“Just living is not enough... one must have sunshine, freedom, and a little flower.”
Hans Christian Andersen

Course Description

Cross-culturally and for centuries, humans have recognized the important connection between their geography (both built and natural environments) and their health and wellbeing.

This course explores how human-environment relations (a core concept in human geography) influence our mental, emotional, and physical health. The overarching theme is that the places where we live, work and play, and how we relate to them, are entwined with our health and wellbeing in often profound and surprising ways.

This course draws on current research in cultural/health geography, emotional geographies, therapeutic landscapes, ecological grief/loss, sacred spaces, and the geography of mental health and wellbeing. It also draws on research in cognate areas of scholarship including: architecture and design, cultural studies, indigenous studies, environmental psychology, and health sociology.
Course Learning Objectives

On successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Define fundamental concepts such as: wellbeing, ecological grief/loss and therapeutic landscapes
- Identify linkages between environmental/climate change and human health and wellbeing
- Share a greater awareness of landscape as therapeutic / salutogenic
- Explain the significance of contact with nature/exposure to the natural environment for wellbeing, and how loss of contact with/degradation of environment may elicit feelings of loss
- Explain the importance of urban/building design to human physical and mental health
- Share an increased awareness of mental health and wellness issues within the university/academy
- Appreciate the interplay between the built environment, social processes, and individual experience of wellbeing
- Draw on improved skills in critical thinking, independent research, and in communication

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Academic Dishonesty: Plagiarism and Cheating
Academic dishonesty is an offense to the goals and purposes of a university education, and is taken very seriously. It is strongly recommended that students review the online Academic Integrity and Student Conduct Tutorials http://umanitoba.ca/student/resource/student_advocacy/AI-and-Student-Conduct-Tutorials.html

The tutorials will refresh your knowledge of how to stay on the right side of Academic Integrity. Of particular import to this course is the correct use of sources and citation of resources used in writing research papers/essays. This includes the use of figures and images in both written work and in media such as PowerPoint presentations.

Penalties for engaging in academic dishonesty can include F-grades on assignments or the course, suspension for a period of up to five years from registration in courses taught in a particular department or from all courses taught in a Faculty. Faculty members have the right to submit student work that is suspected of being plagiarized to programs and sites designed to detect plagiarism.

Voluntary Withdrawal (VW) Date: This is the last date, each term, for the withdrawal from a course without academic penalty. The VW date is the 48th class day. A new Voluntary Withdrawal Policy is now in effect which may influence your choice to VW a course or not. You are encouraged to review these policies: http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/media/Voluntary_Withdrawal_Policy_-_2016_09_01.pdf and to speak to your instructor and/or an academic advisor for any needed clarification.

Course Technology and Electronic Devices

As this course requires access to UMLearn, students are expected to have a laptop or other computer and reliable Internet service, to access course information as posted to the course UMLearn site. Students are allowed to bring laptops into the classroom for note taking, however the instructor reserves the right to withdraw this privilege if students are found to be off task (e.g., surfing the Net, catching up on Snapchat etc.). Cellphones are to be silenced/off during class time. Students who do not do so may be asked to leave the room.

Recording of classes is generally not permitted, unless this is an approved accommodation for a student registered with Student Accessibility Services (see below).

Student Accessibility Services (SAS) and Accommodations

Students with any form of disability are strongly encouraged to register with and use the services offered by SAS. As your instructor, I am always available to you to discuss implementation of accommodations as recommended by SAS.

Respectful Workplace and Learning Environment (RWLE) Policy

The University of Manitoba supports equity, diversity and the dignity of all people, and promotes equity in all learning programs, in employment and in the conduct of the affairs of the University. Every individual has the right to participate, learn, and work in an environment that promotes equal opportunities and prohibits discriminatory practices. The University is committed to an inclusive and respectful work and learning environment, free from: a) discrimination or harassment as prohibited by the Manitoba Human Rights Code; b) sexual harassment; and c) personal harassment. As members of this University community, we all share in the responsibility of establishing and maintaining a climate of respect. As a faculty member, it is my duty to address any situations in which respect is lacking. For additional information please review the RWLE policy: http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/media/Respectful_Work_and_Learning_Environment_RWLE_Policy_-_2009_01_27.pdf http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/governing_documents/community/230.html

University Support Offices and Policies

Writing and Learning Support

The Academic Learning Centre (ALC) offers services that may be helpful to you throughout your academic program. Through the ALC, you can meet with a learning specialist to discuss concerns such as time management, learning strategies, and test-taking strategies. The ALC also offers peer supported study groups called Supplemental Instruction (SI) for certain courses that students have typically found difficult. In these study groups, students have opportunities to ask questions, compare notes, discuss content, solve practice problems, and develop new study strategies in a group-learning format.

You can also meet one-to-one with a writing tutor who can give you feedback at any stage of the writing process, whether you are just beginning to work on a written assignment or already have a draft. If you are interested in meeting with a writing tutor, reserve your appointment two to three days in advance of the time you would like to meet. Also, plan to meet with a writing tutor a few days before your paper is due so that you have time to work with the tutor’s feedback.

These Academic Learning Centre services are free for U of M students. For more information, please visit the Academic Learning Centre website at: http://umanitoba.ca/student/academiclearning/

You can also contact the Academic Learning Centre by calling 204-480-1481 or by visiting 201 Tier Building.

University of Manitoba Libraries (UML)
As the primary contact for all research needs, your liaison librarian can play a vital role when completing academic papers and assignments. Liaisons can answer questions about managing citations, or locating appropriate resources, and will address any other concerns you may have, regarding the research process. Liaisons can be contacted by email or phone, and are also available to meet with you in person.

A complete list of liaison librarians can be found by subject: http://bit.ly/WcEbA1 or name: http://bit.ly/1UjbB4. In addition, general library assistance is provided in person at 19 University Libraries, located on both the Fort Garry and Bannatyne campuses, as well as in many Winnipeg hospitals. For a listing of all libraries, please consult the following: http://bit.ly/1sXe6RA. When working remotely, students can also receive help online, via the Ask-a-Librarian chat found on the Libraries' homepage: www.umanitoba.ca/libraries.

University Policies and Important Information
Your rights and responsibilities: As a student of the University of Manitoba you have rights and responsibilities. It is important for you to know what you can expect from the University as a student and to understand what the University expects from you. Become familiar with the policies and procedures of the University and the regulations that are specific to your faculty, college or school.
The Academic Calendar http://umanitoba.ca/student/records/academiccalendar.html is one important source of information. View the sections University Policies and Procedures and General Academic Regulations. While all of the information contained in these two sections is important, the following information is highlighted.
• If you have questions about your grades, talk to your instructor. There is a process for term work and final grade appeals. Note that you have the right to access your final examination scripts. See the Registrar’s Office website for more information including appeal deadline dates and the appeal form http://umanitoba.ca/registrar/
• You are expected to view the General Academic Regulation section within the Academic Calendar and specifically read the Academic Integrity regulation. Consult the course syllabus or ask your instructor for additional information about demonstrating academic integrity in your academic work. Visit the Academic Integrity Site for tools and support http://umanitoba.ca/academicintegrity/ View the Student Academic Misconduct procedure for more information.
• The University is committed to a respectful work and learning environment. You have the right to be treated with respect and you are expected conduct yourself in an appropriate respectful manner. Policies governing behavior include:
  Student Discipline http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/governing_documents/students/student_discipline.html and,
  Violent or Threatening Behaviour http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/governing_documents/community/669.html
• If you experience Sexual Assault or know a member of the University community who has, it is important to know there is a policy that provides information about the supports available to those who disclose and outlines a process for reporting. The Sexual Assault policy may be found at: http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/governing_documents/community/230.html More information and resources can be found by reviewing the Sexual Assault site http://umanitoba.ca/student/sexual-assault/
• For information about rights and responsibilities regarding Intellectual Property view the policy http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/media/Intellectual_Property_Policy_-_2013_10_01.pdf For information on regulations that are specific to your academic program, read the section in the Academic Calendar and on the respective faculty/college/school web site http://umanitoba.ca/faculties/ Contact an Academic Advisor within our faculty/college or school for questions about your academic program and regulations http://umanitoba.ca/academic-advisors/
