MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

Dean Harvey Sexter

During the past three years, many members of the Class of 2002 made significant contributions to Robson Hall. Your classmates, students who will follow you, and the Faculty of Law all benefited because you were here.

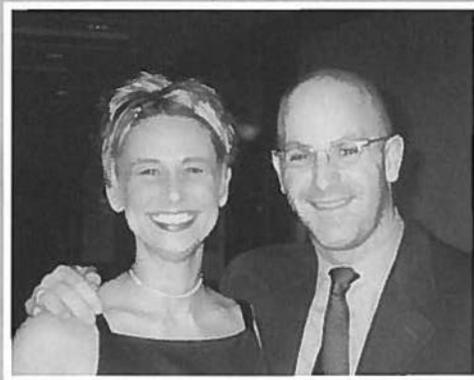

Most of you will be continuing your legal education in Bar Admission courses as you complete your articles and prepare for practice in the profession. You will find that law school represents the beginning, rather than the completion, of your legal education. In 1985, then Chief Justice Brian Dickson once said that "the primary goal of legal education should be to train for the profession people who are, first, honest; second, compassionate; third, knowledgeable about the law; and fourth, committed to the role of law and justice in our democratic society."

It has been said that, upon graduation, each of us takes with us the reputation of our Faculty of Law that was built by those who preceded us. We can all be proud that Robson Hall has a reputation that reflects the high standards set out by the late Chief Justice. I am confident that your contributions, to both the profession and society, will enhance that reputation in the future.

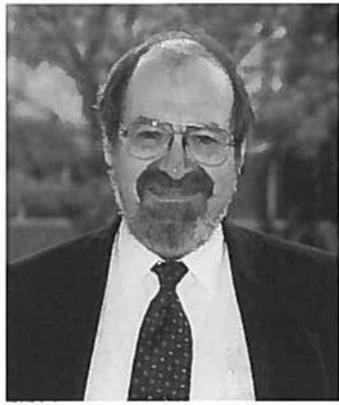

Whether you choose to pursue a conventional legal career, practice in a non-traditional manner, or not practice at all, my colleagues and I hope that you will look back on the time that spent at Robson Hall as a period during which you experienced both personal and professional growth and development. I hope that you will maintain a connection with each other and with the Faculty. Those of us who remain at Robson Hall look forward to hearing about your many adventures and accomplishments.

Best wishes for good health, much happiness, and success in all of your future endeavours.

SECOND YEARS

SECTION ONE

SECTION TWO

Jeremy Akerstream

Derek Ballard
Derek or "Sketchy" liked to participate in his classes when he actually attended them and was even known to question professors about their wardrobes. Derek excelled in many activities during law school including curling, touch football, golf and pretty much anything else that ended with a drink or two! Derek will head off to Toronto to complete his articles and ironically will try to "fight the tobacco companies" with his pal Jeff. Good luck in Toronto!!

Kelly Beattie

Kirstie Bloomfield

During the summer, Kirstie got to experience the full range and experience of criminal defence work at Legal Aid. She learned many important things that will serve her well in her career including: a remand usually takes all day and clients never show up. As a result of this experience Kirstie is looking forward to a career with the Ontario Crown. Her friendly smile, enthusiasm and shortbread cookies will be missed by all.

Krista Boryskavich

Todd Bourcier

As editor of the MLJ and Legal Aid student, Todd had the proverbial world on his shoulders. But his quick thinking and determination always landed him on his feet. Despite his guise as a "no nonsense" individual, Todd consistently found time to help a struggling friend, if only to delight them with tales of the "potato salad defence". His mental catalogue of Charter cases won him the admiration of many aspiring students. We love him for his designer suits, his undying wit and his kick-ass TV. Best of luck Todd!

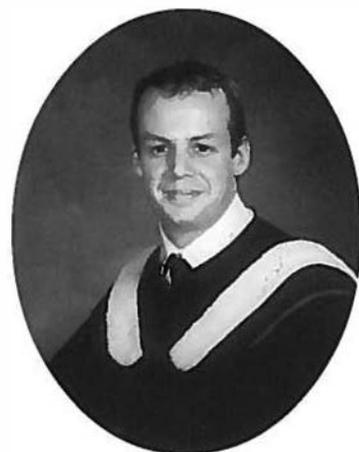

Chris Brett

Chris(t) came to Robson Hall after a grueling five years of undergrad. His years of undergrad trained Chris well as he always kept everyone laughing with his insensitive nicknames and unique delivery. Chris' talents as an athlete were instrumental in helping the "little giants" to national glory. Everyone who has met Chris will forever remember his 'Irish' temper, great sense of humour, unbelievable drinking ability, mediocre ping-pong skills, and by far the best hair-afro in law school history.

Daryl Chicoine

The past three years at Robson Hall was time well spent, even with my Advocacy experience. Probably the only student to do Legal Aid in Altona, Gimli and Lac du Bonet. Will retire from practicing Criminal Law with my 1-0 record, thanks to Gimli. Also found out that grades have no bearing on ability.

James Clark

Sarah Cleghorn

Beatriz Contreras

Ian Daley

Adrian Denegar
Achieving my dream was made possible thanks to: my parents, my brother and sister, my relatives, my friends, my mentors James Heller and Bruce Wardhaugh, and my beloved girlfriend Christine.

Laurie Dube

Krista Favot

Krista Lee came to Robson Hall from the small town of Thunder Bay. Her small town background proved no obstacle as Krista quickly drank, gambled and partied her way into all the boys' hearts. Her patented pout and quick wit lured everyone who came into contact with her. Krista's work on the grad and law games committees, and as a tutor, helped her land a job in a prestigious Calgary firm. We wish her good luck in Calgary.

Wendy Friesen

Wendy came to law school knowing what she wanted - to prosecute the criminals of Winnipeg. Though she ended up defending them for a summer, she's headed to the other side at the provincial Crown's office. There was never any doubt she would achieve her goals! Infamous for drinking nothing but "girlie" drinks, Wendy was always ready for a good party. Best of luck at the Crown's office (but who needs luck when you've got talent?). PS - is the White Castle bet still on?

Lindsay Gilroy

Though Lindsay gained a reputation for her precise and well organized notes, it was her smile and infectious good nature that carried her through law school. Lindsay is a proof that good things comes in small packages. The Brandon native has proven herself over the past 3 years to be a positive, hardworking and reliable person. She has supported us through all sorts of personal and scholarly difficulties. She will be the one person everyone will be looking for at our next reunion.

Jeff is the only person who managed to finish law school without ever taking a pen or paper to class. Jeff will forever be remembered for his intense gambling hobby, magnetic pick-up lines, ability to consistently get drunk off 3 entire drinks and, of course, as an influential member of the National Champions "Little Giants" tough football team. Whether you knew him as "Juggy", the "Hobbit" or "J-Go" you cannot deny that this little guy added spice to Robson Hall.

Jeff Goldglass

Jillian Gray

David Hebert

Johanne Hoeschen

From her first days at Robson Hall Jo stood out as someone destined for success. She excelled academically and socially. Whether organizing the U of M Law Games contingent, planning grad, or working out, you could always count on her to take time out of her schedule to talk or provide the latest outline she'd just prepared. Although a fixture on the social scene, Jo somehow always had the energy to be up early the next morning training for an upcoming marathon. We wish Jo the best of luck in her new career and life in Vancouver.

Ivan Holloway

Kathryn Hordienko

Kathryn's objective, yet compassionate opinion, was the voice of reason around Robson Hall - she could always be counted on to be a true friend to whoever needed one at the time. - Whether agreeing to go to the cheap movies or on a safari in Africa, Kathryn had a sense of adventure and was always willing to do the things no one else would do. Although she has chosen to begin her career with a large firm in Calgary, it's unlikely anyone will be surprised to hear she's off to another exotic location somewhere in the world. We wish her the best of luck.

Bryan Hyman may be Winnipeg's finest ambassador. His contagious optimism and nonchalance are surpassed only by his wit and thoughtful appreciation of his fellow man. He is Robson's "Father Time". Moreover, he has turned the pipe dream of being a Robson student into a family enterprise. This year, despite being estranged from his partner in crime, Hyman was quick to embrace the west coast casual high styles with his exotic collection of soccer jerseys. Most remarkable is the fact that Hyman's unparalleled success in the pursuit of women remains unhampered by his strict observance of the Shabbat. Buster, we love you. You truly are a man of the "peeps"!

Bryan Hyman

Kiranjit Janda

Evan Johnston
Evan works hard and plays hard. He is usually seen either on the way to the gym between classes, or returning from the gym on his way to class. Whether windsurfing, mountain biking or playing hockey, he has a tremendous propensity to keep busy, rarely spending time idly. Amongst his other activities, Evan has been known to partake in the occasional social activity, yet he is famous for his sporadic bouts of sobriety and excuses for not over indulging. Spending summers on the west coast has enticed Evan to begin his career with a boutique firm in Vancouver. Best of luck.

Kris Jordan

Amanda Karalash

John Karlsson
Just when we thought that law school was a safe quiet place, Johnny Rock showed up for the first day of school. With his special brand of charisma he made school exciting for everyone the first two years of classes. Who could ever forget the famous dialogues with Casey in Negotiation or the Coffeehouse musical rants? John also worked as business manager of the MLJ and he was a collaborator for the 2001 Willem Vis Moot team. Go get em' at Catalyst Vancouver!

Marni Karpiak
After my many years in the legal profession, I knew it was time to take the next step and go for the degree. My years at Robson Hall have been challenging, exciting and rewarding. Thank-you to everyone who supported and encouraged me.

Christine Klassen

Yvan Lagassé
You weren't sure if this quiet little French boy from the country was still in school or not, unless you participated in Law Games or Golf Tournament. He spent most of his time on the course or at the rink, and that's when he's not asking you if he can borrow your notes. But somehow he found time to attend Tax class. How can you enjoy Tax? Good luck at Aikins.

Louise Lien

It is still not clear how such a cosmopolitan girl ended up in Winnipeg, but we're all glad she did. Louise graced us all with her envious sense of fashion and her endless supply of technological gadgets. Her quiet demeanor was misleading, as she was a fixture at social events. Even when absorbing her latest loss in the stock market, Louise had a constant smile that brightened everyone's day. We wish her all the best in her upcoming career.

Michael Lubin
Mike Lubin ("Luber") made his mark on Robson Hall in many ways but his crowning achievement had to be leading eleven out of shape friends to the National touch football championship with his golden arm and keen athletic prowess. Luber will also be remembered for using words that no one else could understand, for his infectious laugh and for being deceptively lazy. Luber is headed for Toronto to pursue his law career with the firm Davies, Ward, Philips and Vineberg.

Heather Manweiller

Robert Marcoux
National Touch Football Champions! I'll never set foot on the turf of Skydome legally again. Waking up one day in Property with Anderson to have Tony Tascona's beady eyes bearing down on me. As much as I'll miss the blowing snow and minus forty weather, I've managed to force myself to the warmer confines of Kelowna for articling. Robson Hall's been great, I wouldn't change a thing about my experience here.

Anie Min

Kate Misurka
Kate will always be recognized for her hard work as our class representative, a finalist in the "Stuesser" advocacy trials and her ability to make any guy look twice! Kate will start her career in Toronto at the law firm Aird & Berlis. In between jaunting off to places as big as New York and as small as Kenora she will no doubt establish herself as a successful litigation lawyer.

Tim Morrison

Originally from Kelowna, Tim came to Manitoba to escape the lumpy landscape of B.C. Known as Tiny to his friends, he is actually one of the biggest kids in the class. Tiny enjoyed eating in all of his classes, slurping on his giant water bottle, and growling. Tiny is renowned for his impersonations of professors, and for helping those who like to have long, pointless arguments to get started. Tiny will article with Legal Aid Family division in Winnipeg.

Pat Murphy

Kenneth Muys

Stefanie Navascues
 Besides razor sharp wit this Toronto 'hottie' brought a touch of class to Robson Hall. Always seeing fit to place good fashion ahead of punctuality, she would "occasionally" arrive late to class but always with barrettes to match her sweater. Who says the first 20 minutes of class are important because she breezed through law school. In second year she was rarely seen without her loyal companion 'Bogota' by her side. Best of luck in the future "Steph" - your many friends at Robson.

Steve Nelson
 Steve a.k.a. "Rainman" came to law school and wasted no time establishing himself as a favorite among everyone, especially the ladies! Steve always had a good story to tell, a perfect "long shot" to play and a compliment for everyone. Whether it be acing tax exams or winning touch football championships Steve could do it all. He will be no doubt a valued addition to the law firm Pitblado Buchwald Asper!

Kevin Nenka
 "Nenka" arrived a country boy and with 3 key assets: good looks, a truck, and a great crib. He adapted peacefully to city life, emerging a accomplished dancer (perfecting the dance and the "American Pie"), a natural, master curler, and magnificent host. A diligent student and brilliant orator, he pioneered a new Har negotiation technique (the "McG leverage) and successfully advanced "slippery slope" argument at trial every other form of legal reasoning been exhausted. Thank you for ouring us with your rural charm positive spirit, and for reminding that it is most important to be ni

Jeff Niederhoffer
 Fortune favours the bold.

Dean Nygaard

Nadine Parent
 I came to Law school to pursue my dream and attain the goals I set for myself. I will cherish all the memories and friendships I have made. Through the help of many and especially from the love I received from my daughters, Kayla and Emily who supported me with their laughter and smiles, I am prepared to meet tomorrows challenges.

Shawn Patten
 "There are great memories and then there's this."

 Part 1:
There is no worse torture than the torture of laws. (Shakespeare) He is a learned man that understands one subject; a very learned man who understands two. (Emmons) but . . . we should not ask who is the most learned, but who is the best learned. (Montaigne). "forehead glasses and the chicken."

Penny Piper
 Deep Thoughts from the Back Row/

Jodie Puscas

Janice Rea

Sharon Reid

Pearl Reimer

Darla Rettie

Ryan Rosenberg
 Ryan entered Robson Hall as one of the younger members of the student body. He was, however, wise beyond his years as demonstrated by his razor sharp wit and keen intellect. He also compensated for the age difference between himself and the rest of his friends by dating an older woman than they did. Ryan will also be remembered for knowing which restaurants to go to, for his mastery of legal ethics and for his generosity with outlines. Ryan is off to Vancouver to pursue his law career with the law firm Lawson Lundell.

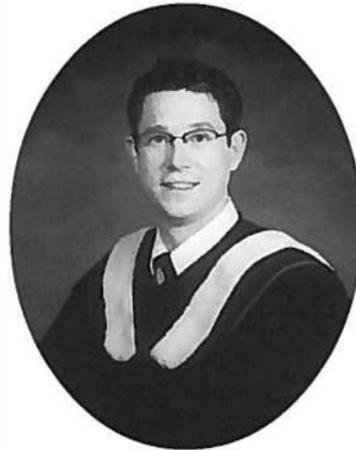

Ryan Savage

Candice Schachter
 My morality, the morality of reason, is contained in a single axiom: existence exists - and in a single choice: to live. The rest proceeds from these. - Ayn Rand, Atlas Shrugged

Cameron Schepp
 Cam Schepp came to Robson Hall as an experienced painter with a creepy white van. Three years later, Cam leaves with a national football championship (he was a member of the "little giants"), a job with a prestigious firm in Calgary, much improved but still limited ping-pong skills (along with very questionable scorekeeping), and a fierce competitive spirit (just ask that poor kid Hart). Although not allowed out very often when he did come out his presence was felt by all.

Mary Shariff
 Deep Thoughts from the Back Row Part 3:
 Oh but a little learning is a dangerous thing! Drink deep, or taste not the Pierian spring; there shallow draughts into the brain, and drinking largely sob again. (Pope) "thermos and trust"

Kusum Sharma
 Deep Thoughts from the Back Row/ Conclusion:
There is room enough in human life to crowd almost every art and science into it. If we pass "no day without a line" - visit no place without the company of a book - we may with ease fill libraries, or empty them with their contents. The more we do, the more busy we are, the more leisure we have. (Hazlitt)
 "if you fall over no-one will notice . . . and gunga"

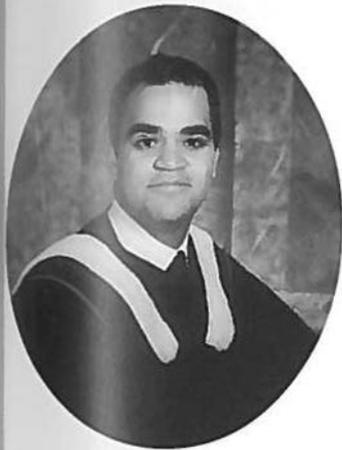

Ryan Shewchuk

Daniela Silaghi

John Simes
 John has a drive and intensity that is unparalleled. Whether it was one the football field as the "human missile" for the National Champion Little Giants or in the classroom, John always gave it everything he had. He is notorious for his Irish pride, which was reflected in his unbelievable drinking prowess, devotion to Notre Dame and as the leader of the St. Patrick's Day trip to New York. Johnny heads off to Calgary where shenanigans are sure to follow.

Paul Singh

Women love him and men want to be him. Robson Hall's first ever second year president. Inspirational leader and star receiver for the Little Giants. Social coordinator and intemperance proponent extraordinaire. Maybe he can't dance, maybe his laugh makes doves cry, and maybe he has more hair on his back than on his head but to his friends Paul is chocolate, sweet brown perfection. Thanks for being so thoughtful and all the good times. No student will leave law school with more people calling him a great friend.

Chris Tait
Chris, otherwise known as "Senator" in honour of his admirable determination to join the Canadian Senate, joined us from the rural wildlands of Rossendale Mountain south of Portage. He decided to embark on a legal career following a life of adventure that ranged from beekeeping to journeying through Central America on a bus. Chris will be remembered for his sharp wit and quick debating skills, as well as events such as his joyful dance at Coffee House and his ability to stay up all night with Rob Parsons following his Advocacy trial. Good luck in your fight for justice next year at Gindin Wolson Simmonds.

Anne Turner

With the biggest heart and the warmest smile in all of law school, Anne is friends with just about everyone and can always be found around Robson Hall - usually on one of the big leather couches when she's not at an intramural game. Because she is so outgoing and will try anything once, wherever Anne goes, a good time is sure to follow. Anne's future? She'll be sending tax evaders and drug dealers off to jail as she articles for the Federal Crown in Winnipeg.

Lee Turner

Lee came from Brandon to Winnipeg for Law School. Not one to be a conformist, once he moved here he found he enjoys "the Big City" and will remain in Winnipeg as a Provincial Crown Attorney. His relationship with Kristin has survived, despite some trying times at Law School.

Kerri Tymchuk

Marcel Van Woensel

Lana Viheriasalo

Allison Weiss
Part Earl's girl, part off-road Jeep driver, Allison was always one of the movers and shakers in our class. In Calgary, at Law Games, she was one of the hottie cowgirls that got our school voted "Most Attractive Law School". Ally maintained a great standard at school and she reportedly is a master of cooking the turkey cutlet. This fireball will be missed as she goes off to T.O. next year.

LAW GAMES

The Robson Hall gang descended on Montreal ready to have a great time. Diana and Andrea had organized an awesome group of people everyone intent on taking full advantage of our four days in la belle province. The four days were a blur for many with a mix of partying, partying and more partying. We're still not sure that anyone actually ever slept in their own room. Between fire alarms and blizzards we did manage to enter some events. Rob was fantastic in earning a second place showing in squash, Kirstie finished third in the "twister" competition, and we destroyed Osgoode Hall in the all important pub crawl event! We definitely left our mark at Law Games and look forward to taking it up another notch in 2003.

COFFEE HOUSE

Coffee House this year proved that some of us missed our callings. With a gentle blend of trash talk and talent, there was a wide range of performances this year, lead by the tremendous East Coast humour of Rob Parsons as M.C. Alon, Rick and Ryan bid a fond farewell to Professor Chisick with a rendition of "I'm Too Sexy", aided of course by "The Chis-ettes". And who could forget Liz's poem "Ode to Bus Org". Of course not to be outdone, Casey had his own ideas, and led Professors Anderson, Guth, Esau, Taylor, Mitchell, Gallant, Parkes, and Turnbull through two songs . . . Other highlights were Robson's Hall's very own Bono, Tyler, Ryan and Rick's revival of "The Pong Song" and well, Nenka and Bickman . . .

CAREER DAY

On October 19, 2001 Robson Hall held its annual Career Day and was brimming with practitioners and students. Students were able to attend information seminars on articling both locally and out-of-province as well as alternative careers in law. This was followed by a symposium in which a total of 42 firms had booths set up and met with students. In addition to having firm information available, the practitioners also had schwag in hand ready to be given out to any students willing to chat it up for a few minutes. It was a day filled with hand shaking, wine drinking and brown-nosing . . . A fine beginning to any career in law. Thanks to the efforts of Jocelyne Ritchot, the chairperson of the Out-of-Province Articling Committee, and Marnie Karpiak, the chairperson for the In-Province Articling Committee who worked tirelessly to organize the day's events.

LEGAL AID

The University Legal Aid Centre was once again full of life this year as "Students at Law" took on clients of their own and tried to look like they knew what they were doing. Of course, this was done with the help of Roberta who is always willing to help out clueless students. While learning valuable lessons about the law, the students also got to learn about such things as:

- Clients never show up on their court date;
- Being able to actually reach your clients by phone is a privilege, not a right;
- Nothing keeps you on your toes like the prospect of looking like an idiot in a courtroom full of people.
- Being a student means you are LAST in line to talk to the judge.

Kristie Bloomfield, Todd Bourcier, Roberta Turner and Wendy Friesen

ARTICLING COMMITTEE

Articling Assistant Coordinator Marni Karpiak and Articling Coordinator Jocelyne Ritchot

As everyone knows, one of the most important days in a law students' life can be the day of articling interviews. This year, that day was Saturday, June 9, 2001 and as usual, it was anything but calm. After all, running from interview to interview in thirty degree heat in a suit can never really be easy. Jocelyne Ritchot was the match coordinator and enjoyed sitting back and watching the chaos from a safe distance. When she and Marni Karpiak weren't helping the students find their interviews, they were ensuring that the interviewers' needs were met (ie. Cookies at break time). At the end of the day, students were relieved to go home . . . just to wait for call-backs.

PHI DELTA PHI

The International Legal Fraternity Phi Delta Phi saw its second year at Robson Hall, and what a year it was! Inn Magistrar Jocelyne Ritchot successfully obtained permission to name the Manitoba chapter after former Supreme Court Chief Justice Brian Dickson. The Dickson Inn was very eager to sign up new recruits in order to promote a higher standard of professional ethics, as is the fraternity's mandate. The fraternity was very happy to have its Executive Director Tim Wheat and Vice President Kelly Heide fly up from Texas for the annual initiation. Honorary initiates included Robson Hall's own Dean Harvey Sector and The Honourable Jeffrey J. Oliphant, Associate Chief Justice of the Court of Queen's Bench of Manitoba.

AIDWYC is a non-profit group that was started in 2000, and is run by criminal lawyers, Joyce Milgaard, and student volunteers. As the secretar fundraising chair for AIDWYC - Manitoba, Colleen Stewart tracks down nesses from trials that happened years ago, sorts through boxes and bo court materials for the files, and does fundraising. Colleen organized 2 sc a ball tournament and a reception for Stephen Truscott when he came to nipeg. AIDWYC also made submissions in the Sophonow inquiry on h prevent future wrongful convictions. No doubt Colleen's efforts with th ganization will bring Robson Hall a reputation for helping clear the inn

MANITOBA STUDENTS BIZ LAW GROU

The MSBLG is a new student organization and is designed for students who wish to further their understanding of the business world, or would like to better manage all the money they think they're going to make as lawyers. As the organization's president, Wes Burrows insists that MSBLG is meant to enrich and enhance our education, not duplicate it. One of the MSBLG's highlights are its Stock Market Challenge, where students can gain a better understanding of the stock market, and maybe even win some money in the process. MSBLG also hosts a speaker series: where practicing and non-practicing lawyers will come and speak to the group about their experiences, the realities of practicing law, where they think the law is heading, and what are the expanding areas of business law. Other members of the MSBLG executive are Andrea Hatzinikolas, Ryan Kipp, Ryan Goodman and Matt Bourgoyne. Best of luck to these students in their initiative!

ASSOCIATION IN DEFENSE OF THE WRONGLY CONVICTED SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT

As a fundraiser, The Association in Defense of the Wrongly Convicted (AIDWYC) organized a softball tournament for Sunday, September 16, 2001. There were a total of ten teams and plenty of high spirits, even at eight o'clock in the morning. Like all other ball tournaments, there was an endless supply of trash talk and beer. One of the highlights of the day was definitely watching Rick T trying to keep his cool while being heckled from the sidelines. Despite bringing in ringers from Alberta and having cheerleaders on the bench, none of the Robson Hall teams were able to call themselves tournament champs at the end of the day. However, as usual, good times were had by all.

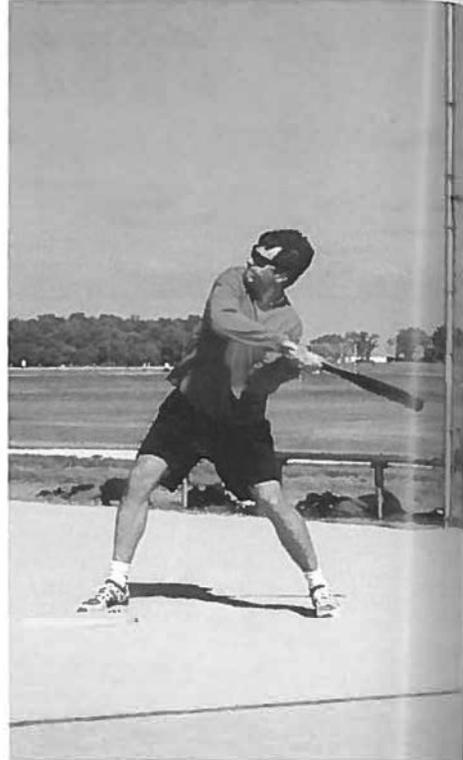

I'm not a real ball player but I play one on tv

FOOTBALL

ever has Robson Hall done so well in football as it did with this year's team, The Little Giants. The entire team flew to Toronto to play the 3 other teams in the League at the SkyDome. The final game was won on a half-mary pass thrown by Mike Story, which was caught by Mike Lubin in the endzone. Not only did the team earn themselves bragging rights, but brought home $10,000 in scholarships for the university. John Simes was named MVP of the final game and Mike Lubin earned the title of Best Player. Jeff Goldglass had the nicest headband. They had their trophy presented at the Vanier Cup's half-time on the field. Rahul Singh and others thought it would be a good idea to sign autographs for the kids, who naturally thought they were real football players. When they found out, there were no more autographs signed.

The Little Giants kept on fighting 'till the end, and brought home the cup!

SECOND YEAR TRIALS

"Who Me Nervous?"

Drowning Your Sorrows Early On . . .

Shall We Shag Now, Or Shall We Shag Later?

On the evenings of November 26th and 27th the second year class gathered at the Law Courts downtown to debate the merits of the case of Jackson v. Walker. Some of us dressed our little Martha Sue's up as innocently as possible, some of us had brand new suits. But there was one common theme . . . we were all pretty nervous. We had sat through the advocacy small groups, and the weekly sessions with Professors Stuesser and Mitchell. And most of us even read "An Advocacy Primer", and it all came down to this. Whether we were the Plaintiffs arguing that Martha Sue was merely thinking she was fleeing from the scene of a robbery, or whether we were the Defendants, arguing to the end that our cops legitimately believed that Martha and Marshall Black were robbing the beer vendor, in the end "The Stuess" proved to be right, and yeah, we all thought it was pretty cool.

Who Needs A Closing Argument When You Have A Chart Like This?

WHILLEM VIS INTERNATIONAL MOOT

Krista Boryskavich, Candice Arnold, Janice Rea, Ryan Shewchuk & Kelly Beattie

Robson Hall participated in the Whillem Vis International Commercial Arbitration Moot in Vienna, Austria. The four lucky students were Candice Arnold, Kelly Beattie, Janice Rea, and Ryan Shewchuk. Even luckier was Krista Boryskavich who attended the moot as the 'coach'. International conventions were analyzed, textbooks were ordered and read (in most cases), librarians were abused, and internal squabbling among the team occurred. The team competed against students from 94 universities around the world. But the competition wasn't the toughest problem to be solved in Vienna. Apparently, it was finding the hotel at 3 a.m. The diet consisted mainly of sachar tort, schnitzel and Mozart balls. Oh . . . and maybe a tiny bit of alcohol. As always, our mooters made us proud.

Dermootin not so good, ya?

SOLOMON GREENBERG

Candice Arnold, Mooting Coach Rick Saul and Janice Rea

This year, the case for the Solomon Greenberg Trial was one of criminal negligence causing death. Essentially, a single mom went to a resort for a weekend with friends and decided it was a good idea to leave her 2 year old son alone in the hotel room while she went to a New Year's Eve party. Of course, little Billy woke up, found some matches, started a fire and died. Janice Rea and Candice Arnold took the role of Crown Prosecutors where Jodie Pucas and Kasham Sharma defended the mother. In the end, the Crown Prosecutors were victorious as Janice Rea won the competition with Candice Arnold was runner-up.

EDITORS LETTERS

Well here it is . . . the 2001-2002 Robson Hall yearbook. We hope you enjoy it. Even after all the blood sweat and tears, in the end, we have to admit, we did enjoy putting it together for you all. Through the marathon yearbook days in the Fall, we managed with the help of lots of Diet Coke and McDonald's to do layout after layout after layout. And we won't even tell you how many times we said "yeah, well, the people at Jostens, they'll just figure it out".

Believe it or not, we generally used every picture that we took throughout the year in this book. So remember all those times we were in your face? We hope it paid off as you see your shiny happy faces here. Special thanks to all those who handed over their pictures or their negatives to us. Or said yes when we said "pretty please can you attend this event and take pictures for us because I just can't take another picture".

To those we said "can you believe this?", "what did we get ourselves into" and "I can't handle this" to, thanks for listening to the stories, and the whining, and the complaints. We owe you.

And lastly, because no yearbook is complete without this cheesy line from the Editors: We hope you enjoy the memories.
