COVID-19 (coronavirus) updates

These are uncertain times for all of us, but as your employer, your alma mater, or your current place of study, the University of Manitoba is committed to providing as much support and certainty as we can.

We have had to make some very difficult decisions in a very short period of time, and I thank everyone for your understanding as we continue to take responsible and informed action. This is a constantly evolving situation. Please continue to remain updated by checking on the following link
