The official opening of the Frank Kennedy Physical Education Centre in 1972 was unique in that those who attended the opening ceremonies were also encouraged to take part in recreational activities. A collection of mementos was also laid behind the cornerstone of the building including photographs of Bison athletes and teams, sports programs, lists of staff and student association officials, clothing, award crests, and one well-used running shoe.