Course Description

U of M Course Calendar Description
Tools and research to support sound agronomic decision-making for production of cereals, oilseeds, pulses and upcoming innovative special crops in Manitoba. An emphasis on assessing potential of incorporating innovative and specialized crops to achieve economical and ecological benefits. The course will address planning, production and harvesting of special crops as well as product quality, opportunities for processing and marketing.

General Course Description

Why this course is useful?
This course teaches students to think critically about where they get information and how they present that information in their academic work. This course gives the students the tools and necessary skills to find and evaluate new and upcoming special crops.

Crops and their practices change over time. A profitable crop of today might not be a profitable crop in 5 years. Our goal isn’t to teach you the content of how to grow today’s crops – our goal is to teach you the skills to research and grow the crops of tomorrow. In order to meet this goal, it requires us to teach you self-directed and life-long learning skills so that you can continue to find information and evaluate new and upcoming special crops long after you have completed the agriculture diploma program.

Who should take this course?
This course is a mandatory requirement for all students enrolled in the Agriculture Diploma program. This course is designed to develop student’s critical thinking and problem-solving skills that are the foundation for success in the Agriculture Diploma program. This course is particularly useful for students who will be taking the Farm Management Project courses, as the skills learned in this course will directly apply to their ‘Farm Management Project’.

How this course fits into the curriculum
Similar to other courses offered in the Agriculture Diploma program, skills and concepts from this course will be utilized moving forward in your Farm Management Project to complete a comprehensive farm business plan. This course is part of the program core.

Course Goals

1. To introduce students to the resources and methods necessary for conducting reliable and applicable research on alternative crops
2. To give students an analytical framework for determining the production and economic potential benefits and challenges when integrating alternative crops on a farm business
3. To support students in compiling research reports on alternative crops relevant to their own interests and farm applications

Course Learning Objectives

- Students will develop their self-directed learning skills
- Students will develop their oral and written communication skills
- Students will learn how to work effectively in team environments
Students will improve their ability to critically assess and identify credible sources of information and develop methods for evaluating the credibility of various sources of information

Students will demonstrate an understanding of resources, citation, and academic dishonesty and how university policies apply to their academic work

Students will develop connections to industry and government contacts, and gain knowledge of where to access information on specialized and innovative crops

Students will gain an awareness & knowledge of alternative crops

Students will be able to demonstrate their ability to find agronomic and cultural practices for growing specialized crops.

Students will be able to demonstrate their ability to find crop storage, quality, and value-added processing information for specialized crops

Students will gain perspective in diversifying their farms beyond traditional crops

Students will learn the importance of financial budgeting and how it applies to sound decision-making

Students will learn how to develop, modify, and adapt economic tools for evaluating the financial viability of specialized crops

Students will gain an awareness of international & domestic special crop markets, and where to find information about these markets

Students will research and create a report evaluating the potential for integrating a specialized/innovative cropping enterprise for a farm, which will generate the necessary skills for students to create specialized business plans in their Farm Management Project

Students will develop a passion and appreciation for research and the wide array of information available on special crops

Also be advised that you are required to complete your assignments independently unless otherwise specified. If you are encouraged to work in a team, ensure that your project complies with the academic integrity regulations. You must do your own work during exams. Inappropriate collaborative behavior and violation of other Academic Integrity principles, will lead to the serious disciplinary action. Visit the Academic Calendar.

When is collaboration inappropriate?

When students work together or share information without specific instructions by the professor, this constitutes inappropriate collaboration. This applies to in-class or take-home tests, papers, labs, or homework assignments; basically, any assignment that will be submitted for a grade. Students should not collaborate unless the professor has given specific instructions about group work and when this is permissible.

Lab Assignments: Work submitted for lab assignments must be your own, i.e., not the work of anyone else. Consultation with other students is permissible, however, each student must submit their own assignment containing their own work. The answer must be not be similar enough to tell who you were working together with, e.g. calculations and word responses in labs.

Weekly Quizzes: UM Learn Quizzes are to be completed and submitted individually.

Course Projects: Will be completed individually with the exception of the group presentation. Discussion and feedback between students is encouraged, however all work submitted should be your own.

ASSIGNMENT DESCRIPTIONS

In-depth assignment descriptions will be distributed when the assignment is given out in class.

UM Learn Quizzes
GOAL: The goal of utilizing UM Learn Quizzes is for students to reflect on the information they have learned in class, as well as an opportunity for them to self-evaluate their progression in their major assignments.
PROCEDURE: Topics with UM Learn Quizzes associated with them are indicated in the Course Schedule along with their due dates. Four Self Directed Learning Quizzes will be available throughout the semester alongside the course material quizzes. Quizzes can be found under “DAGR 0430 – A01>Assignments>Quizzes” on the course’s UM Learn page.
SUBMISSION GUIDELINES: UM Learn Quizzes are completely online and are submitted and graded automatically upon completion.

Lab Exercises
GOAL: The Lab Exercises are utilized to allow students to practice and apply the skills they learn in class prior to completing their major assignments to ensure everyone has the ability to properly complete the major assignments.
PROCEDURE: Lab Exercise instructions will be pre-recorded and posted for discussion throughout the week. Details will be provided for expectations and whether the exercise is to be completed independently or in groups.
SUBMISSION GUIDELINES: Lab Exercises will be submitted electronically via UM Learn submission folders under “DAGR 0430 – A01>Assignments”

Research Report
GOAL: To provide the opportunity for students to demonstrate their knowledge they have gained through their independent research. To allow the students to practice their referencing & citation skills. To allow the students to practice their written communication & writing skills.
PROCEDURE: Students will choose a specific crop that they do not have prior experience with. The list of crops will be provided by the instructor. Working independently, Students are expected to organize and structure their paper in the form of a report. Students will need to discover sources to research information on these special crops. Students must evaluate their sources using a ‘source evaluation template’. Students must cite their sources and provide a ‘References’ page at the end of their report. Students will be required to submit a ‘draft’ copy of their written report prior to the assignment’s deadline. The length of the report and further expectations will be provided in class.
SUBMISSION GUIDELINES: The written report will be submitted electronically via the respective UM Learn submission folder under “DAGR 0430 – A01>Assignments” by the assignment deadline. A ‘draft’ copy must be submitted prior to the assignment deadline. Late submissions will be subject to the ‘Assignment Extension & Late Submission Policy’ below.

Group Oral Presentation
GOAL: To provide the opportunity for students to work collaboratively with their peers on researching, discovering resources, and practicing their critical thinking and oral communication skills. To allow students to discover the agronomic challenges and benefits of growing a special crop.
PROCEDURE: Students will be split into groups. Groups will choose a special crop (from a list provided by the instructor) to research and present to the rest of the class. Groups will need to utilize resources throughout their research to compile relevant information on these crops and evaluate these resources using a ‘source evaluation template’. Students must submit an electronic copy of the information they are presenting to the class via UM Learn prior to the presentation date. Students must cite sources and provide a ‘References’ page at the end of their written portion of the assignment.

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES: Live presentation during the normal lecture slots of the designated presentation week.

Budgeting Assignment

GOAL: To allow the students to apply their financial budgeting knowledge. To gain experience in designing financial budgeting tools for evaluating the financial viability of special crops. To strengthen their understanding of budget design & structure. To assess the financial viability of a special crop.

PROCEDURE: Students will be given basic financial information on a special crop that will act as the foundation for building the budget. Students will have to design and create a budget for the given special crop that will properly evaluate the financial viability of the crop. Students will have to apply gained knowledge from the budgeting lectures and exercises in order to complete this assignment.

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES: The Budgeting Assignment will be submitted electronically via the respective UM Learn submission folder under “DAGR 0430 – A01>Assignments” by the assignment deadline. Late submissions will be subject to the ‘Assignment Extension & Late Submission Policy’ below.

Final Research Report Project

GOAL: The Final Research Report will make the students accumulate all their skills they’ve learned throughout the course into one final research paper. The Final Research Report encompasses a majority of the course goals for this course. The goal of this assignment is to have the students thoroughly research the agronomic, cultural, environmental, economic, and financial aspects of growing a special crop while also assessing the suitability of integrating the special crop on their farm.

PROCEDURE: Early in the term, students will choose a special crop to research for their Final Research Project. As the term progresses, the skills students learn from other assignments and lectures will be applied to this project. Students will create a pool of resources to draw information from, evaluate those sources, and construct an outline of topics they will be discussing. Students will then create a ‘draft’ copy of their assignment to receive peer and instructor evaluations on their progress. Students will have to structure their Final Research Project in the form of a research based business report, creating a financial crop budget and evaluating opportunities for value-added processing and marketing.

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES: Students must create and hand in a draft copy on UM Learn. Students must hand in their final copy to UM Learn. Students must complete a ‘source evaluation template’ to be submitted via UM Learn. Each item will be submitted via their respective UM Learn submission folder under “DAGR 0430 – A01>Assignments” by the assignment deadline. Deadline information is provided in this syllabus and on assignment instructions (subject to change).

Referencing Style

The referencing style to be used in assignments and projects will be explicitly stated in the instruction page for those assignments and projects.

The library is a good resource if you have doubts about how to cite materials. Please refer to: http://libguides.lib.umanitoba.ca/citingandwriting for more information. Librarians are also available to any questions you may have regarding referencing and citations.
Assignment Feedback

Lab Exercises and Course Assignments will be graded and returned within three weeks. Quality feedback will be provided as much as possible in order to understand any mistakes made and correct them for future assignments.

UM Learn Quizzes are graded automatically and will indicate which questions were answered incorrectly.

Assignment Extension and Late Submission Policy

Assignments that are late will be given a grade of zero. Assignments submitted that are not formatted correctly and cannot be opened/accessed by Instructor will be given a grade of zero.

Exceptions of this would include family, health, or other extraordinary circumstances with supporting documentation (e.g., doctors note or similar).

Non-medical Extensions may be granted if students communicate in advance with their instructor and provide supporting documentation to warrant an extension. When no extension is granted, late assignments will be assigned a grade of zero.

When submitting anything to UM Learn, always make sure you are selecting the correct file and double check to make sure you've received a ‘submission confirmation’ email from UM LEARN to ensure it made it into the assignment submission folder.

CHANGES DUE TO COVID19:

Students who are unable to meet a course requirement due to medical circumstances are currently not required to submit medical notes. However, students are required to contact their instructor or academic advisor by email to inform of the missed work and to make arrangements for extensions, deferrals, or make-up assignments. Please follow these guidelines if you are unable to meet an academic requirement for your courses.

- Contact your instructor for term work such as a class, quizzes, midterm/test, assignment, labs
- Contact an advisor in your faculty/college/school of registration for a missed final exam (scheduled in the final examination period)
- Inform your instructor/advisor as soon as possible do not delay. Note for final exams, students must contact within 48 hours of the date of the final exam; and
- Email your instructor/advisor from a U of M email address, and include your full name, student number, course number, and academic work that was missed.

NOTE: It is your responsibility to communicate with your instructors well in advance of tests/exams/assignment due dates, of any ongoing issues, OR immediately once an issue arises that may impact your ability to complete course work.
UM Policies

As a student at the University of Manitoba you have rights and responsibilities. It is important for you to know what you can expect from the University as a student and to understand what the University expects from you. Become familiar with the policies and procedures of the University and the regulations that are specific to your faculty, college or school.

The University of Manitoba (UM) website’s Governing Documents (https://umanitoba.ca/governance/governing-documents) is one important source of information, in particular the Academic and Students sections. The Student Advocacy office can also help you understand policies and procedures; find their information in the UM Learner Supports section below.

Academic Calendar
The Academic Calendar (https://umanitoba.ca/registrar/academic-calendar) is the University’s official publication containing course descriptions, program and graduation requirements, as well as UM and faculty/school-specific rules, regulations and policies. In particular, familiarize yourself with the sections University Policies and Procedures and General Academic Regulations.

Academic Integrity
In addition to reviewing your instructor’s academic integrity policy listed in their syllabus, you are expected to view the General Academic Regulation section within the Academic Calendar (https://umanitoba.ca/registrar/academic-calendar) and specifically read the regulation pertaining to Academic Integrity. Ask your instructor for additional information about demonstrating academic integrity in your academic work, and consult the following UM resources for more information and support:

- Academic Integrity (https://umanitoba.ca/student-supports/academic-supports/academic-integrity)
  - Student Resources (https://umanitoba.ca/student-supports/academic-supports/academic-integrity#resources-to-conduct-academic-work-with-integrity)
  - Academic Misconduct and How to Avoid It (https://umanitoba.ca/student-supports/academic-supports/academic-integrity#academic-misconduct-and-how-to-avoid-it)
- Student Advocacy Office (https://umanitoba.ca/student-supports/academic-supports/student-advocacy)

Copyright
All students are required to respect copyright as per Canada’s Copyright Act. Staff and students play a key role in the University’s copyright compliance as we balance user rights for educational purposes with the rights of content creators from around the world. The Copyright Office (https://umanitoba.ca/copyright/) provides copyright resources and support for all members of the University of Manitoba community.
Grade Appeals
If you have questions about your grades, talk to your instructor. There is a process for term work and final grade appeals. Note that you have the right to access your final examination scripts. See the Registrar’s Office (https://umanitoba.ca/registrar/grades/appeal-grade) for more information including appeal deadline dates and the appeal form.

Intellectual Property
For information about rights and responsibilities regarding intellectual property view the Intellectual Property Policy (https://umanitoba.ca/governance/governing-documents/governing-documents-university-community#intellectual-property)

Program-Specific Regulations
For information on regulations that are specific to your academic program, read the section in the Academic Calendar and on the respective faculty/college/school website (https://umanitoba.ca/academics).

Respectful Work and Learning Environment
The University is committed to a respectful work and learning environment. You have the right to be treated with respect and you are expected to conduct yourself in an appropriate and respectful manner. Policies governing UM community behaviour include:

- Student Discipline (https://umanitoba.ca/governance/governing-documents-students#student-discipline)
- Violent or Threatening Behaviour (https://umanitoba.ca/governance/governing-documents-students#violent-or-threatening-behaviour)

The UM website, Engaging in Respectful Conduct (https://umanitoba.ca/student-supports/respectful-conduct), includes more details about expectations for behaviours related to university activities.

Sexual Violence Policies
The UM has several policies and procedures that deal with the rights and responsibilities of the University community with regards to all forms of sexual violence. For a comprehensive list of policies and associated resources, visit the Sexual Violence Resource Centre’s information page (https://umanitoba.ca/student-supports/sexual-violence-support-and-education/sexual-violence-get-informed). Please note that there are many supports available in addition to these policy documents (see UM Learner Supports).
Voluntary Withdrawal
Voluntary withdrawal (VW) is a way for students to leave a class without academic penalty once the Registration Revision Period has ended. If you opt to voluntarily withdraw from a course, you will not be eligible for a refund and, if applicable, will still be required to pay any outstanding tuition fees for the course. On your transcript, the course you have withdrawn from will be listed; however, “VW” will appear in lieu of a grade. If you do not drop a course before the VW deadline, you will receive a final grade in the course on your transcript.

Please note that there are separate deadlines for dropping a course early in a term during the Registration Revision Period. Dropping a course means you are removing that course from your schedule, will not be charged tuition fees for that course, and the course will not appear on your transcript.

The Registrar’s Office website, Withdraw from a Course, includes more information on the different ways in which you can withdraw from a course and important dates and deadlines to do so.
