When you have completed this course, you will have achieved a sound grasp of the discipline of human geography.

COURSE GOALS

There are three general course goals:

1. Identify how human geography is relevant in today's world, and the way geography is integrated into many facets of the world around you;
2. Discuss contemporary geographical issues through an exploration of cultural, population and movement, linguistic, ethnic, political, and urban geographies;
3. Differentiate between the major types of thematic maps and identify the importance of geographic concepts, including place, region, scale, space, and connection.

COURSE LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Learning objectives and accompanying key terms and topics are available on UM Learn in the “Learning Objectives Table.”

VOLUNTARY WITHDRAWAL (VW) DEADLINE

Notes:

- All final grades are subject to departmental review.
- The grades will be rounded to one decimal point using standard rounding conventions, and the grade cut-offs will be strictly observed.
 - For example, a grade of 69.94 rounds to 69.9 and is a C+; a grade of 69.95 rounds to 70.0 and is a B
- The course grade will be based on the assessments listed above (no other circumstances or assessments will be considered).
- The course is not "graded on a curve".
- You cannot submit additional assignments to improve or "bump" your grade.
- Each midterm/final exam may be written once and the result is final (exams may not be re-written for any reason).
- Grades will not be increased or "bumped" on request unless there is a valid reason such as a calculation error.

MIDTERM & FINAL EXAM INFORMATION

Format

Midterms/final exam are ALL closed-book will be composed of multiple-choice and true/false type questions. The exact number of questions in each midterm/final exam will be specified the week before the assessment. Midterms will likely be approximately 60 questions and the final exam will likely be approximately 125 questions.

Students may be tested on the instructional content including lecture content, corresponding textbook readings as well as any assigned readings, videos, and learning activities.

There will be questions based on the assigned readings from the course textbook (~10-15%)

The midterms and final exam are cumulative (e.g. the final exam will cover all course content).

The chapters covered in this course include chapters 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 10, 12, 13 and 14. You will not be tested on chapters 6, 9, or 11 (as they are not covered in the course content).

It is suggested that you take comprehensive weekly notes on the textbook chapters so you are not trying to learn an entire textbook worth of material in the last week or two before the final exam.

The final exam grades will not be available on UM Learn until after the course grades are posted on Aurora.

Each midterm may be written only once regardless of the outcome. Students are not able to rewrite midterms for any reason. You will not be offered a makeup midterm or have your missed midterm re-weighted to the final exam if you are disappointed with the result (completed midterm results are final).

Midterm/Final Exam Academic Integrity

In all exams, NO unauthorized materials are permitted. Unauthorized materials may include, but are not limited to: dictionaries, notes, digital or paper translators, books, textbooks, cellphones, smart watches, laptops, computers or any device capable of information storage and/or wireless communication.

- Students are not permitted to photograph or record quiz questions for any reason.
- Collaboration with other individuals is considered cheating, and therefore academic misconduct.
- Consult policy regarding Academic Integrity

Group Chats (What's App, Telegram, etc) and Academic Integrity

All group chats should be closed starting a half hour before the exam starts and continuing for 3 hours after the exam ends.

On a midterm day, all group chats should be shut down at 9:30 AM CST, and not re-opened until at least 2:45 PM CST.

They must be closed until at least 3 hours after the midterm ends as some students will be writing at later times due to extenuating circumstances and technical issues.

Once the chat re-opens, students may NOT, under any circumstances, discuss specific questions, as some students may be writing deferred exams at later dates.

Policy Regarding Missed Midterms

If you are unable to complete a midterm due to a medical or compassionate circumstance, you may qualify for a makeup midterm. Medical notes are not required. However, you are required to promptly email your instructor to self-declare that you are unable to write the midterm using the form for Self-Declaration form. See: <https://umanitoba.ca/student-supports/academic-supports/student-advocacy/self-declaration-policy-students>

Before making a self-declaration, read through the information on Academic Fraud available on the University of Manitoba's Academic Integrity Page. It is considered academic fraud (and therefore academic misconduct) to make false claims regarding illness/compassionate reasons to gain an advantage on any course assessments (such as a quiz/test/assignment extension etc.).

To qualify for a makeup quiz, your email must:

1. come from your University of Manitoba email account;
2. be sent to your instructor promptly, ideally prior to the quiz due date, and no later than 48 hours* after the midterm date;
3. include your full name, student number, course number, and date of the assessment you are unable to complete; and
4. attach the completed University of Manitoba self-declaration form for Brief and Temporary Student Absences. **

Our provincial Personal Health Information Act (PHIA) does not require you to provide details of your medical or compassionate circumstance.*

*Failure to inform your instructor promptly (within 48 hours after the missed quiz) will result in a grade of zero (0). Exceptions will only be made for extraordinary circumstances (e.g. you are incapacitated and physically incapable of sending an email).

Makeup midterms must be written within six (6) calendar days of the missed midterm. It is your responsibility to email the instructor and confirm the date and time of the makeup midterm.

Please note that reasonable reasons for missing a test do NOT include: work, vacations (even with relatives), other course work, other tests or quizzes on the same day, etc. If in doubt about what is an appropriate reason for missing a quiz, please ask the instructor by email prior to the quiz date.

The University of Manitoba's self-declaration covers a student for 5 calendar days of absence. If a student misses a midterm and is not able to write a make-up test within 6 calendar days, the student must provide medical/compassionate documentation to support their extended absence.

One (1) self-declaration is accepted, per student, per term, per course. If a student has more than one absence (e.g. misses both midterms), the student will be required to provide documentation for the second (and subsequent) absences.

You will not be offered a makeup midterm or have your missed midterm re-weighted to the final exam if you are disappointed with the result (completed midterm results are final).

Re-weighting of course assessments is not possible without medical/compassionate documentation showing that a student was incapacitated (e.g. hospitalized) for more than 6 days.

Policy Regarding Missed/Deferred Final Exam

If you know in advance that you cannot take the final examination you must fill in a request for a deferred examination with your own faculty office at least 20 days before the exam date.

You may request a deferred examination(s) on the grounds that you unable to write said examination(s) due to: participation in an inter-university, provincial, inter-provincial, national or international scholastic or athletic event; religious obligations; or a medical condition.

To request a deferred examination due to a known condition as listed above, you must file an application normally twenty (20) working days prior to the day of the scheduled examination with the advising office of the faculty, school, or academic unit (including University 1 or Extended Education) in which you are registered.

See Academic Advising

If you are unable to write an examination due to an unexpected illness, you must file an application for a deferred examination with your home faculty and self-declare your illness and/or the reason(s) for the deferral. The application must normally be filed within forty-eight (48) hours of the scheduled date of the missed examination or, in a case where more than one examination was missed, within forty-eight (48) hours of the scheduled date of the last examination missed. Based on the evidence, the Dean or Director shall decide whether the application is approved. Based on your ongoing incapacity or other exceptional circumstances, you may be granted a deferral even if the application has been submitted after the forty-eight (48) hour period.

The Department of Environment and Geography schedules deferred exams for this course once the required paper work has been received from your home faculty.

You will be notified by the Department of Environment and Geography by email (U of M accounts only) when the deferred exam is scheduled.

Deferred examinations will normally take place within 30 working days from the end of the examination series from which the examination was deferred. Writing a deferred examination at your convenience may not be an option. For more information: <http://umanitoba.ca/student/records/finals/682.html>
It is your responsibility to make arrangements for the deferred exam by email.

MIDTERM FEEDBACK

The midterms will be marked and the grades will be available on UM Learn approximately 1 week after writing the midterm.

Multiple-choice and true/false test questions will NOT be posted on UM Learn. Time permitting, questions will be reviewed during lecture (focussing on questions where 40% or less of the class answered correctly), normally within ten (10) days of the midterm date.

Students are permitted to review their midterm if they make an appointment via email to view the midterm within seven (7) days of the in-class review. There will be no other opportunities to review midterm questions.

MASTERINGGEOGRAPHY ASSIGNMENTS

There will be 3 multiple-choice assignments on MasteringGeography throughout the term. Each is worth 3.33% of your final grade, for a total of 10%. These assignments are required and they give you practice answering multiple choice questions and are completed in the MasteringGeography module of UM Learn (NOT on a separate website).

See the Course Schedule for MasteringGeography due dates. Each MasteringGeography assignment is available for at least two weeks prior to the due date. You can start an assignment, answer some questions, and leave it and come back to it later if you wish. Questions are saved as you answer them. You must answer all questions prior to the due date/time to get credit for the assignment questions.

Late assignments will not be accepted and extensions will not be granted, as the assignments are available for a minimum of two weeks. Ensure you plan to COMPLETE them well before the due date/time, as credit is NOT given for questions answered after the due date/time.

For example, if the assignment is due at 11:59 PM and you start the assignment at 10:45 PM on the due date and answer the last 15 questions after midnight, those last 15 questions will be graded zero. You will get credit for the questions you answered before 11:59 PM.

COURSE FORMAT

Lectures

Lectures will be delivered in person daily at the U of M campus. Lectures will not be recorded, and it is up to each student to attend each lecture. In the event of illness, students are required to stay home. Full course notes are provided to all students.

In the event of instructor illness, some lectures may be delivered remotely (via Cisco Webex or Zoom) or pre-recorded PowerPoint lectures may be provided. The course instructor will do everything possible to ensure the course is not disrupted in the event of illness, but some modifications may be necessary.

A “Learning Objectives Table” (LO Table) containing key terms and concepts is provided for each section in the “Weekly Course Content” folder and it is highly recommended that you use this as a guide for note taking. PowerPoint slides will not be provided.

Weekly Time Commitment

There are 150 minutes (2.5 hours) of lecture per week. Students are expected to study for up to 2 hours PER lecture hour (possibly more). Consequently, students may have to study 10 or more hours per week (in addition to the lectures) to keep up with course material. It is unlikely that each week requires that level, but some weeks will take longer than others.

Each week you will need to attend lectures, read the textbook chapter, make notes on the important concepts, and study and learn the definitions. This will take several hours each week, and if you get behind, it makes it difficult to catch up.

Remember to consult the course schedule as it contains all the relevant dates and will help you keep on track.

Studying Course Material

You should take notes of the lectures, any pre-recorded lecture videos, corresponding textbook readings and assigned readings/videos. Use the LO Table as a note-taking guide. Whether you choose to read the textbook chapter before or after the lecture is up to you. When reading the textbook and viewing the lecture material, wherever possible students are encouraged to use the SQRRR strategy detailed in the Course Format and available from the Academic Learning Centre.

Learning Strategy for Students

As far as is possible, set regular time aside for this course and stay with your schedule. Use studying and learning strategies that work for you. If you are uncertain how best to study it is worth noting that, for many students, a useful way to read text content is to employ the SQRRR strategy. This strategy is noted below.

- Survey: acquire an overview of the textbook chapter by focussing on any introductory and concluding comments and by using headings and subheadings as reference points.
- Question: look over the chapter a second time, thinking about what you are reading in greater detail; as you read, question the content by taking notes or marking the text as you choose.
- Read: read in detail; many of us are tempted to do this first, but it is usually a good idea to delay this stage as you acquire a more detailed understanding once you have the larger context that is provided by working through the first two stages.
- Recite: read the key ideas aloud, again asking questions.
- Review: accomplish a final reading to make sure that you have grasped both the key ideas and the needed factual content.

The important thing as you work through this course is that you adopt studying and learning strategies that work for you.

Studying Course Material

You should take notes of the lectures, any pre-recorded lecture videos, corresponding textbook readings and assigned readings/videos. Use the LO Table as a note-taking guide. Whether you choose to read the textbook chapter before or after the lecture is up to you. When reading the textbook and viewing the lecture material, wherever possible students are encouraged to use the SQRRR strategy detailed above and available from the Academic Learning Centre.

In addition, there are study resources located in MasteringGeography. Students can log onto MasteringGeography and select the "Study Area". Each chapter contains a "Chapter Quiz" which provides additional practice answering multiple choice questions. The "Chapter Quiz" questions are not created by me, and I cannot change them. The actual questions may be good, excellent, or not great, depending on the question. However, working through these has helped students practice questions prior to taking a UM Learn quiz.
