Oleg Šenšin will present a lecture entitled: Historical Imagery in Ukrainian Education System

The starting point of this presentation is a suggestion that history education as a device of indoctrination designed for distribution of loyalty rituals among the tomorrow's citizens. Adopting the concept of historical imagery, we attempt to analyze how a complex historical causality is being converted into understandable images and metaphors with a clear normative message.

Oleg Sensin is a PhD student in the Faculty of Social Sciences, Charles University In Prague. His scientific interests lie in nation-building, memory policy and history education.
