This course examines cultural relations and cultural politics from a global historical perspective. We will consider “the cultural fronts” of post-1939 world history. We will inquire into the political, economic, social, and ideological frameworks of cultural production and cultural exchange to work towards understanding the Cold War, national liberation, decolonization, and civil rights/human rights movements. In particular, we critically assess how different nations and societies mobilized culture as they promoted competing notions of democracy, identity, national liberation, and social organization. We focus on the relationship between: (a) cultural producers such as artists, musicians, filmmakers, and athletes; (b) the organisations that fund and promote culture and cultural formations, including governments; (c) the people who consume these products and the societies in which they live; and (d) the global political structures within which cultural products are produced, debated, and circulated. We consider these relationships through the realms of film, sport, literature and art, dance and theatre, and music.

Quiz
The quiz will be short answer format, with a focus on contextualization and discussion of the historical significance of specific events, people, or cultural materials. All answers must be a student’s own work. Memorization or verbatim reproduction of material from on-line or other sources, without citation, is plagiarism. Answers of this type will receive a grade of zero and may be subject to academic discipline (see section on academic integrity below).
Essays
Instructions for essays will be made available and discussed in class. It is the student’s responsibility to acquire the instructions if absent when they are first made available. There are 2 parts required for essay submission. Both are required for essays to be accepted and marked.

a. Original paper that is the student’s own work and that accurately acknowledges all sources of information used in preparation of the paper. Essays must be handed in at the beginning of class on the due date.

b. A brief in-class assignment (completed on the due date of the paper) on the student's paper. Details for this assignment will be made available in class.

Important Note: Since this is a course that meets the University Senate’s W requirement, students must complete all essay assignments with a passing grade to pass the course.

Cite-Right Workshops
These workshops are designed to teach students research techniques and conventions of citation for historical writing. The workshops will include instruction and group work and active participation is a required part of the course.

Annotated Outline
The annotated outline will be the first step in research for essay #2. It involves identifying sources for the paper and explaining the importance of the sources for the research paper. Specific instructions will be provided in class.

Final Exam
Instructions on the format of the final exam and tips on how to prepare for the final exam will be made available in class.

Late Policy
All work is due in class on the date indicated. Late papers will only be accepted in exceptional circumstances. Documentation of medical or other conditions may be required. If you require an extension please contact the instructor prior to the due date. If an extension has been granted, you must still complete Part B (the in-class assignment) on the original due date of the paper. Late work will be penalized by 2% per day (including weekends and holidays) after the due date. All term work must be submitted by the last class for the semester (December 2, 2014).

Evalutative feedback will be provided prior the voluntary withdrawal deadline of November 12, 2014.

Grade Appeals
Students who wish to appeal a grade given for term work must do so within 10 working days after the grade for the term work has been made available to them.

Faculty Regulation on Unreturned Term Work
Unreturned term work will be kept in a secure and confidential location for four (4) months following the end of the course. Uncollected term work will become the property of the Faculty of Arts and will be subject to confidential destruction.

Academic Integrity

• Academic integrity is essential to the learning process, as well as for the value of your degree at the University of Manitoba. During this course, students will be educated on academic conventions necessary to avoid plagiarism and other acts of academic dishonesty. Acts of academic dishonesty will be taken very seriously.

• The University’s regulations on plagiarism, cheating and impersonation can be found in the section on Academic Integrity of the General Academic Regulations in the online Academic Calendar and Catalog and the Faculty of Arts regulation (online at http://umanitoba.ca/faculties/arts/student/student_responsibilities.html). It reads:

The common penalty in Arts for plagiarism on a written assignment is a grade of F on the paper and a final grade of F (DISC) (for Disciplinary Action) for the course. For the most serious acts of plagiarism, such as purchase of an essay and repeat violations, this penalty can also include suspension for a period of up to five (5) years from registration in courses taught in a particular department/program in Arts or from all courses taught in this Faculty.

The Faculty also reserves the right to submit student work that is suspected of being plagiarized to Internet sites designed to detect plagiarism or to other experts for authentication.

The common penalty in Arts for academic dishonesty on a test or examination is F for the paper, F (DISC) for the course, and a one-year suspension from courses acceptable for credit in the Faculty. For more serious acts of academic dishonesty on a test or examination, such as repeat violations, this penalty can also include suspension for a period of up to five years from registration in courses taught in a particular department or program in Arts or from all courses taught in or accepted for credit by this Faculty.
