St. Andrew’s College

St. Andrew’s College was the first Ukrainian-language college to be opened by the Greek-Orthodox Church in North America and was financed by its members. The college is named after St. Andrew, the Apostle of Greece and Scythia, and the patron saint of the Ukrainian Greek-Orthodox Church of Canada. The college houses the Ukrainian Canadian Studies Centre, the first of its kind and scope in Canada.