FACULTY OF LAW 1998-1999

UNIVERSITY OF MANITOBA
WINNIPEG, MANITOBA

MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

E. Arthur Braíd, C.M., Q.C.

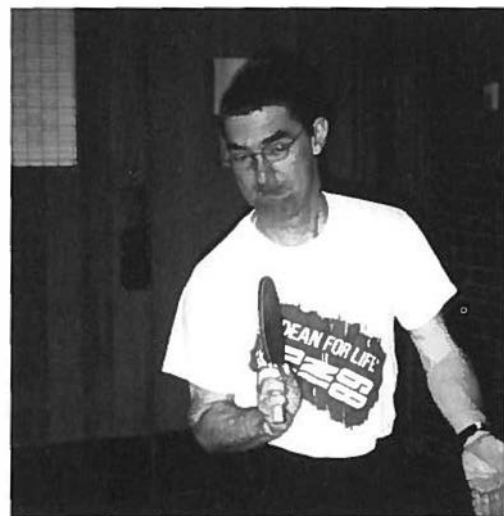

As I write this Dean's Message, I am aware that I have but 3 months to go until I complete my 5-year term as Dean of the Faculty and until I have completed 35 years as a member of the faculty.

The Class of 1999 will be the last graduating class of this millennium and will be the first class to be Called to the Bar in the next millennium. As I am nearing the end of my career, the members of the Class of 1999 are just beginning theirs. I know that we have equipped our graduates with all the prerequisites to take on any of the challenges that they may face over the years to come. This graduating class, like the others, will produce outstanding leaders in the law, locally, nationally and indeed internationally. When graduates read this message 40 years from now, they will be able to look back over the Class and see how successful their classmates have been. My words here will have a Nostradamus-like quality to them; however, I cannot claim such prescient powers. The quality of this graduating class is so clearly first-rate that it is inevitable that they will succeed -- Robson Hall has only given them a head start.

Class of 99 Awards

The Casey Chisick (I'm a Legend in My Own Mind) Memorial Award

- It's tempting to award this to Professional Candidate Chisick, but we're gonna call a 3-way tie: Mike Choiselat, Don Bowes, and Mark Adkins.

The 1999 Grad Most Likely to be Disbarred in 1999

- Mark Adkins

The 1999 Most Fertile Law Student Award

- Elmer Gomes

The 1999 Grad Most Likely to Pretend He Graduated from U of T

- Rick Fedorowicz, who already says he didn't "really" graduate from the UofM and that his Jets jersey is a Leafs jersey in drag.

The 1999 Grad Most Likely to Build Her Own Law Firm

- Amy Ruff

CHILDREN'S CHRISTMAS PARTY

On December 3rd, 1998, the students of Fort Rouge Elementary School received some holiday cheer a little early. Thanks to the overwhelming response from volunteers and contributors, the law students at U of M were able to throw a holiday party for 133 deserving kids surpassing even the organizers' expectations!

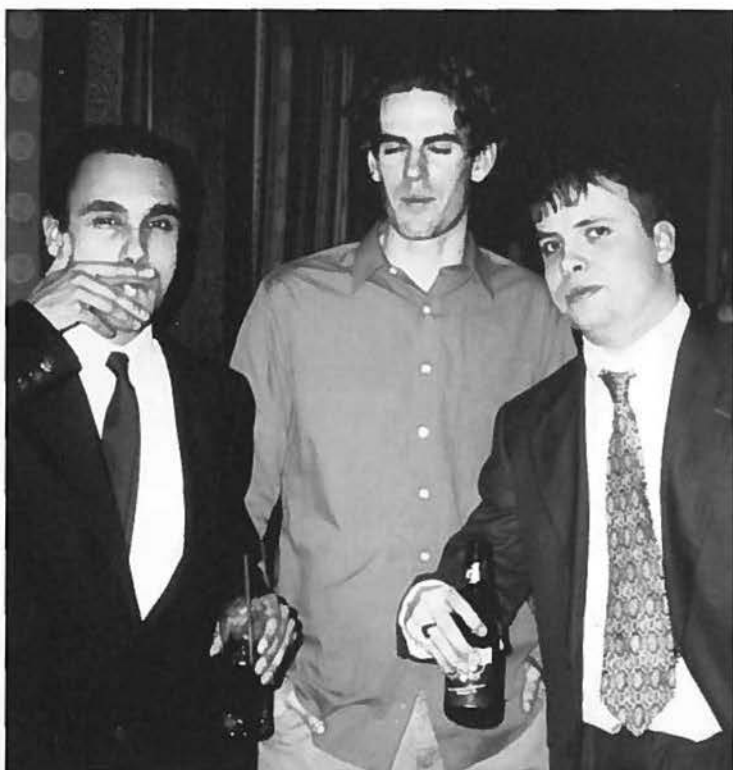

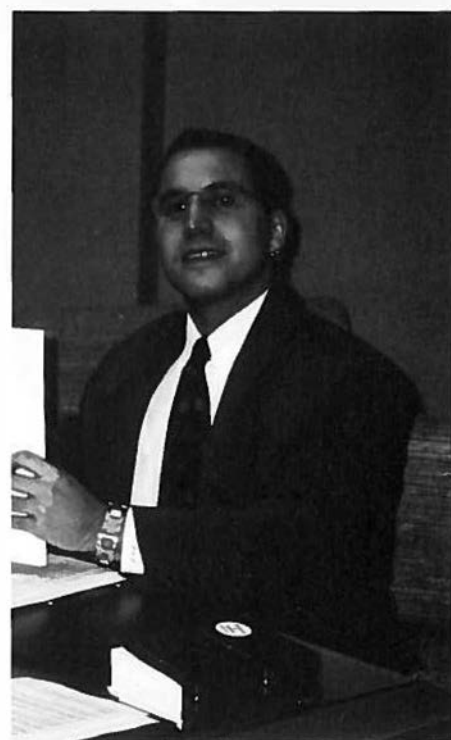

ADVOCACY

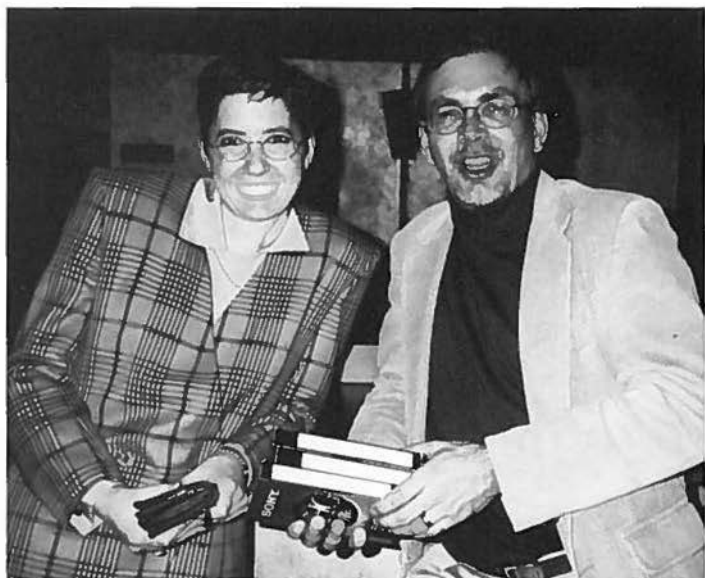

FIRST YEAR MOTIONS

2ND YEAR TRIALS AND APPEALS

WESTERN CANADA MOOT

Shandra Bresoline and Marnie McDonald

The faculty of law was very well represented by Shandra Bresoline and Marnie McDonald. They represented the accused, who was charged with murder. His defence was alibi. Our theory of the case was simple: "He wasn't there." Both Shandra and Marnie repeated this theme throughout the trial. They put in a wonderful trial. Marnie used diagrams to make her point in the closing and that was particularly effective for the jury - but not for the judge, who was a traditionalist [other words do come to mind]. In the end Shandra and Marnie were runner-up in the competition. This was good enough to get them to the national trial moot - The Sopinka Cup - in Ottawa.

SOPINKA CUP NATIONAL

Shandra Bresoline and Marnie McDonald

The first annual Sopinka Cup Trial Moot was held in Ottawa. Eight teams participated: three from the West, two from Ontario, two from the Maritimes and one from Quebec. The Western Canada teams were selected from the Western Canada Moot and the Ontario teams were selected from the Arnup Cup Competition. The same problem was used as for the Western. This time the teams switched sides. We now acted for the Crown. Shandra and Marnie put in a wonderful trial. They made a case out of nothing and following Marnie's closing the consensus in the jury was that the accused, in the words of Justice Chadwick "was going down". In the reception held at the Supreme Court of Canada following the Friday trials, Madam Justice McLachlin when introduced to Marnie said, "You are one of the women from Manitoba who put in the great trial that I've heard so much about." At the end of the day the clear view was that the winner of the competition was either us or the University of Toronto, who acted for the defence. We didn't win, however, we did take home two of the four individual awards: Shandra for best Opening Address and Marnie for best Closing Address. They both received copies of Justice Sopinka's text on evidence. The "women from Manitoba" did us proud.

Carrigan Cup 1999

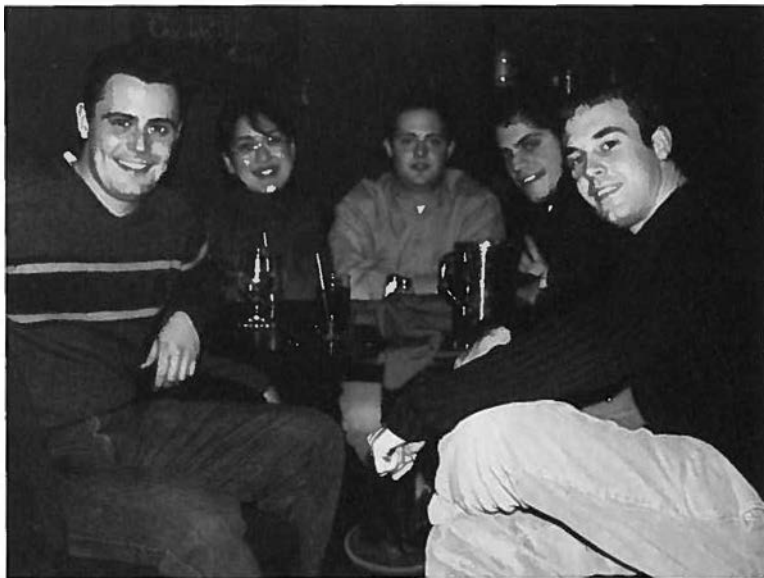

Stacy Cawley, Colin Grierson, Deborah Schween, Trina Lichkowski, Tamara Vrecko, Michel Smith, Ross McFayden, Cary Clark

Finalists of the Solomon Greenberg went to the University of North Dakota School of Law to compete in the Carrigan Cup. Stacy Cawley was the Solomon Greenberg winner in 1999 and Michael Smith was the runner-up. Both will represent Robson Hall in the Western Canada Moot Trial Competition next year.

Phillip C. Jessup 1999

Mark Adkins, Monina Padilla, Shane McGurk, Jamie Mercury, & Glenn Kennedy

After several months of reviewing the 1999 Jessup problem, this year's team soon realized that the seemingly brief 25 page factums we had to write involved a little more work than your average third year perspective paper. Yes, it was a task that literally consumed a good portion of our year.

After four months of eloquent procrastination, we finally got to work. We worked days. We worked nights. We worked weekends. We worked New Years Day. Then Mark showed up and everything started slowing down again. As the deadline moved closer, the most vital issue crystallized for the team: "Y'know, maybe we should start writing something."

Eventually we had it out. The bulk of our memorial was there. So we hunted down Schwartz to proofread it. Over pizza and beer he offered helpful criticism such as "Eh?" "What?" "Who the hell are Cahn and Schimmel?" and most ingeniously for Shane: "No, no, no, no, no, no, No, No."

So we mailed it. Professor Schwartz then gave us a single piece of advice for the oral submissions that would haunt our minds for the coming month: "WIN!" With that, we were off.

to Halifax where the team performed remarkably well. Highlights of the oral performances included Mark's remarkable manipulation of the agreed statement of facts, Shane's impeachment of opposing counsel from Dalhousie and Glenn, who referred to a female head justice as "Mr. President." The most informative feedback was provided by that same judge who found Mr. Kennedy to be "confident, borderline arrogant. But it worked!"

Even though the team didn't win any prizes, not even "most honest oralist" the trip was a success. We won three and lost only once. The team would like to thank all of those kind souls who gave up hours of their time to hear us rehearse our arguments in preparation for the trip and especially Professor Schwartz, whose humour and wit none of us could ever forget.

Mark Adkins

How did a future pin-up rock star end up in law? However it happened we were lucky to have him. Mark showed us that you can still excel at law school & have a life. He competed for the school in the Solomon Greenberg trials, the Jessup moot and with his friends for the coveted top spot. Now he's off to battle the corporate giants at Tory Tory. His coffee house skits serenaded us, amused us and in the end "bruised a few egos." That's ok, next year Mark we'll be singing songs about you.

Holly Akin

A.K.A. Little Holly and fearless leader of Holly's Bitches, Holly will be remembered for her unique laugh and generosity. (She read every article for PTP so we could all get A's will her outline.) At Robson Holly organized parties for needy kids and stuffed envelopes as OOP Articing Chair. With her sweetness and killer smile, unsurprisingly Holly had many admirers at Robson as well as a security guard who spotted her in a french maid outfit at the Halloween Social. Always remember to check the personals, Holly!

Dayna Anderson

Dayna, three years of checker challenges, full contact ping pong and killer krokanole. We can't forget the fish funerals and shedding newts. Dayna is best known for leading her classmates into revolt at the breaks (Let's not go back to class!), when she went to class at all. Was there education involved? She still can't go to the bathroom without an entourage (every Diva needs one). Good Luck at Buchwald.

Naomi Andrew

Known for the creativity of her "tales", Naomi was a popular fixture at Robson Hall Famous for dinners and sleep overs, everyone enjoyed the time spent in Naomi's cozy pad. Many found Naomi a little too bright-eyed and bushy-tailed in the a.m., and she had to be chastised on a number of occasions for her early morning phone calls. Naomi was a good friend to many because of her sunny disposition and willingness to provide free meals. Her whimsical musings will be sorely missed by all. All the best with Taylor McCaffrey.

Greg Banks

The exceedingly manly presence of Gregory W. Banks will be sorely missed within the confines of Robson Hall. One wonders how much better the female contingent of the class of 1999 would've done had the throbbing virile spectre of the Sudbury Stud not been present to penetrate their thoughts, and excite their passions. The loss of your dry wit and skewed sense of reality will leave a gaping hole in the lives of those who've endured the last 3 years with you. Good luck in T.O. buddy, you're gonna need it.

Robert Barteaux

Matt's legal skills are second only to his thespian abilities demonstrated at coffee house where "Rage" thrilled and captivated the audience with the Exam Stress Contemporary Dance (see painting). Never at a loss for a witty comment or a golden nugget of wisdom Matt will often be remembered for losing a fight against his jacket at C.V.'s wedding social, 1st year. Good Luck in your Masters Matt.

Jason P. Beyette

He chooses his words wisely, but what set Jason apart from the other top students is his secret weapon: chocolate trifle. Best consumed with a variety (or copious amount) of wine, Jason makes a mean dessert. You'll find him articling at home in Dauphin next year . . . if he's not on the golf course or the lake. Call him up for info on oak trees, C.P. Rail or poor little Dianne Tino.

Marla Billinghamurst

Until the threat of Barney's affidavit, Marla managed to get through Law School without ever reading a case. Although never in the library, you could always find Marla in any one of Schwartz's classes, which makes us wonder??? IN 3rd year Marla found her true calling when she became a "Sweeping Beauty". In spite of falling down every time she throws the rock, Marla's now pursuing her dreams of joining the pro curling tour. Move over Jen! Thanks for your notes Marla, without them many of us would still be in 1st year.

Katherine Boulet

Kathy began her law school career with the strong and focused goal of becoming a Crown prosecutor. Three years later, after the mind-altering experience of law school, she's taken up the cause of the defence bar. What have they done to her?!? She had given us her hearty laugh, her views of life and left us all better for it. Good luck with all your endeavors, you'll be great on either side of the courtroom.

Don Bowes

This Transcona guy became one of the top of the class. However, he never forgot his roots. His appreciation for the visual arts meant that he spent many nights at class establishments such as Teasers. Don will never be accused of being dishonest, just ask the interview team at Taylor. (We're all proud that you overcame your addiction to gambling). Drinking is different matter - whether it be beer of pots of coffee. Always the life of the party his perverse cackle will be remembered. Good luck at Fillmore!

Shandra Bresoline

There once was a woman from Selkirk. When you mention litigation her ears perk. Conquering Westerns and Nationals, always smiling and fashionable. Brent and Jason still find her library passion berserk. Shandra is known to be vivacious, hard working and a loyal friend. We'll remember solving world issues over tea or a Rickards. - what did you do with the watch? We wish you all the best at Aikins. You'll be a success without a doubt.

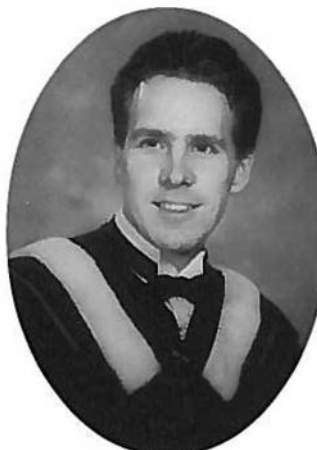

Jodi Broeska

In first year when the rest of us waited until after the legal systems exam to shoot their "baby bottles in the bag", Jodi had her's for breakfast. She had the right idea, and she still has the right idea. Her sarcastic wit will be missed by the back row boys she kept in line. Our lake girl is moving to the big T.O., but we can take comfort because our Martha Stewart's heart and home will always be open.

Jeff Brunner

Fueled on disco and a perennial dean's lister, Brunner will be remembered by saturating his outlines on all first years! From the dizzying heights of the curling elite, to the spotlight at coffee-house, it was hard not to run into Brunner. Good luck at McLeod/Dixon in Calgary and try not to compromise your uncompromising environmental values representing rich and heartless oil and mining companies.

Jonathon Burke Congratulations Jon!

Lorie Chambers

All the best Lorie!

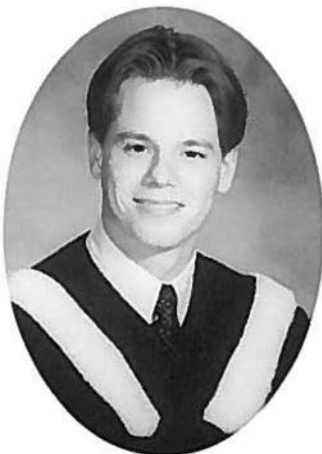

Daniel Chaput

Daniel came into our law school with a boyish charm, smooth baby face and an aura of innocence around him. He leaves us with his young looks still intact. But the innocence having been tainted by his love of criminal law. In September of 1999 he will be "tying the knot" with his lovely fiancée Lisa. Although he has not decided where he will be practicing yet, we can be pretty sure that in about thirty years people will be marveling about the famous "babyface" criminal lawyer.

Mike Choiselat

A.K.A. "The Khaki kid" was the strong silent type. It remains a mystery how this little blond boy managed to evade being sold into white slavery, despite his classmates best efforts. Mike participated in a wide variety of intramural sports (much to the dismay of his teammates) and was always willing to serve beer at beer bashes (doubtless for the glamour). Known for his exacting standards when it comes to women, Mike will doubtless never marry & live with 15 cats. Best of luck with T.D.S. (Don't get disbarred!)

Derek Coggan

A.K.A. Cags, known for his hockey and curling skills, rather than his class attendance, was always a welcome addition to Robson Hall sports' teams. When not reffing a hockey game or recovering from a hangover, Cags was always sought after for any social (drinking) occasion because of his ready smile and easy laugh. CAGS swears that he has maintained his youthful appearance by his habit of bathing in ice'filled bathtubs. His bright, happy-go-lucky demeanor will be missed at Robson. Good luck articling with the A.G.

Jennifer Craig

Robson Hall's dancing queen first became known for her hair. She was a refreshing sight for those who entered law school fearful of the conservative law school image. She soon after became know for her sharp wit, prankster nature, and the fact that she was totally on the ball. The moral: Don't be fooled by green eyebrows Jen will undoubtedly be a success; she never loses an argument. But no matter how successful, her home will always be open for Rummoli, just bring toonies and lots of wine. Good Luck at D'Arcy and Deacon.

Brent Czarnecki

In first year you knew him as the guy at the wearing the cap . . . who was always late. On the baseball diamond we learned he could speak. After the game we learned his house was the place to be for beers and bbq . . . and he had homemade perogies in the freezer. There's more to Brent than baseball and bbq's. He was bravely involved in Legal Aid and Shandra's neurotic researching. He's a man willing to accept a challenge. Brent will article at Manitoba Hydro next year, but we hope he'll keep up with baseball and bbq.

Adeline Degner

Good luck Adeline!

Michael Durocher

Congratulations Michael!

Marcia Dzik

Many people will see her picture and not recognize Marcia. This of course is because Marcia was a strong believer in home study (a.k.a. sleeping!) Marcia was very much sought after for her considerable curling skills. Luckily for her teammates, Marcia's attendance was much better for curling. For those who were lucky enough to actually meet Marcia, they found a bright, vivacious woman with a ready smile and contagious laugh. She was also popular because of her propensity to buy shooters. Good luck at Filmore Riley!

Richard Fedorowicz

Rick's intelligence, insight & wit were matched by few at Robson Hall. Sadly enough, equally few could decipher these nuggets of brilliance from Rick's many non-sensical rantings. A source of constant entertainment, the Polish Prince could always be counted on to lighted the mood. A good friend to many & a constant annoyance to far more, this school hasn't seen many the like of Ricky, and his "unique" personality & fashion sense will be greatly missed. Thank you for employing him Fogler Rubinoff & best of luck to you all.

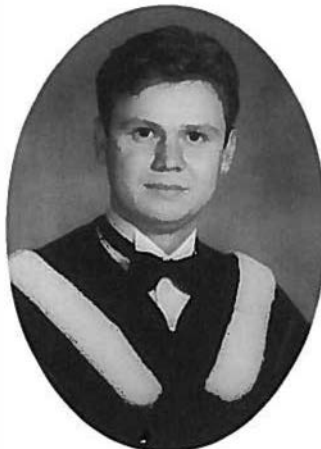

Diana Forgione

Known for her fast talking and small writing, Diana was Robson Hall's favourite Ontario import. She was both loved and despised. Loved for a warm personality and keen sense of humour, Diana was a good friend to many. Despised because of her love of the Winnipeg-hated Toronto Maple Leafs. Diana was famous for being able to function on minimal sleep and maximum caffeine. (Hence the frantic speed of her speech!) The hall will never be the same once the boisterous lady departs. Good luck in Toronto!

Terry J. Foster

Meaford's loss was Mb's gain. Lord of the Harbour. Been hit by any buses lately? Goiter boy. Mighty Meafordite. Foley. BEAN! "I wonder what Patty's doing now?" "You were plump last year." The Urban Peasant's biggest fan. Labour exam. "Yah, I used to hang with Harbottle." The Travel Cuts lady said this was the best one. Great initials. Congratulations Posteo. Now reality calls - Please answer.

Patricia J. Fraser

One gold medal just wasn't enough Pats? Named after the valley, this high-heeled, leopard-print, leather Master hasn't always been a Princess. "Hi, I'm Patty." "Hi, I'm married." "We'd be so unhappy." Is Selkirk long distance? What natural colour? No he's not wearing a sweater! Favourite ways to cope: overalls & chocolate. I don't understand it but Sheldon swears it's legal. Pure?! You may have fooled T.D.S. but you'll always be Granola Granny to us. Remember the 60. You can smell the burnout. Gopher it!

Adrian Frost

Donator of the ping-pong table, stopper of pucks for the Bears & backbone of the M.L.S.A., President Frosty may be the only 3 year attendee of Robson Hall not to say a bad word about another, or have a bad word said about him. This "nice guy" act will serve him well at T.D.S. and throughout his legal, political, & hockey careers. Certainly next year's M.L.S.A. prez & law bear goalie have big shoes to fill. His one fatal flaw though, an inability to derail the Choiselet express in ping-pong or squash. Oh well, nobody's perfect.

Timothy J. Fry

The talented donatio managed to do mondo at the Greenbergs while "being married" & getting mocked by Chubby. Law school wouldn't have been the same without Tim's gift for making fun of Terry, getting 'excuse me'd' in the library, wacky water fun, making up names for Terry, singing annoying jingles (Chow-ch-ch-ch-chow!), procreating, and of course, for finding uses for bad pictures of Terry. Too bad we can't tell you more! Best of luck with your new life & baby & don't forget to pick up the phone!

Jennifer Funk

This cosmopolitan girl came to law school with big dreams and big glasses. Many will remember her as the purple blur, racing for the bus immediately after class. Take off your coat and stay a while. She was the only person in law school to take down her notes in calligraphy. No Jen, it's not canine. Dophi girl's future plans include unmasking Zorro and becoming a Sumo wrestler. Congratulations and good luck in the real world.

Bonnie Gembey

Bonnie, first woman in Manitoba most likely to try out the P.M.S. defence. Favourite urban legend Tony "the Italian boyfriend". Good Luck at Legal Aid.

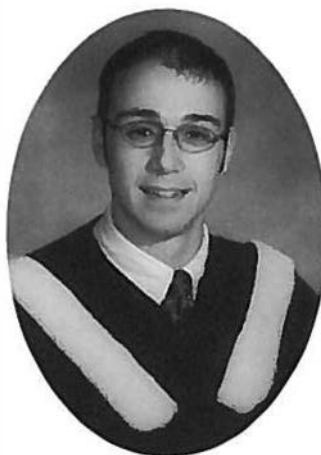

Jacob Giesbrecht

Graduation!? I thought this was purgatory. Am I going to heaven or hell? I'm sure that some day I'll look back fondly on these three short years. Right now all can think about is getting through the final exams.

Eli Goldenberg

All the best at Myers Weinberg!

Elmer Gomes

A shining example of virility for balding men everywhere, Elmer managed to father 2 children while attending law school. Elmer was much loved by his classmates for his contagious giggling and losing ways on poker nights. Known for his love of K.F.C. "Oh God how I love it!" Elmer still managed to maintain a slim physique. (Although certainly not from a lack of bumming rides!) Despite being an IT & L Nero, Elmer was very popular for his easy smile and dry wit. Best of luck at T.D.S. and with your virility & hairline!

Pierrette Hébert

Those monotonous, arduous middle years lead many to seek new adventures - law school was my new adventure and I have no regrets. Thank you to the professors, staff & students for their friendship, encouragement and patience. Best wishes to those who come after us, particularly my daughter Jillian in 1st year! Bonne Chance à Tous! And finally Thurgood Mashall once said "If a lawyer is not a social architect, he/she is a social parasite".

Jay Hershfield

Jay entered law school as an aspiring criminal lawyer. Much to our surprise Jay will be articling at a big firm and wishes to practice - shriek! --- tax. Apparently the alluring qualities of Cy Fien's lectures were too much for Mr. Hershfield to repel. Who can blame him? Jay wishes to remind us that any controversial remarks made by him, overheard by others and posthumously published in the Cimator, are hereby reiterated (oops) I mean retracted! Good luck at Aikins.

Kim Hertwig

Memorable moments: UND in 1st year - a beer bash interrupted by hockey; having 4 addresses in 12 months; feeling the powerful force of gravity at Renae's post-exam bash in 1st year- and Mike didn't even try to catch me!; pre-social parties w/Joel the bartender (notice a trend w/the Oliphant's and me?); Chris the adopted law student; the Sweeping Beauties; Naomi's sleep overs; 2nd year can be summed up w/2 words: inferiority complex. Despite their best efforts, we made it!

Kameron Hutchinson

When Kameron walking into his first day of law school someone said "Can I help you, are you looking for Legal Aid?" We he has found it, he will be returning north to article with Legal Aid (The Pas). It has been a long three years, and we sure had some great times. To my study group, it was a blast and we got through this together. I sure did get my "Wigglesworth". Thank you to my family for their support and understanding while Daddy was studying. Good Luck everyone. And for one last time, it's "Mr."

Martin Jaszczuk

A.K.A. "Party Marty", Martin lives up to his reputation with his penchant for dancing and techno. Martin will be best remembered for his token white sweatshirt and black leather jacket. He spent his last year at Robson heading up the Legal Aid Clinic and defending some of Winnipeg's most wanted. (He must know what he's doing because he won the Crim. Pro Award.) Martin's cheerfulness and friendliness (especially with the girls) will be missed. Good luck at the Crown, Martin!

Alexandra Johnson

Alex was never offended when she was compared to "Ally McBeal's" sub-zero "Nel" during third year - she presumed they were referring to her hair! During Alex's years in Robson Hall she was notable for always making her opinions known - even if off topic. In third year she became infamous by taking courses requiring one written exam and fourteen papers!!! Articling at Legal Aid Domestic promises to fulfill Alex's desire for as much time in court as possible. Good Luck.

Muna Jondy
Congratulations Muna!

Jennifer Jones
With a smile on her face, a curling rock in one hand and a highlighter in the other Jen fearlessly made her way through 3 years at Robso Hall. In addition, she was able to make the Dean's list without ever attending a Monday or Friday class. Jen can boast that she is the only person in advanced tax who has never seen Cy Fien. However Jen's greatest accomplishment at R.H. was enlightening Schwartz's Int'l law class on the castration techniques practiced on the Timorese. R.H. was a nicer place to be with Jen around!

Ashley Joyce
"That's Mr." Good Luck Ashley!

Melanie Hawkes-Kavanagh
Melanie has proven she can handle anything that comes her way. She has managed three kids and two degrees with style and grace. Her friendly advice has been a help to all of us and her social smoking is a reminder that nobody is perfect. Melanie was a Solomon Greenberg finalist and greatly enjoyed her night giggles with Kathy though we're not so sure Karen did. She's always where she wanted to be all along. Good Luck Melanie. We all love you.

Megan Kelly
Throughout law school Megan could be found tucked away in the sunny part of the library seated behind a blond visitor, or writing notes at the back of Crim and Intellectual class with D.L. She silently rose to the top of the Dean's List finishing second in her graduating year and was never without a smile. If you want to find Megan in the future, just look for the redhead coming out of Cambell Marr in 3 inch kick-ass platform shoes. Best of luck Megan!

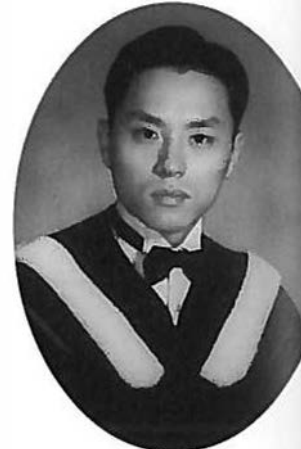

Glenn Kennedy
The man with the most ex-girlfriends in law school. Glenn has made law school look like a fun hobby. The busiest man on campus will do your taxes, get you a pater eat a gyro at George's and lose 5 pounds in less than 10 minutes. The master of imitations could also be found on campus either in the tax office, the law journal or near smelly garbage can with Shane, but no matter where he was, he was laughing with his friends. Glenn is leaving us for the Big City. Glenn will be articling at Ar & Berlis. Good luck Glenn!

Susan Kennedy
Best of Luck!

John Kim
"A bag of shit, covered in a blanket, is still a bag of shit."
John Kim.

So Deep, on so many levels.

Caroline Kiva

You came to law school and traveled the world. From Skoog to Steusser, what a long strange trip it's been. Black clothes, the Nefertiti neckline - you sure are the catch. Merry Christmas C.K. You skills on the diamond and the links leave something to be desired, but your phone stamina sure is impressive. If law gets tiring, we're sure the nunnery will take you back. Congratulations, good luck and stay Meshuga.

Kerry Krochak

Three years finally gone, and this local Winnipegger is ready to uproot herself and pitch her shingle in Calgary. Her smile and laugh will be missed in Robson Hall and Aikins will miss her on their summer softball team. Good Luck at MacLeod Dixon.

Stephen Legault

From radio personality to legal personality Steve could always be counted for comment. Good luck in Steinbach Steve!

Marlaine Lindsay

Marlaine may be the only person at the U of M law school to complete her degree by correspondence. When not working at the Journal, UMSU, campus security or the Law Reform Commission, she does occasionally grace us with her presence. Marlaine's claims to fame include skipping for the notorious Sweeping Beauties and showing up on T.V. with blue hair. Marlaine's ready for Tapper Scurfield Cuddy. Are they ready for her?? Best of luck Marlaine!

Glenn R. Lockhart

"REEELAAAX!" Member of "The Cult" study group, usually found outside of Robson between classes with other members (Kam, Rob, Betty Lou, Pierrette, etc) having a smoke (Hey, they're cheaper than tranquilizers! / "Rob - ask Cy if cigarettes can be written off as a business expense!") Disgruntled expost office employee (duck!) Going into labour law. "Laches? Laches? We don't need no stinking latches!" Married to Melissa; two daughters, Brigid and Hilary. What a long, strange trip it's been . . .

Dana Lotecki

Though Dana quickly gained a reputation for her precise and well organized outlines, it was her smile (just ask the people at Crunch n' Munch) and the fact that she carried a camera to 95% of the faculty's social functions that got her through law school. Dana developed many passions in law school including tabbing and highlighting with the greatest assortment of colours, stock piling snacks and especially Osborne's torts class. She was the mastermind behind the champion Rolly's Stones curling team, both in making shots and in making off season acquisitions. Her competitive spirit and savvy will no doubt serve her well at Deeley, Fabbri, Sellen. Good luck Dana.

Rodney Lowry Congratulations Rod!

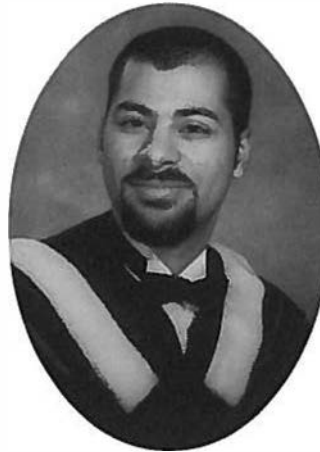

Reagan MacKenzie

Reagan "I don't want to be a lawyer" MacKenzie is known by her friends as applecheeks. Applecheeks represented the Icelandic women of Southern Manitoba with Grace and dignity throughout our three years at Robson Hall. She made tax look easy, put Jay in his place, made Marni and Shelley leave the corals, and put fashion back into the legal profession. We could all learn a few lessons from Reagan; 1) don't wear white after September, 2) don't buy all of her clothes and wear them on the same days as her, you cannot outshine her, 3) always be polite, 4) a smile goes a long way, and 5) showering everyday does make you friends. Good Luck next year applecheeks!

Melanie MacRae
Best of Luck in Ottawa!

Eric Macramalla
After three years in Winnipeg, Eric will be leaving us for Ottawa. He has accepted an excellent articling position at Gowlings. During Eric's time here he demonstrated exceptional academic capabilities, particularly in criminal law. He showed us how to play baseball and how not to play golf. Mac was a fierce competitor in floor hockey and a ping pong opponent that other feared (for their physical safety). Eric's quick wit and dangerous sense of humour will be missed. Good Luck in Ottawa.

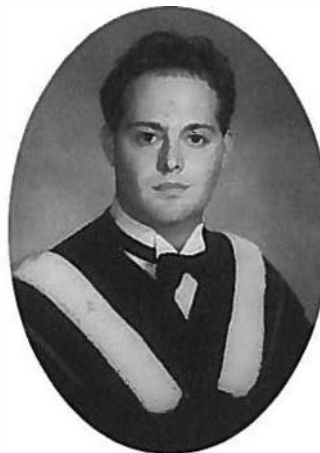

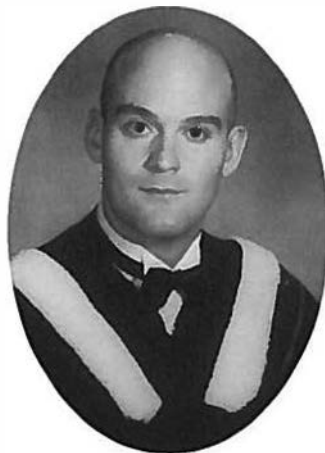

Marnie McDonald
Marnie has wowed us with her litigation skills winning Solomon Greenberg and competing in other moot competitions. She is now going forth with her hubby to try her wares down under. Good luck Marnie!

Robert McDonald
A.K.A. R.L.T. - Robert was not your typical law student and is not expected to be your typical lawyer. His preferred areas of practice are expected to be in the fields of aboriginal law as well as criminal and civil litigation. While at Robson Hall he established the MALSO office. He spent the last semester of his 3rd year at Osgoode Hall pursuing his interests in Aboriginal Law. He is grateful for the friends he has made at Robson Hall and will miss those who leave Manitoba. Never a dull moment Rob. See ya in the Supremes!

Trevor McDonald
For the first two years of law school Freddy rarely attended class and only hibernated twice a year to study during exams in the bat cave. In third year he didn't go to class at all as he was busy defending legal aid clients (apparently this doesn't bode well with Nemiroff so a few course changes were necessary). All in all Trevor got through law school without going to law school and landed an articling job in Ottawa. Good luck Trevor!

Shane McGurk
Shane "I gotta know it cold" McGurk was probably one of the most resilient students ever to have graced the halls of Robson. His unparalleled work ethic amazed even the Dean's list students in Engineering. In June, this budding pitbull litigator takes his trail of empty coffee cups to the towers at Portage and Main for the start of what should be a great career. The late night cleaning staff of University Centre wish to inform us that he will be sadly missed.

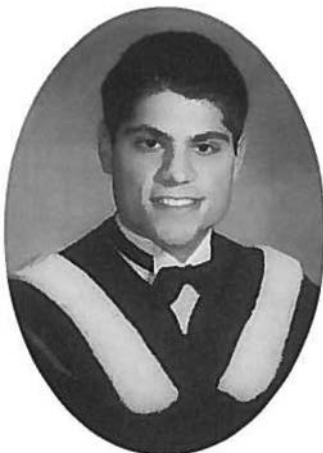

BettyLou McIlmoyle
Thanks to all - profs, staff, students & friends - who believed in & supported me. The journey has been long & at times difficult, but I wouldn't change a thing. My study group - Rob, Pierette, Kam & Glen (Steph & Brent too) are owed thanks for getting me through the tough times & creating lots of happy memories. A special thanks goes to my son Jason, who faced as many challenges and adjustments as I did. Without his encouragement & support my success would not have been achieved. Thank you Jason for allowing me to pursue my dream. I love you!

Mollie McVey
It is the journey that provides enlightenment not the destination, and this includes the walk and or bike ride to school every day, as well. The journey will continue at Legal Aid Domestic.

James Mercury

Jamie has left the halls of Robson and classmates alike with his charming wit, diligence and pleasant demeanor. An example of organizational skills and methodical thought, Jamie is our colleague most likely to forego the need for legal secretarial services. He will be profoundly missed by the staff and students at Robson, but not near as much as George's Burgers and Subs, where Jamie and his friends frequently held Contracts class.

Julie Morgan

As our favorite Nova Scotian, Julie has brought a smiling face and irrepressible humanity to the class of '99. Forever involved with M.L.S.A. activities, Julie livened up our socials with her penchant for alcoholic substances and her dead-on dance rhythm. Always there with an open door, we could count on Julie for late-night gab sessions on everything from NHL to the occult. It's a long way from Coal Harbour to Manitoba, Crown Attorney - and we're glad she's sticking around.

Sakeena Naqui

"Maskallah" - For those of us who had the privilege of knowing Sakeena it was something we heard often. Whether it was to her family, her friends or her studies Sakeena was extremely dedicated. Those that knew her well, saw behind the sophistication, the crazy young woman that surfaced at socials and in late night study sessions. Always ready to share her fruit or gum her generosity will be remembered by many. This New York kinda girl will be an incredible lawyer, and the City of Lights is where you'll find her.

Shelley Nixon

After spending her youth working at the mill, Shelley was lured away from the bright light of Stonewall by the famous "wood" smile. She will be taking her "A" in PTP and her country charm to Pitblado, Buchwald Asper.

Renae Oliphant

Rule of Thumb: When you doze in Osborne's class, you become the hunted. Ren contributed to the social life of Robson Hall by hosting the scandalous 1st year exam party, not to mention her stellar performance at the Disco Party. Ren continued her involvement and confirmed the "hex" while chairing Orientation Week. For some reason even after that hell she continued to join every committee Elisa could talk her into. Renae's ability to talk to anyone about anything will help her career. Her warmth and compassion with just a touch of mischievousness will be missed when she leaves us for Bracebridge Ontario. Good luck, we'll miss you Ren.

Melanie Peech

It wasn't until the infamous 1st year exam party that we realized Mel could drink (but boy did she start with a bang). Mel really hit her stride by 2nd year when cheered by her study group and fueled with spits, stale Goodie rings and an ample supply of caffeine she vaulted onto the Dean's list. Mel is easily the most polite person in school, a trait that will lure people in when she becomes the next corporate giant in Calgary. We'll all miss her but we know with brains like her's, she won't need luck.

Michael Petrychko

Congratulations Michael!

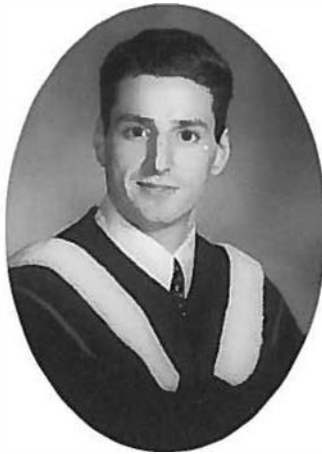

Sherry Ritchot

Good luck!

Ryan Rolston

After law school Rolly will be pursuing his career in criminal law at Killeen, Chapman, Garreck. A perceptive eye once noted Rolly is the only law student that put himself through law school practicing law. While he was here Ryan excelled on the ping pong table and set a new standard for upcoming goaltenders. He went from never curling before to having his own team, beating the number one ranked team the following year and then going on to "lead" Rolly's Stones to victory in our final year. Good luck in the future Rolly.

Theresa Roy

Look out, Ottawa! Here comes Theresa! The center of a large circle of law school friends and a renowned world traveller, Theresa took her law studies on the road this year - first to the CBA annual meeting in St. John's in August; then to McGill for a term to study Quebec's civil code. Next stop: Ridout & Maybee - an I.P. firm in the nation's capital. Curling fans look forward to this Charter member of the "Sweeping Beauties" taking her broom onto Rideau Canal. Ottawa comes out the winner in this trade!

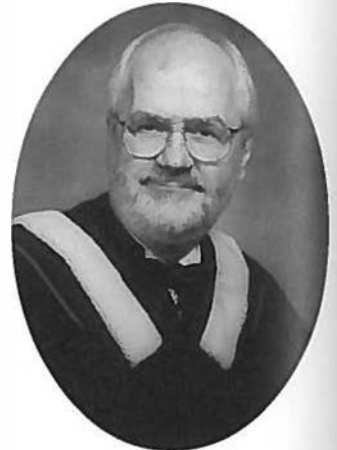

Amy Ruff

This Spanish speaking, treeplanting, granola girl's curiosity stumped our professors for 3 years providing us all with the much needed breaks in the long hours of law lectures. As much as Amy loved law school she also loved outdoors & her real job as a treeplanter. A genuine friend. "I am not ready to mess with people's lives" she would say when asked about articling. "I am going travelling to see the real world!" Hasta Pronto!

Terry Sargeant

Self-proclaimed 'old guy' Terry Sargeant comes to U of M armed with a wealth of experience, a sharp wit and a work ethic that has led his classmates to dub certain courses 'Terry-taught'. Previously a Selkirk-Interlake MP, Terry now heads up the Interlake Polka Kings, walloping the faculty with a late-season 8-ender on the way to second place in the law school curling league. Blame that on the 'Interlake Elixir'! He also raised a few eyebrows at the Canadian Bar Association conference in Newfoundland last summer, when he knew more of the honoured speakers than many of the practitioners present! Terry has decided to use his considerable talents for the forces of good, and will be articling at the Public Interest Law Centre. Good Luck Terry!

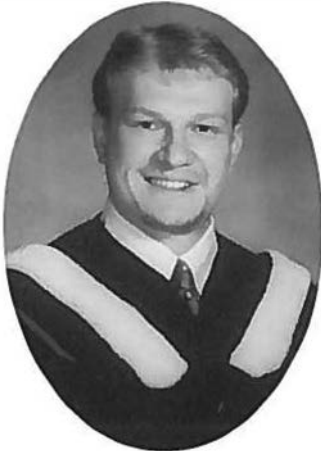

Mark Schaub

Mark is old-fashioned and steady on defence. He can lie in a boat and fish all day. He'll crack his daily boiled egg with a sheepish grin. He'll skate on CCM's and dress in Bayers. He'll play 12 straight hours of Sega hockey without scoring a goal, and not care. He'll sweep his little hard out as the best darn "sweeping monkey" curling has ever known. He'll also extend a helping hand for as long as it takes. He is, as best as I understand the term, a legal gentleman. Best wishes to Mark, Monique and their future together. May Mark also find success at Wilder, Wilder and Langtry.

Elisa Schellmann

Elisa didn't ask for much... she just wanted to RULE THE WORLD! Robson Hall's #1 Cheerleader attended every event, and organized many of them. Mortisha's "colourful" sense of style matched her "bright" personality. However those cool (BRAVE) enough to hang w/her know she really is kind and giving (though she'd kill you if you sat on her couch). Elisa won the Class of 1980 Prize for forcing everyone in her path to buy whatever she was selling and convincing many that they should join her in which ever committee (GRAD) she had her hands in - see Oliphant, Renae. For most people Law School was a hair raising experience, Elisa gave this new meaning. She went to Law School w/o GOING to Law School. R.H. will be missing a true "gunner", but not as much as her friend's will. Good Luck Lis.

Cary Schneiderat

Best of luck!

Bart Schwartz

From the first day to the last Bart enjoyed law school; undoubtedly his type B personality made this possible. As a charter member of the Interlake Polka Kings he reveled in the promotion of the Interlake and its fine products. A member of the exclusive group of "Grumpy Old Men" he could be counted on for a cynical, sarcastic, or critical comment. Bart is going to Smith Legal in Brandon and is looking forward to the practice of law in rural Manitoba.

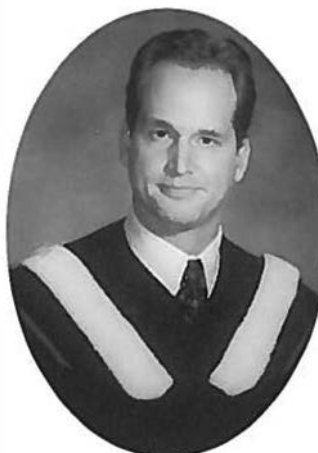

Magdalena Siepka

Magda was known for always claiming that she would only marry an extremely rich partner at a reputable firm. All that changed however when she came back in third year was that she was saying she did believe in love!!!! With her very outgoing and charming personality, she is sure to make her mark wherever she goes. She will no doubt be successful wherever she goes. Good luck at D'Arcy Deacon. You will be missed.

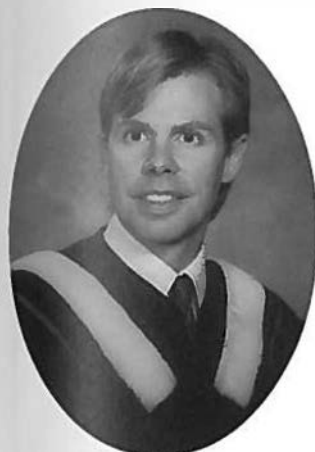

Brian Smith

He's just that - A good guy. Never a bad word, always a welcoming demeanor. Brian came in from Alberta, with dockers, an MBA and a dream. Part of that dream was to be one of the best law ping-pong players. He did just that: he admirably laboured his way to the finals, before falling to the spandex-clad Grant Mitchell. Although he lost, he was, as always, kind, congratulatory and gracious. Good luck Bri - may you go back home and strike oil.

Richard Smith

It is easy to find Richard in class: he is in the front row, with his hand up! Hard-working and inquisitive, he displays a keen sense of interest in the well-being of his classmates, and is always ready with a smile. Not content to simply get a law degree, Richard has been working towards becoming a Chartered Accountant during his 'spare time'. He'll embark on a career in business after graduation, and hopes to pursue his interest in music. Good luck Richard!

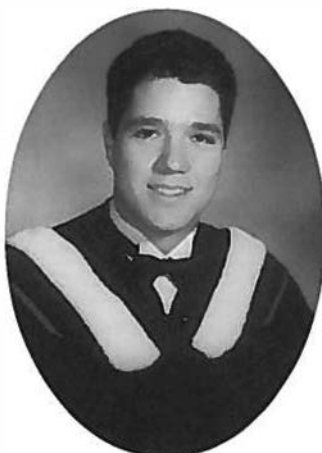

Shelley Smith

The HIP-HOP DIVA from Calgary is best known for her creative use of the English language. With regular attendance at social functions, such as the boat cruises, curling and UND trips, Shelley consistently showcased her talents of impeccable balance, grace, and moral fortitude. Shelley is a good friend whose honesty and genuine concern for others lead her to tell it like it is . . . or should be. Her sound legal reasoning (the Chewbacca defense and "I am above the law!" will guarantee a long, successful career. Good luck in B.C.

Chris Vanderhooft

All the best at the Crown!

Cheryl Walker

Having served as captain in military reserve, Cheryl is one of those people who does more before 8 a.m. than most of us do during an entire day. This helps explain how Cheryl managed to pull off remarkable grades with such apparent ease. It also explains in curling how such booming instructions to the Sweeping Beauties could come from someone the size of a cricket. Cheryl's off to T.D.S. in the spring. Expect to see her blond in a beige Benz with a back seat full of cats in 20 years.

Trevor Watt

Pool shark and star skip of Rolly's Stones, Watty comes to us from Flin Flon by way of the faculty of management. With an interest in business and a keen sense for where the party is, he is sure to be able to withstand the pressure of the two martini (or should I say rye and coke press) lunches that loom in his future. A curling fanatic, he helped Rolly's Stones to capture the coveted title of the law curling league, and taught a lot of us the miracles of 'strategy' along the way. Good luck Watty!

Karen Wittman

Karen interrupted her 10 year love affair with the U of M in order to study law at McGill. Alas, the separation was too much. After one year in Ontario she returned to Manitoba for second and third year. Lucky for us! Karen's considerable research skills made her a boon for the Jessop team and the partner-of choice for perspective courses. She will be remaining in the province to article with Thompson, Dorfman, Sweatman. Best of luck Karen!

Kenneth Wong

It took an engineering degree, an economics degree and a law degree for Ken to find out that blondes don't have more fun. Ken has finally accepted his age, and will be settling down with some women, there will be some kids involved, and we can be sure that it can all be seen live on the Web. His restaurant reviews will be sadly missed by the Citor, his study group will miss his formatting skills, but we don't have to worry about Ken as long as he continues to live by the three unities; texture, taste and possession. Good luck Ken!

Notice

Englewood Education Authority and Aboriginal Focus Programs of The University of Manitoba are partnering to offer community residents of Englewood First Nation the opportunity to begin your post secondary study career in June.

The transition year program is designed to help you build the academic and personal coping skills needed for success in the university or college program of your choice.

The transition year is an accredited full-time study opportunity, during credit hours for first year courses. An assessment of each student will be completed prior to the start of the program.

Participants must meet the general entrance criteria of the University of Manitoba or be admitted under the measure students category.

This transition year program will start September 1999 at Englewood First Nation. If you meet the general entrance requirements for the University of Manitoba submit your application to Englewood Education Authority or call 204-224-0140 for more information.

Deadline for applications is April 15
