D | Important Information

You may designate anyone to be your beneficiary. However, if you have a spouse or common-law partner at your date of death, pension legislation requires the pre-retirement death benefit to be paid to your spouse or common-law partner, regardless of the beneficiary designation, unless:

- 1) You are living separate and apart from your spouse or common-law partner by reason of relationship breakdown, or
- 2) Your spouse or common-law partner has waived the right to the pre-retirement death benefit by completing Manitoba's Waiver of Survivor Death Benefit (Form 2). In this case, legislation does not allow you to name your spouse or common-law partner as your beneficiary.

Caution:

- Should you wish to change your beneficiary (e.g., in the event of a breakdown of your declared spouse/common-law relationship), you will have to do so by means of a Beneficiary Change form available from the Pension Office.
- Benefits cannot be paid to beneficiaries who are minors (under the age of 18) or who are unable to act on his/her behalf. Trustee Nomination forms are available from the Pension Office.

If you do not have a spouse/common-law partner at your date of death, the pre-retirement death benefit will be paid according to your beneficiary designation. All beneficiary designations are revocable.

If you wish to name your estate as beneficiary, please enter ESTATE in the name line and do not complete the remainder of the information.
