

MOT Bona Fide Academic Requirement Statements

Rationale for Bona Fide Academic Requirements (BFARs) - All of the BFARs listed in this table are considered a requirement for occupational therapy practice as established through the Canadian Association of Occupational Therapists document – Profile of Occupational Therapy Practice in Canada (2012) and the Association of Canadian Occupational Therapy Regulatory Organizations - Essential Competencies of Practice for Occupational Therapists in Canada (2011). The Master of Occupational Therapy program is accredited by the Canadian Association of Occupational Therapists Academic Credentialing Council. The Profile of Occupational Therapy Practice in Canada serves as a guiding document for program accreditation. The College of Occupational Therapists of Manitoba, a member of the Association of Canadian Occupational Therapy Regulatory Organizations, registers occupational therapists in Manitoba who meet established education and practice standards as outlined in the Essential Competencies of Practice for Occupational Therapists in Canada.

Cognition - The cognition category includes: knowledge; problem solving; decision making; critical thinking; application; analysis; etc.
