

Table of Contents

List of Illustrations and Maps

Acknowledgements

Introduction

Karl S. Hele

1. The Robinson Treaties: A Brief Contextualization
Karl S. Hele
2. Ojibwa Harvesting Rights and Family Hunting Territories: Rethinking Treaty Boundaries
David Calverley
3. “We hardly have any idea of such bargains”: Teme-Augama Anishnabai Land Rights and the Robinson-Huron Treaty of 1850
David T. McNab
4. “Is it marked in the Bible, that the English and American should draw a line and do what so he pleases with the natives?”: The 1850 Treaty as an International Document
Karl S. Hele
5. Internal and External Factors Leading to the Reduction of the Robinson Treaties Indian Reserves 1820s–1870s
Rhonda Telford
6. “In all Cases Where the Term Miles Occurs the Indians Intended Leagues: the Only Mode of Measurement Known to the Indians”: The Robinson-Huron Treaty of 1850, Leagues and Miles, and the Shawanaga and the Naiscoutaing Reserves
David T. McNab
7. “Extravagant Claims and Extraordinary Demands”: The Robinson Treaties and the Struggle for Aboriginal Rights to Water in Ontario to 1900
Karen J. Travers
8. Atikameksheng Anishnawbek/Whitefish Lake: Glimpses of Three Generations under the Robinson-Huron Treaty, 1850s–1920s.
Peter Krats
9. The Hudson’s Bay Company at Fort La Cloche: How the Company Took the Land from the Anishnawbek
Victor Lytwyn

10. Spatializing History: The Cybercartographic Atlas of the Lake Huron Treaty Process
Stephanie Pyne
11. Decolonizing the Emotions? Affective Challenges in Theatre Re-Membering Indigenous Claims to Land
Margot Francis

Appendix 1

Shingwauk's Statement to Governor General in 1849

Appendix 2

"The Indians on Lakes Huron and Superior: Proceedings of the Government Commissioners and the Indians in Councils" (From a Correspondent)
British Colonist (Toronto newspaper), 16 November., 1849

Appendix 3

Robinson-Superior Treaty, 1850

Appendix 4

Robinson-Huron Treaty, 1850

Appendix 5

Robinson's Treaty Commission Report

Appendix 6

The Anishinabeg Petition of 17 August 1851