

Manitoba Post-Secondary Institutions
Master of Occupational Therapy Approved Prerequisite Courses - Statistics

Course Number

Course Title

University of Manitoba:

STAT 1000	Basic Statistical Analysis I
STAT 2000	Basic Statistical Analysis II
STAT 2220	Contemporary Statistics for Engineers
PSYC 2250	Introduction to Psychological Research
PSYC 2260	Introduction to Research Methods in Psychology
ECON 3170	Introduction to Quantitative Methods in Economics
EDUA 5800	Introduction to Educational Research
SOC 2290	Introduction to Research Methods

Brandon University:

62.171	Introduction to Statistics
62.172	Introduction to Statistical Inference
82.250	Psychology Fundamentals of Research I
82.251	Psychology Fundamentals of Research II
90.293 & 90.294	Social Research Methods I and II (These courses have not been reviewed individually)

Canadian Mennonite University:

MATH 1000	Basic Statistical Analysis
PSYC 2040	Research Analysis in Psychology

Providence College:

221 21	Statistical Analysis
--------	----------------------

Red River College (RRC):

Math 2166	Statistics
-----------	------------

University of Winnipeg:

STAT 1201	Introduction to Statistical Analysis
STAT 1501	Elementary Biological Statistics I
PSYC 2101	Introduction to Data Analysis
PSYC 2102	Introduction to Research Methods
PSYC 4100	Data Analysis & Research Methods
SOC 2125	Introduction Quantitative Research Methods

The University of Manitoba transfer credit data based can be referenced to determine if a direct University of Manitoba equivalency has been awarded. New courses may have been reviewed and approved since the publishing of this list. Please check the University of Manitoba Transfer Credit Equivalencies database found here to confirm if a course has been previously evaluated.

Other statistics and research methods course will be evaluated on an individual basis. Click here for the steps to request a prerequisite review.

Approval of prerequisite courses for admission to occupational therapy does not imply that the courses have been approved by other departments/programs within the University of Manitoba.