COURSE DESCRIPTION: An overview of the linkages between human health and environmental issues. The course discusses the nature of environmental hazards, human exposure and health outcomes. Major environmental and human health issues such as air pollution, hazardous substances, endocrine disruptors and products in the home are covered.

General Course Information

Environment and Health relates to the human health impacts from toxins, pollution, and other environmental factors. This course focuses on the toxins and pollutants in our consumer goods, food, air and water, primarily of human origin.

Course Goals

The goals of this course are to facilitate an understanding of the principles of human health impacts related to contaminants in our environment, the main sources of these contaminants, and basic control measures.

Intended Learning Outcomes

Students will be able to discuss the principles of toxicity testing; to describe the human health outcomes as a result of contaminants of interest; to discuss the sources and control measures of environmental contaminants; to assess environmental health hazards using field measurements, compare results to allowable levels, and draw conclusions from the findings.

Using Copyrighted Material

Please respect copyright. We will use copyrighted content in this course. Course Technology

IN THE CLASSROOM: It is the general University of Manitoba policy that all technology resources are to be used in a responsible, efficient, ethical and legal manner. The student can use all technology in classroom setting only for educational purposes approved by instructor and/or the University of Manitoba Disability Services. Student should not participate in personal direct electronic messaging / posting activities (e-mail, texting, video or voice chat, wikis, blogs, social networking (e.g. Facebook) online and offline “gaming” during scheduled class time. If student is on call (emergency) the student should switch his/her cell phone on vibrate mode and leave the classroom before using it. (©S Kondrashov. Used with permission)

COURSE RESOURCES: Course notes, detailed instruction on assignments and general course communications are posted on UM Learn. All assignments unless otherwise noted are submitted on UM Learn.

STUDENT RESOURCES: The Centre for Advancement of Teaching and Learning has instructional videos on accessing and contributing to wikis and blogs that may be useful.

Class Communication

The University requires all students to activate an official University email account. For full details of the Electronic Communication with Students please visit:
http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/media/Electronic Communication with Students Policy - 2014_06_05.pdf

Please note that all communication between myself and you as a student must comply with the electronic communication with student policy (http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/governing_documents/community/electronic_communication_with_students_policy.html). You are required to obtain and use your U of M email account for all communication between yourself and the university.

Expectations: Student

ATTEND CLASS: The class is intended to be not just one-way delivery of information but rather a facilitated dialogue around materials presented. For this reason, your attendance in class is required so that you can be a part of the conversation and contribute your knowledge, experiences and opinions. As such, you are expected to be in attendance both physically and mentally.

Students are expected to attend all classes and may be debarred from the course, resulting in a failing grade if more than 2 weeks (4 classes) are missed without adequate medical documentation or compassionate grounds. Students should refer to the General Academic Regulations and Requirements, Attendance at Class and Debarment, found in the University of Manitoba General Calendar.

VOLUNTARY WITHDRAWAL DATE: November 18th, 2016

ACT WITH PROFESSIONALISM: In the University setting, we are in professional relationships. These relationships are characterized by demonstrated respect between all parties, students and instructors, and students and other students. This includes professional and respectful language, tone of voice and demeanour. This is an excellent time to practice the professionalism required in the workforce, especially in your e-mail and in-person communications.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY: Please refer to “Schedule A” policies and resources for students as posted on UM Learn. In addition, please note that;

- (i) group projects are subject to the rules of academic dishonesty;
- (ii) group members must ensure that a group project adheres to the principles of academic integrity;
- (iii) if a group member is not acting with academic integrity or not performing his or her duties as agreed, please advise the Instructor as soon as possible to resolve any potential problems as early as possible;
- (iv) collaboration between students is encouraged for understanding material, proof-reading a peer’s work, making suggestions on approach, etc.; however,
- (v) all work is to be completed independently unless otherwise specified.

Students Accessibility Services

Student Accessibility Services (SAS)

If you are a student with a disability, please contact SAS for academic accommodation supports and services such as note-taking, interpreting, assistive technology and exam accommodations. Students who have, or think they may have, a disability (e.g. mental illness, learning, medical, hearing, injury-related, visual) are invited to contact SAS to arrange a confidential consultation.

Expectations: Instructor

I approach teaching as a journey and it is my job to bring my students along on this journey of discovery. I attempt to spark passion for knowledge, critical thinking and the environment. Students learn and I learn as we take this journey together.

You can expect classes with traditional lecture styles, the use of audio visual materials, and multiple methods of engaging students in the material, eliciting discussion and provoking thought. Every contribution is valued, please bring yours.

I see it as my job to bring to you the various issues associated with the discipline, to show you the foundational theories, the emerging practices and examples from the real-world. It is up to you to engage and participate to get the most out of your education.
