Office Hours:  Tuesday and Thursday, 9:00-10:00 or by appointment

Course Description
Welcome!  This course will explore aspects of popular culture in the United States from the period 1877 to the present.  Students will learn about changes in American food, entertainment, sport, consumption, music, and art, and consider how developments in leisure reflected and influenced broader changes in politics, gender roles, economics, and family life.

Most class time will be devoted to lectures, with occasional chances for group discussion or interaction.  It is essential to attend the lecture.  Completing the readings alone will not provide all of the background and analysis necessary to get the most out of the course.  Students will also be responsible for reading the assigned material each week. The final exam will cover all materials presented in lectures, films, discussions, and readings.

Rules and Regulations
All written work for this course must be original.  Do not be tempted to “borrow” materials from the internet or other sources without attribution.  If you are using someone else’s ideas or words, you must include a footnote or endnote to show where you got the material.  If something looks suspicious, I will check!  If you cheat, you deny yourself the opportunity to learn and improve your skills.  You also risk your academic future:

The common penalty in Arts for plagiarism on a written assignment is a grade of F on the paper and a final grade of F (DISC) (for Disciplinary Action) for the course. For the most serious acts of plagiarism, such as purchase of an essay and repeat violations, this penalty can also include suspension for a period of up to five (5) years from registration in courses taught in a particular department/program in Arts or from all courses taught in this Faculty.  The Faculty also reserves the right to submit student work that is suspected of being plagiarized to Internet sites designed to detect plagiarism or to other experts for authentication. The common penalty in Arts for academic dishonesty on a test or examination is F for the paper, F (DISC) for the course, and a one-year suspension from courses acceptable for credit in the Faculty.  For more serious acts of academic dishonesty on a test or examination, such as repeat violations, this penalty can also include suspension for a period of up to five years from registration in courses taught in a particular department or program in Arts or from all courses taught in or accepted for credit by this Faculty.

All assignments should be typed and double spaced, using a 12-point font.  Further details about written assignments will be provided in class.
Since this is a course that meets the University Senate's W requirement, students must pass the requirement for written English in order to pass the course.
You will be provided with some evaluation before the Voluntary Withdrawal date of January 18, 2019.

Pay close attention to due dates. Extensions will only be granted in exceptional circumstances, and only if you contact the professor directly before an assignment is due. Papers are due in class on the date indicated. Late papers will be penalized 2.5% per day. Students who wish to appeal a grade given for term work must do so within 10 working days after the grade for the term work has been made available to them. Uncollected term work will become the property of the Faculty of Arts and will be subject to confidential destruction.

Student Resources

Academic Resources
You have access to several important resources to help you navigate your classes and university life more generally. There are writing tutors available to help you with your essays through the Academic Learning Centre (ALC): http://umanitoba.ca/student/academiclearning/. The History department will also make a writing tutor available exclusively to History students in the department on one day a week. The tutor’s schedule and contact information to be updated.

The ALC page also has resources to help you with study skills, organization, as well as assistance for students using English as an Additional Language (EAL). Other issues, including accessibility services, workshops, and tips about academic integrity are addressed at the Student Advocacy Services webpage (http://umanitoba.ca/student/resource/student_advocacy/).

All of the above services can also be accessed under the heading of Student Resources on the Student Affairs website: http://umanitoba.ca/student/studentlife/index.html.

History students can also take advantage of the huge range of academic materials (including primary and secondary sources, as well as pages to help with writing and referencing) made available by the History subject librarian, tailored just for you! They are available on the Libraries page at this link: http://libguides.lib.umanitoba.ca/history. Students who need research assistance can also schedule an appointment with a librarian through the website.

Student Counseling Centre
Contact SCC if you are concerned about any aspect of your mental health, including anxiety, stress, or depression, or for help with relationships or other life concerns. SCC offers crisis services as well as counseling. http://umanitoba.ca/student/counselling/index.html

Student Support Case Management
Contact the Student Support Case Management team if you are concerned about yourself or another student and don’t know where to turn. SSCM helps connect students with on and off campus resources, provides safety planning, and offers other supports, including consultation, educational workshops, and referral to the STATIS threat assessment team. http://umanitoba.ca/student/case-manager/index.html

University Health Service
Contact UHS for any medical concerns, including mental health problems. UHS offers a full range of medical services to students, including psychiatric consultation. http://umanitoba.ca/student/health/

Student Advocacy
Contact Student Advocacy if you want to know more about your rights and responsibilities as a student, have questions about policies and procedures, and/or want support in dealing with academic or discipline concerns. http://umanitoba.ca/student/advocacy

UM History Student Association (UMHiSA)
UMHiSA is a history undergraduate student run organization that seeks to establish a sense of community for students studying all facets of history, and provide support for them in their academic career. Students interested in fun times, spirited debate, new opportunities, a community of like-minded students, or all of the above, check out UMHiSA on our Instagram account www.instagram.com/umhisa_undergrad/ or emailing umhisau@gmail.com.
