

UKRAINIAN CANADIAN HERITAGE STUDIES

What is the study of Ukrainian Canadian Heritage Studies?

The Ukrainian Canadian Heritage Studies program is an interdisciplinary program that is housed within the Centre for Ukrainian Canadian Studies, St. Andrew's College. Canada is a multicultural nation to which people of Ukrainian origin have made a significant contribution. The study of this community, its past and present, provides a general understanding of Ukrainian heritage and its role in Canadian society. In addition to its Canadian focus, the program also examines historical and contemporary issues in Ukraine.

What is unique about Ukrainian Canadian Heritage Studies at the UM?

The Ukrainian Canadian Heritage Studies program is a unique program which focuses on the historical and current significance of Ukrainians in Canada. The program is housed in the Centre for Ukrainian Canadian Studies which is a meeting place for those interested in Canadian Ukrainian culture, politics and history. In conjunction with the Ukrainian Canadian Heritage Studies program, the Centre offers monthly lecture series, hosts researchers and lecturers from Canada and abroad, conducts community based research and offers generous scholarships and monetary awards to students studying in this program.
