Chancellor’s Hall was originally the residence of the Principal of the Manitoba Agricultural College, and his family, and was used to entertain visiting dignitaries. It was designed as a Tudor Revival manor house in order to distinguish it from the other Georgian-inspired buildings on campus but utilized similar building materials to maintain some architectural consistency. The left, or north gable, features the insignia of the province of Manitoba while the right or south gable features the Manitoba Agricultural College emblem.