It is important to maintain current contact information for plan members. Each year the Pension Office receives returned mail due to wrong contact information. It is important that the Pension Office knows your contact information so that we may advise you of your pension plan benefits. If we cannot locate plan members, certain critical events may negatively affect your or your family such as:

1. CRA may construe tax liability in the event plan members do not commence income at age 71.
2. Very complex legal issues that can arise such as death of the un-locatable plan members, and the need to re-open estates to pay pension settlements.
3. Marital break-up where the former spouse needs to be aware of the settlement and receive any amount owing to them.
4. Missed opportunity to enjoy your pension benefits.
5. The cost to all participants in the pension plan to manage the records of un-locatable pension plan members.

Managing your financial assets is the responsibility of individual plan members, so please remember to keep your contact information current.
