REPEATED COURSE POLICY AND LIMITED ACCESS

STARTING WINTER 2018 LIMITED ACCESS AFFECTS HOW YOU REGISTER TO REPEAT A COURSE

WHAT DO THESE POLICY CHANGES MEAN TO YOU?

• You are not subject to Limited Access to repeat a course in Fall 2017.
• If you completed or VW'd from a course in Winter 2017 or later and want to repeat it in Winter 2018, you will be subject to Limited Access in that course for THREE consecutive terms.
• Students subject to Limited Access may not register to repeat the course until after the Limited Access Expiry Date specific to that term. The Limited Access Term Expiry Date for Winter 2018 is December 4, 2017.
• You are encouraged to try to register in the course when the Limited Access Term Expiry Date has passed. Limited Access does not mean that you have to sit out for three terms.
• To determine when you are no longer subject to Limited Access, count forward three terms starting in the term AFTER you last took the course. See the examples below to help you determine when you are no longer subject to Limited Access.
• When you are no longer subject to Limited Access for a course you can register to repeat it during your initial registration period, but you will require permission to do so. Contact your advising office to request permission (subject to faculty/college/school repeat policies).
