financial support, where possible.
• Work with the student to develop a research topic(s) ensuring that the research plan is well defined, realistic and manageable within the allocated time frame for successful completion of the program.

• Ensure that within the first six months to a year, the student has an advisory committee, the program of study approved by the advisory committee with respect to FGS requirements (the number and type of courses), and a research plan.

• If there are major modifications to the research plan after one year, a revised research plan must be approved by the advisory committee at that time.

• Schedule regular meetings with the student to monitor progress. Such meetings should include discussion of management strategies and methodological approaches after the research topic is well defined and review the process of data collection.

• Discuss with the student how research is to be documented and how records are to be kept and refer the student to the University of Manitoba Policies and Procedures Regarding Research Ethics (http://umanitoba.ca/research/orac ethics/index.html).

Advisory Committee

The advisory committee acts as a partner with the student and the advisor in advising the student on research problems. The members are selected based on their fields of expertise, the nature and planning of the research project and to complement the expertise of the advisor in providing guidance to the student. The committee structure will depend on unit or departmental regulations as well as the guidelines and regulations of FGS.

To a reasonable extent, each member serving on the advisory committee is expected to take the following responsibilities:

• Be familiar with the research project of the student.

• Be available for meetings with the advisor and the student for preparing the annual progress report or as deemed essential.

• Be reasonably available for consultation with the student in addition to regular meetings.

• Review the thesis in a timely manner for final examination.

• Clarify with the student questions regarding intellectual property rights, primary authorship on research articles and the specific role of the student, the advisor and other collaborators in the research program.

• Hold meetings once a year, or more often as required, with the student to discuss research progress and future course of action. Ideally, these meetings are to be held at the beginning of the student’s program and within the first year.

• Provide the student with the opportunity to attend and to present his/her findings at research conferences depending on the availability of funds.

• When a thesis is required – provide the student with the guidelines for preparing the thesis. (http://umanitoba.ca/libraries/elibrary/mspace/)

• Read and provide comments to any written material (thesis reports, practicum etc.) submitted by the student in a timely manner (two to four weeks depending on the length of the document). Normally an advisor would require at least four weeks to provide feedback on a full thesis.

Graduate Student

The student should look upon graduate research as a partnership with the advisor, advisory committee and the department/unit. Ultimately, the student is responsible for conducting the proposed research work and course of study. The responsibilities of a graduate student are as follows:

- Know the policies, procedures and deadlines of FGS. Each student must consult the Academic Guide and the current Graduate Calendar for specific information.
- Declare him/her self as full-time or part-time based on the time that would be devoted to graduate studies (See Academic Guide).
- Assess his/her financial needs during the tenure of the graduate program and obtain a document from the advisor outlining the type and duration of the financial support. (note: student may receive a letter indicating no support is available)
- Share the responsibility with the advisor to develop a sound research plan that has an achievable timetable and milestones.
- Keep a systematic record of research work and results and be able to answer to the advisor and the advisory committee with respect to progress.
- Self-evaluate progress and productivity throughout the program.
- Become familiar with and follow the University of Manitoba – Policies and Procedures Regarding Research Ethics. (http://umanitoba.ca/research/orec/ethics/index.html)
- Ensure that a meeting is held with the advisor and the advisory committee (where applicable) and prepare/present a progress report at least once per year.
- Call additional meetings with the advisory committee after consultation with the advisor, if considered essential to the progress of the research.
- Organize and be efficient in processing the data and in the planning of future research. Keep abreast of current literature in the field.
- Take full responsibility for his/her academic and research program.
- Allow adequate time for his or her advisor or committee members to provide comments on written material. The student must consult his/her advisor and the advisory committee members to estimate the time that would be required to complete a thesis or a report.
- Ensure to allocate sufficient time to meet important deadlines (registration, thesis submission to committee members, etc.)
