RECTOR'S MESSAGE

As Rector of St. Paul's College, I am again pleased to present our Annual Report for the 2018-19 academic year. This past year has been busy with many ongoing and new activities. This report provides an overview of our most recent year here at the College. Here are some highlights worth noting:

- In 2018/19, 951 University of Manitoba students joined St. Paul's College. A total of 189 St. Paul's College student members graduated with their university degrees.
- Our student members were enrolled in a wide range of University of Manitoba degree programs. This includes 193 students in the Arts and Humanities, 208 in Sciences, and 89 in Business. Also, many of our students are enrolled in Law, Medicine and Health Sciences, Engineering, Music, Education, and Peace and Conflict Studies.
- Our Catholic Studies B.A. minor program is the largest of its kind in Canada. A total of 299 students came from across campus to enroll in courses provided by the Jesuit Centre for Catholic Studies. We thank the University of Manitoba for their continued support for this program through the 10-Year Jesuit Academic Funding Agreement.
- The Joint MA with the University of Winnipeg and PhD program in Peace and Conflict Studies are thriving programs housed in the Arthur V. Mauro Centre for Peace and Justice. Many scholarships are provided to these students who now number over 80 and who come from throughout the world. These supporting funds from many generous donors are stewarded by the St. Paul's College Foundation.
- Our faculty continues to be drawn from a wide range of University departments and consists of 20 Regular Faculty Assembly members as well as numerous associate members, research fellows and scholars.

In creating this report, our College acknowledges tremendous support from the University of Manitoba's Office of Institutional Analysis and the Registrar's Office, with special thanks to Randy Roller, Wen Trask, and Shan Rogers. In addition, we appreciate the hard work of Randall Kinley, who coordinated the project, and Matt Semchyshyn who created and edited the report, while also managing its design, layout and print production. A big thanks also goes to those who helped proofread the various drafts prior to finalization.

We deeply appreciate the support we receive from our generous donors, alumni, volunteers, and the Archdiocese of Winnipeg, the University of Manitoba, and others across the broader community. We also appreciate all the good things our students, faculty and staff do each day to make this a great community within the larger University of Manitoba community!

"My connection with St. Paul's College has always been unique as I consider myself to have been a member before I was even born. My mother had worked at the College as the Information Officer in the mid nineties and was employed by the College when she had me. However, it wasn't until 2012 when my eldest brother, Matthew, was elected Senior Stick that I would be reacquainted with the College. I often remember going to masses and ceremonies to support him. I found myself often admiring the bond of my brother and his friends as they talked about events that were happening at the College. When I first started university in the fall of 2016, it was only natural to make my College membership official. When I started university, my brother, Matt, was in my mother's former position as the Marketing and Communications Officer, and my other brother, Jeremy, had just been elected Senior Stick of the College. I had witnessed both of my brothers and their friends raving about their council experience so much so that I had to join. I began my student council career as Director of Fundraising, and would move on to become Vice-Stick and most recently Senior Stick. It has felt good to give back to a place that has meant so much to my family. When many parents or prospective students ask me about joining the College, it is only natural for me to suggest it as a home-base for students during their university career. I am already sure that like my brothers, I too will have many fond memories to reminisce about with my friends when we look back on our St. Paul's College experience."

"St. Paul's College was my go-to location to study and hang out with friends, and the people I met there opened the doors of opportunity, such as being able to run and be elected as the Vice-President External of UMSU. I would not be in the position that I am today if I wasn't involved in the College."

"Entering University as a new student this year I was particularly nervous and scared for this new chapter in my life. As a recent St. Mary's Academy graduate, St. Paul's College made me feel right at home. I had no idea what to expect from University, but the College has allowed me to be more outgoing and have a better grasp on life as a university student. As I complete my first year at U of M in U1, I am excited to further my involvement at St. Paul's College in the years to come."

"What makes the College special for the many first years in university including myself is the familiarity. We come to see our friends, bond over the hardships of adapting to a new institution, and spend hours studying. The College offers opportunities for first years. I can see that as the years go by there will be more and more opportunities to get involved. Whether it is the Students' Association or trips to foreign countries through travel study courses, the College has offered me the chance to get more involved in university so that I can get the most out of my experience and because of this I know that I plan to be around for the entirety of my time at university."

"I have been at the University of Manitoba for four years now, and it took me a while to make myself feel at home. It wasn't until two years ago when I started my Ph.D. Program in Peace and Conflict Studies at the Arthur V. Mauro Centre for Peace and Justice that I felt I found my place. As soon as I started in my program, I became a member of St. Paul's College, a place that became my home away from home. It is the place I spend most of my time, and I enjoy it very much since it is such a friendly environment to be in. I remember when I was completing my MA in Political Studies, and I would sneak into St. Paul's library to study because it has always been my favourite place to study on campus. It is so quiet, peaceful, and Bill Wsiaki was very friendly, always welcoming people with a smile. These small details made me feel welcome in the Paulinian Community. Thus, it was not a surprise that soon enough, I got to know everyone around.

St. Paul's College is not only a friendly community where students can come and have a great experience. It is also a place of academic recognition and opportunities. In May of 2018, when I was applying to study in Israel, I got all the support I could have from the College. Dr. Christopher Adams' support and encouragement were significant to my academic achievements. I am very grateful because it allowed me to pursue my studies in Israel, where I had one of the most amazing experiences of my personal and academic life. I am very proud to be a part of this College, and I hope I can give back to the College one day."

"I have been an Associate Member of St. Paul's College for almost 15 years. I have always enjoyed the warmth, the collegial atmosphere the college brings to its members and staff. So, when St. Paul's College was searching for a new Dean in mid-2017, I put in an application to become the next Dean, and I think has been the best decision I have made in a long time! The work that the Dean's role entails is also the same core values that my parents had instilled in me; to work for others and do that with confidence that it would make the lives of others better.

When I told my family that I had been selected as the Dean of Studies, my oldest son remarked, "Dad, that is perfect, as there's always free food at St. Paul's!" Judging from the many events St. Paul's has so regularly, and the excellent food we get from the Belltower Café, how can I dispute with my son's honest comment? I love my job as Dean, working with students and faculty alike!"

Bonnie Warkentine and Dr. Meredith Bacola at the Celebration of Giving and Sharing

"Reflecting on my almost twelve years at St. Paul's College brings delightful memories to mind. Oh the stories that could be told!

In my support role to the Rector, I work with all of the Boards – four to be exact – that provide governance and guidance to the College. It is a privilege to work with wonderful individuals representing a variety of backgrounds and faiths. While a Catholic College, I have appreciated the inclusion of individuals of other faiths in St. Paul's College.

Most jobs do not include access to spiritual leaders but this is not the case at the College. Fr. Michael Koryluk and Eliude Cavalcante provide caring spiritual guidance to students and staff and have developed a faith community which you can be part of if you so choose. Christ the King Chapel is a lovely haven to spend moments in contemplation and prayer.

I have opportunities to attend interesting lectures hosted by the Jesuit Centre for Catholic Studies, the Arthur V. Mauro Centre for Peace and Justice, and St. Paul's College. Lectures that I have attended and people whom I have met include, to name a couple, Dr. Pumla Gobodo-Madikizela from South Africa who told "Stories of Remorse and Forgiveness in the Aftermath of Mass Trauma and Violence", and Fr. Gregory Boyle, SJ from Los Angeles, California who spoke about "Jobs not Jails: Providing Hope, Training and Support to Formerly Gang-Involved and Previously Incarcerated Men and Women." How fortunate I am to be exposed to such amazing individuals.

Lectures and symposiums that are led from the Rector's office have allowed me to develop organizational skills in the area of event planning. And what fun it has been to work as part of a team to develop a different Christmas theme each year for the Celebration of Giving and Sharing, an event that recognizes friends of the College, volunteers, alumni and donors!

People, be it co-workers, Academics, friends of the College, Board members, students, alumni, or guest speakers, and unique opportunities make my job interesting and fulfilling. I am very fortunate to work at St. Paul's College."

"Looking back on the past three years as a university student and St Paul's College member, I realize how much being a part of the College has helped me in my other endeavours. As assistant editor of the Paulinian, I gained valuable writing experience. As a result, I was well-prepared to step into the role of Director of UMES Publications (U of M Engineering Society), and in turn the role of Vice Stick, Communications.

More importantly, my involvement with the St. Paul's College Student's Association and the broader St Paul's College community has taught me the value of a tight knit community. Having a place to find friendly faces, good food, and the occasional social or trivia night is so integral to thriving in university, and I am grateful to St Paul's College for providing me that opportunity. Even as we become more involved in our respective faculties and spread across the university, St Paul's College still ties us together. We are still Paulinians."

ST. PAUL'S COLLEGE STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION

The St. Paul's College Students' Association had a year full of fun and exciting events. In the summer of 2018, the executive team and the in-whole council met various times to plan for the year ahead. Some of the events that took place this year include:

- A contest to recruit new members at the University of Manitoba's student orientation. All new recruits were given a ballot to enter to win an iPad.
- Locker distribution - Building Manager, Jacob Stevens oversaw this event and as usual all lockers were claimed in less than an hour.
- Welcome Back BBQ and its joint BBQ with St. John's College, where Peter Ginakes and his team at the Belltower Café catered both events.
- Back to School Beverage Garden.
- Installation of the Student Council where Fr. Michael Koryluk blessed the SPCSA at the Fall's Academic Exercises.
- A Spikeball tournament, the second annual Sports Trivia Night, the second annual SPCSA golf tournament at the Golf Dome, and a March Madness contest to see who could predict the best bracket, all planned by the hardworking sports reps Matt Rakar and Dani Mackenzie.
- Charity social, "Don't Shave the Date," in support of the Cancer Foundation.
- Cerebral Palsy Bike Race St. Paul's College team.
- School visits where Student council hosted and provided tours for prospective grade 11 students from both St. Mary's Academy and St. Paul's High School. Many of our council members came in over their spring reading week to participate.

- University of Manitoba's Open House - St Paul's College booth.
- Exam crams in December and April where students were nourished with free food in the Belltower Café.
- Annual Shrove Tuesday Pancake breakfast (prepared by the Belltower Café).
- The Paulinian newspaper that published three issues under the editorship of Joe Smith.
- "Canadian Tuxedo Party" Social in April.

The student council also saw a vibrant election with a large number of candidates vying for positions as well as a great voter turnout. Braeden Cornick and Nick Zinko chaired this year's council elections. Congratulations to team SPCSA Innovate (Brendan Scott, Haley Finch, Laura Gillshammer, Cory Frederickson, Jasmine Tavares).

As a final project for the 2018-2019 school year, the St. Paul's College Students' Association is currently in the process of replacing all the tables in the cafeteria to benefit future students with the help of the St. Paul's College Students' Association initiative fund.

The SPCSA would like to say thank you and farewell to a good friend of the council, Bill Wsiaki, the Librarian of Fr. Harold Drake, SJ Library, who for 45 years served the College in many aspects. We wish him a very happy retirement and thank him on behalf of all Student Councils past and present for his support.

We would like to thank the administration, faculty, and staff of the College, our fellow council members and most importantly the College members for making this year as memorable as it was.

"They say, it takes a village to create change. I believe to create lasting positive change is an art that continually ebbs and flows around questions of what is peace, social justice, human rights, conflict management and compassion. I am currently a fourth year PhD Candidate in the Peace and Conflict Studies PhD program at the Arthur Mauro Centre-St. Paul's College. The Centre's dedication to outreach has allowed me to sit with national and international leaders and visionaries of peace and justice in Brown Bag lectures, the Sol Kane Lectures, and the MLT Aikins St. Paul's College University Affiliation lectures. I was truly inspired.

In 2016, I attended and participated as a volunteer and Story shop co-facilitator in the Winnipeg International Storytelling Festival. I watched the focused eyes of children on the storyteller's movements. I listened to their silence as the storytellers told their tales. I witnessed them captivated. I later listened to these children reflect on their understanding of the stories they heard and how it related to their current life. And I was captivated.

Little did I know that being a part of this program (Peace and Conflict Studies) and Centre was slowly peeling away the masks that I created and wore for so many years. I was learning what is peace, my peace. And the importance of acknowledging strengths and giving back. These experiences shaped my approach to research. Currently, I am in the field exploring "Community activism against de-silencing the voices of young people experiencing sexual violence in Jamaica". I am also working on developing and implementing a sport for peace project to improve girls' access to sport and resources that will assist in addressing issues of violence within an identified community in Jamaica. Both, my acknowledgment of the strengths that are already present within Jamaica and my contribution – a GIFT. The Peace and Conflict Studies program promised to give us the tools we need to address issues globally and the Arthur Mauro Centre at St. Paul's College's dedication to outreach and fellowships connected us to champions. Together, they assisted in forming my belief of lasting positive change and I am forever humbled and honoured."

ARTHUR V. MAURO CENTRE FOR PEACE AND JUSTICE

After 15 years as the Founding Director of the Arthur V. Mauro Centre for Peace and Justice, Dr. Sean Byrne passed the reigns of leadership to Dr. Charlotte Enns in June of last year. While relinquishing his founding Director role, Sean continues at the College as a Professor in Peace and Conflict Studies and as an active member of the College community.

Under Dr. Byrne's leadership and with the assistance and support of the College and founding Mauro Centre board members, the Mauro Centre established two graduate academic programs in Peace and Conflict Studies (PACS) and created several, very successful community outreach programs. In 2018, three alumni of the PACS PhD program co-edited and published a first volume of research containing the PhD thesis work of twelve PACS alumni, entitled Conflict Transformation, Peacebuilding, and Storytelling Research from the Mauro Centre. The collection includes a forward written by Dr. Byrne.

The Sol Kanee, Brown Bag, and St. Paul's College University Affiliation lectures have become mainstays on the University of Manitoba public lecture calendar, with thousands of students, faculty members and members of the public attending. The Sol Kanee Lecture on Peace and Justice has welcomed two Nobel Peace Laureates, Dr. Oscar Arias and Ms Jody Williams, in the last three years.

The Winnipeg International Storytelling Festival held its 14th annual event in 2019. Under the direction of Artistic Director, Dr. Jessica Senehi, the festival seats an average of 4,000 K-12 students in storytelling shows and workshops. Peace and Conflict Studies graduate students are active participants as volunteers and facilitators in the festival, and many of those students incorporate the role of storytelling in their research in peace and conflict studies.

The 7th Annual presentation of the Dr. Phillip Weiss Award – Storytelling for Peace and Human Rights honoured Dr. Arthur V. Mauro at a dinner hosted at the Canadian Museum for Human Rights. In honouring Dr. Arthur Mauro, we are recognizing his clarity of vision and his ability to share that story of the future in the creation of the Mauro Centre, the Peace and Conflict Studies Graduate Programs, and the Winnipeg International Storytelling Festival, among other outreach programs in the pursuit of peace and justice.

Ongoing support from Board members and donors ensures that existing Mauro Centre programming remains effective in furthering dialogue, research, and education in Peace and Conflict Studies and examining the role of the Abrahamic religions in pointing ways for people to live in peace and harmony in a post-modern world.

"It is my dream that the Centre for Peace and Justice be a model that others will follow. That the teachings of respect for diversity and of rational discourse and human interaction that exists at the University would be sustained. That the intellectual tradition of the Jesuits to infuse knowledge with the pursuit of social justice would prevail at St. Paul's College. And that in years to come we can with pride claim some small contribution to creating a better world."

—Dr. Arthur V. Mauro (2003)

"One of the critical issues that bothered me when I left Ghana for Canada to start my studies was where I could practice my faith as a Catholic. I come from a small community where the church provides the space not only for the spiritual growth of members but also the development of the social lives of people. Therefore, I always look for such environments whenever I leave my community. My inquiries about a Catholic Community in Winnipeg that would suit my needs led me to Christ the King Chapel in St. Paul's College.

In Christ the King Chapel, I found a home that brings me closer to God; I discovered a family and community that has made me develop a sense of purpose; I have found a space that is created to engage, learn, rediscover, and to be confident. I appreciate the Campus Ministry team that has made this small community unique and BIG. I am elevated to be a part of this community."

CAMPUS MINISTRY

In the tradition of ministering to God's people, Campus Ministry at St Paul's College is concerned with all aspects of the person and therefore takes seriously the responsibility to serve the individual, personal, spiritual, emotional and physical needs of students and community members. As once described by Sr. Elaine Baete, sgm, while university studies can be "an adventure with hope," for some students the experience may also bring unique challenges including "culture-shock, loneliness and socio-economic trials." Listening and learning from these experiences over time, Campus Ministry activities are grounded in a commitment to "personal attentiveness," the best and most powerful means of "ministry and presence".

Accordingly, through an openness to the creativity, gifts, needs and ideas of the students and an openness to the promptings of the Holy Spirit, Campus Ministry programs and activities are visioned, developed and implemented to meet St. Paul's College students "where they are at" with the hope of supporting, empowering and serving the integrity of the person as they strive towards development of their gifts and deepen in their faith.

In collaboration with St. Paul's College mission, Ignatian tradition and inspired by the vision of Vatican II, Campus Ministry works to bring the Gospel of Christ to the academic world. Throughout the academic year, Campus Ministry helps to promote a spirit of sharing and hospitality, leadership development, justice and peace, and opportunities to care for our local and global communities.

In carrying out its special responsibility to help enable all members of the St. Paul's College community to appropriate the faith more deeply, Campus Ministry is devoted to responding to community needs with prayerful, prophetic and pastoral action and liturgical worship. In addition to pastoral counseling and spiritual direction, the Sacraments of Baptism, Confirmation, Eucharist, Reconciliation and even Matrimony are made available to and accessed by the community throughout the academic year. All of which helps the St. Paul's College community to become illuminated by truth, strengthened in faith and grow in grace.

Sacraments, Liturgical Worship and Prayer in Christ the King Chapel
Mass at St. Paul's College is celebrated in Christ the King Chapel. While daily mass is typically attended by students and members of the College and the University of Manitoba community, Sunday Mass is typically attended by the international students from the College community as well as members of the broader Winnipeg community.

In addition to weekday Mass (Tuesday - Friday), Sunday Mass and other Holy Days of Obligation (such as Christmas and Easter), Mass is prepared and celebrated at special College events including academic and award events (e.g. Mass of the Holy Spirit, St. Paul's Day Mass, Baccalaureate Mass and so forth) as well as other special occasions. For example, a special mass was celebrated with his Grace, Archbishop Richard Gagnon, for the installation of new stained glass windows in Christ the King Chapel. The diversity of the College student body also provides the opportunity to learn and celebrate special cultural masses with the students. This year the cultural masses included an Hispanic Mass in honour of Our Lady of Guadalupe, a Filipino Mass, and an African Mass.

The Sacrament of Reconciliation was made available to students and other members of the University community on a daily drop-in basis (Tuesday – Friday) during both terms of the academic year. Eucharistic Adoration was also available daily in the side chapel and every first Friday in the main chapel. It is worth noting that student participation in daily Eucharistic Adoration continues to increase every year!

Special prayer opportunities provided by Campus Ministry this year included Vespers (Evening Prayer) prior to the Celebration of Giving and Sharing – St Paul's College open house on November 12th, the Rosary on Thursdays before Mass (winter term) and Stations of the Cross (during Lent).

In addition to Confirmation preparation, a Baptism and a Wedding, this year a special inter-faith memorial service for a long-standing member of the College and University community was also held.

Pastoral Activities, Student Support and Mentorship

The Campus Ministry team was exceptionally busy this past academic year with visits from members of the student community. In addition to pastoral counseling, vocation discernment, spiritual direction, and daily "drop-in" conversations, there was a notable increase in student need for support in matters related to sexual orientation, mental health and sexual abuse. In addition to attending University training sessions to better address student mental health issues and questions, the Campus Ministry team was available to students throughout the year to provide information, support and referral services.

Student Faith Formation, Christian Conscience and Ethics

As "the Church on campus," Campus Ministry works hard to effectively respond and facilitate students and members of the College community in their faith formation to allow growth in the ability to make good decisions based on truth and gospel values. To this end, some of the programs and activities supported and/or facilitated by Campus Ministry included: retreats: #Holinessincludesme, led by Sr Michelle Garlinski, snjm on September 22nd, Waiting in Joyful Hope lead by the Association of Religious of Manitoba on December 14th; bible study; movie night; Catechesis and RCIA; and Keep Hope Alive - a share a meal and reflection session on Pope Francis' Laudato Si – On the care for our common home led by the Association of Religious of Manitoba on September 18th.

Personal, Professional and Leadership Development

Every year, during the fall and winter terms, the Campus Ministry team delivers liturgical training to provide new and returning students the opportunity to participate more fully in the liturgy and sacramental life and to grow personally and professionally. Several training sessions were held this year and included training for acolytes, readers and ministers of the Eucharist. Workshops for readers and acolytes were held on May 5th and also on November 17th.

Campus Ministry plays an active role in supporting students who participate in the Canadian Catholic Students Association (CCSA) and who wish to attend the national conference. This year, the national conference theme was Witnesses... to the end of the Earth (Acts 1:8) which was held at Kings University College – University of Western Ontario, London, from November 1st to 4th. Thanks to the generous financial support of our Christ the King community, Campus Ministry was able to support five students to attend this conference.

Hospitality, Fellowship and Community

In accordance with Jesuit tradition, Campus Ministry ensures that it provides reliable and authentic social opportunities for College students, members of the Christ the King chapel community and other guests who may just be passing by. The Campus Ministry team is particularly open and attentive to the ecumenical dimensions of campus life and to the creation of spaces for encounter, fellowship and the flourishing of gifts. Activities here include:

- "listening and laughing" lunches with students and members of the wider University community;
- after-mass fellowship with refreshments (every Sunday);
- talent night/coffee-house (fall and winter terms);
- inter-faith activities including a combined Advent Service – The wise still seek Him – Advent readings and carols on December 6th;
- and mass and lunch with his Grace, Archbishop Gagnon as part of the celebrations for National Catholic Students Week, January 28th, 2019 to February 4th, 2019.

Community Service and Outreach

Campus Ministry strives to be a consistent and vigorous advocate for peace and justice and works with the students to help the academic community live up to its commitment to social justice. Accordingly, Campus Ministry provides various service learning opportunities and community outreach throughout the year and with additional opportunities during Catholic Students Week. This year students participated in the Welcome Home annual Gift Wrapping Bee on December 9th. Campus Ministry also runs a food and clothing bank for students and other members of the community in need.

Continuing Professional Development, Training and Administrative Activities

In order to carry out an effective, responsible and responsive ministry, the Campus Ministry team is committed to ongoing professional development and staying apprised of developments within the Church and the academic community. This past year members of the Campus Ministry team have completed several training sessions and workshops offered by the University on mental health, sexual assault and wellness including:

- Demystifying Personality Disorders;
- Mental Health First Aid Champions Community of Practice Workshop: Loss and Grief;
- Responding to Sexual Assault Disclosures: A Guide for the University of Manitoba Community;
- Coping with Anxiety's tricks;
- Finding Answers Within: Solutions Focused Dialog Strategies;
- MHFA Champions Community of Practice Meeting;
- MHFA Champions Community of Practice: Curious about Cannabis?;
- and Sleep + Physical Activity Decreases Stress.

Campus Ministry also participated in the Archdiocese of Winnipeg Synod meetings as well as participated in and attended various meetings and lectures including:

- St. Paul's College Assembly;
- special committees of St. Paul's College;
- educational lectures sponsored by St Paul's College, The Jesuit Centre for Catholic Studies and The Arthur Mauro Centre for Peace and Justice.

"My decision to join the College was influenced by my sister who I'd seen bond with her community at the College like a second family, and how she continued to maintain those relationships long after graduation despite the various paths they've gone down. Seeing what Paulinians continue to do after their time at the College continues to astonish me."

FATHER HAROLD DRAKE, SJ LIBRARY

"More than 45 years of my life were spent at the University of Manitoba. Nearly all of these years were at St. Paul's College, specifically in the library. The better part of my life, including my marriage, children, grandchildren, parallel careers in music, writing, photography and film making, have all centered around the College community.

When I came to the College all those years ago, I joined the now legendary threesome of Fr. Harold Drake, SJ, whom the library was named after in 1993, Jean England, the bell tower gardens were named in her honor in 2001, and Rosemary Dwyer. I quickly felt at home in the library, which had only recently been built.

When I joined the College in the early seventies, there were several Jesuits living in the attached residence which is now known as the Sinnott Building. They were unique individuals with specialized interests and a wealth of knowledge to share. I valued my conversations with them. Although most have passed away, some live on through the fruits of their work. A few of their names have become synonymous with specific features of the physical building.

Over the years, I have enjoyed the friendship of many students. When I began working here, it was my student friends at the College who rekindled my interest in prayer and attending Mass. I quickly came to love the simplicity and serenity of our beautiful chapel.

The University of Manitoba has been and continues to be a spectacular place for learning and working. Despite all the challenges and changes, my years at St. Paul's College working for the UM Libraries, was a dream job which contributed to shaping me as a person.

My interactions with students, and the opportunities to help and inspire them to do their best, remains one of my fondest memories. Working with a great team of faculty and staff made my role as a supervisor that much easier. I loved my desk and where it was located in the library. Daily, I was surrounded by a diverse community which inspired me to make the Fr. Harold Drake Library a library where all students felt at home and received great service."

— Bill Wsiaki

Former Library Supervisor,
Fr. Harold Drake, SJ Library

2018-2019 has been a year of change at the Fr. Harold Drake, SJ Library. After 45 years of serving the University of Manitoba and St. Paul's College, Library Supervisor, Bill Wsiaki, retired in February 2019. A celebration was held in Wsiaki's honour to pay tribute to his impressive career. Many former staff and students were in attendance in addition to many current students and staff members from across the University of Manitoba.

Dominique Taylor continues as the Librarian for Catholic Studies, French, Spanish, Italian, Peace and Conflict Studies, Philosophy, and Religion. He spends a few hours a week at the Fr. Harold Drake, SJ Library.

A new Reserve Kiosk was installed in the corridor near the library. The Reserve Kiosk, which resembles a vending machine, allows students 24/7 access to library items including course reserves from the Fr. Harold Drake, SJ Library. The high-tech kiosk is available to any University of Manitoba staff or student with a valid ID card. Students may return checked out items, from the kiosk, back to the kiosk or to the library by the appropriate due date. UM Libraries provided the self-serve machine to use at St. Paul's College.

The Fr. Harold Drake, SJ Library was also included in the College's 2018-2023 Strategic Plan. The plan will ensure the stewardship of the preservation of the history of the College and its archives. It will also ensure that the Fr. Harold Drake, SJ library will continue to be a focal point and scholarly hub for the College and for those seeking access to scholarly works relating to Christianity and Peace and Conflict Studies.

The library collection continues to support the programs of the College including Peace and Conflict Studies, Catholic Studies, and many more.

"I remember my first class on my first day of University had more people in it than my entire Catholic High School did. It was overwhelming to say the least. However, the more I reflect, the more I am immensely grateful that I became involved with St. Paul's College and the Catholic Studies Minor program. St. Paul's College was a natural place to become more active and to learn about my faith. Through St. Paul's, the large university began to feel smaller as I began to make connections with people and professors. The smaller class sizes offered at the College allowed friendships to grow easily. I have been able to meet and become friends with so many people who have amazing and diverse lives. The closer I get to graduation; I realize the great impact that this place has had on my life as it has challenged me to be a better critical thinker and to grow as a person. I have been able to grow tremendously through all the activities, travel experiences and volunteering opportunities. I truly appreciate having St. Paul's College on campus as a place to express my faith and to learn about the world."

JESUIT CENTRE FOR CATHOLIC STUDIES

The Jesuit Centre for Catholic Studies is a teaching and research centre operated out of St. Paul's College and the Faculty of Arts, University of Manitoba. The Centre operates the largest Catholic Studies program in Canada and annually teaches about 400 students from 20 Faculties, Colleges or Schools at the University of Manitoba in a variety of courses designed to promote a scholarly understanding of the Catholic Church. Priding itself on being academically rigorous and student-focused, the Centre remains closely connected with the Catholic community in Winnipeg. Catholic Studies graduates are currently pursuing careers in Law, Nursing, Journalism, and Education, among other pursuits.

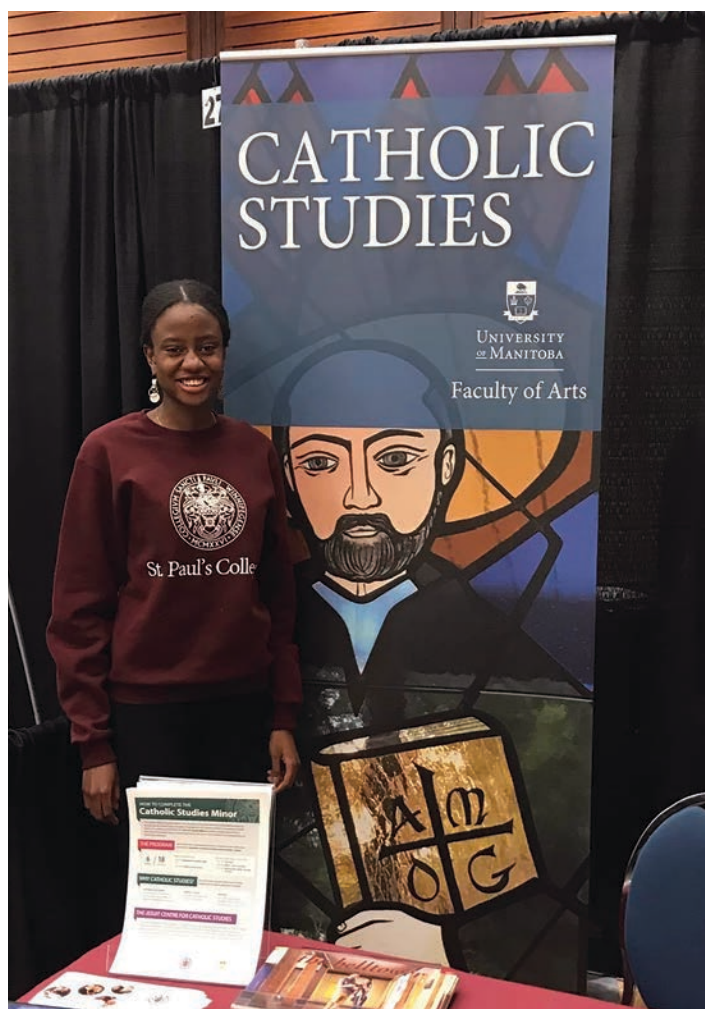

Faculty members, Dr. Bacola and Dr. MacLeod continued their scholarly research and are at work on larger academic projects related to the history of the Catholic Church, the Society of Jesus, and contemporary religious issues and have both published peer-reviewed articles and presented at international conferences. In early June, they delivered scholarly papers at the Congress of the Humanities in Vancouver.

Record crowds including students, scholars, and community members, continue to flock to the Formations and Re-Formations lunch-hour lectures. In 2018-19, scholars presented on Catholic approaches to global warming, Catholic-Indigenous relations, and universal basic income, among several other themes.

The 2019 Jesuit Lecture was also a major success. Josef Mario Briffa, SJ from the Pontifical Biblical Institute in Rome presented his lecture: 'When We Burned Incense to the Queen of Heaven: Artefacts and Bible in Ancient Jerusalem,' to a capacity crowd in Hanley Hall.

Ten different scholars collaborated and team-taught a new course, 'Ten Great Catholics,' in Winter Session 2019. In addition, the Centre was once again able to offer a Travel Study Course. Dr. Bacola and Dr. Caligiuri accompanied students in the course to Italy where they visited a number of sites intimately tied to the history of Catholicism. The Jesuit Centre will also offer an online version of 'Intro to Catholic Studies' in the Summer 2019 session.

New this coming academic year, the Jesuit Centre will hire its first ever Post-Doctoral fellow to conduct research on some aspect of the Catholic tradition.

"I came to study at the U of M specifically because of the Near Eastern and Biblical Archaeology Lab (NEBAL) and the programs and opportunities that Professor Greenfield has created for his students. Being part of the Near Eastern and Biblical Archaeology Lab has provided me with many academic options including research topics and summer field work in Israel. The opportunity to join a new excavation team for my Ph.D. research paired with the freedom to continue the work that I had already begun while in Israel for my M.A. truly embodies the ethos of NEBAL: collaboration and growth. For me, growth took the form of a completely new approach to my topic of study. My research uses houses and artifacts to study ancient Near Eastern societies and civilizations through computerized mapping, and is an entirely new approach for me to use and only became possible through collaboration with others in NEBAL."

NEAR EASTERN AND BIBLICAL ARCHAEOLOGY LABORATORY

The St. Paul's College Board of Governors at the University of Manitoba established the Near Eastern and Biblical Archaeology Laboratory (NEBAL) in 2010 to have a single location on campus for the study of ancient cultures of the Near East and Eastern Mediterranean. Relevant archaeological remains on campus are sent to NEBAL for analysis and curation.

NEBAL provides an integrated research and administrative centre for faculty and students. Dr. Haskel J. Greenfield (Distinguished Professor, Anthropology; Coordinator for Judaic Studies; Member, St. Paul's College) and Dr. Tina L. Jongsma-Greenfield (Research Associate in Anthropology; Research Fellow Member, St. Paul's College), both with the Department of Anthropology, co-direct the laboratory.

Drs. Greenfield and Jongsma-Greenfield continued their scholarly research this year. They published numerous peer-reviewed articles, presented at academic conferences, and gave public lectures.

Dr. Haskel Greenfield gave two public lectures in 2018: The Memorial Service for the victims of the Pittsburgh Massacre and Greeks, Philistines, and the Peoples of the Sea: archaeological evidence and the Bible as part of the 19th Annual Catharine Pelican Memorial Lecture at the University of St. Louis.

In general, NEBAL members attended and gave papers in at least 12 different professional academic local and international conferences.

The NEBAL team had a busy research schedule spending part of the summer of 2018 in Israel and Turkey conducting research on the Bronze Age of the Levant and neighboring regions.

Dr. Haskel Greenfield and graduate student, Tiffany Okaluk, visited numerous sites and museums in Turkey before joining a larger NEBAL contingency in Israel. During the ensuing weeks, the focus of the activities was on finishing the analysis of the archaeological remains that they excavated from the Early Bronze III layers (c. 2900-2500 BCE) at the archaeological site of Tell es-Safi/Gath. Excavations at the site are now complete and NEBAL members are in the process of analysing the material and writing up the results. They also worked in the laboratory at Bar-Ilan University and completed a rewarding lab season this past April.

Dr. Greenfield, Jeremy Beller and Jane Gaastra also went to Jordan to work on material from the German excavations at Tell Zira'a, which has important comparisons with their work at Tell es-Safi/Gath, in Israel.

Dr. Greenfield was part of a group who conducted a survey of the bioavailable strontium in modern plants across central Israel in order to compare with the ancient strontium signatures in the teeth of animals excavated at various sites.

In addition, Dr. Tina Jongsma-Greenfield and undergraduate student, Sara Douglas, participated in the Tell Burna excavations in Israel for several weeks.

The central administration of the University of Manitoba gave the laboratory a grant for the purchase of display cases to be placed in the hallway outside of NEBAL to be filled with artefacts, bones, and other items that highlight the activities and interests of the various NEBAL team members. Visitors are always welcome!

"Throughout the course of my master's degree, the Near Eastern and Biblical Archaeology Laboratory and St. Paul's College has served as my second home. Not only is it a place where I work and study, but also a place where I have made lasting friendships and memories. Through NEBAL and the support of St. Paul's College I have also had the opportunity to travel and work throughout the Holy Land on assemblages from sites such as Philistine Gath and Megiddo.

I came to NEBAL four years ago as a volunteer, curious to see if zooarchaeology was what I wanted to do for my graduate studies. I had no idea when I walked into NEBAL for the first time how my life was about to change. I am so fortunate to have spent the past four years working and traveling with a group of like-minded, wonderful people, for whom I am so thankful."

ONGOING IMPROVEMENTS TO THE COLLEGE DURING 2018–2019

This past year was a busy one for capital improvement projects in St. Paul's College. The following is a list of projects we completed this past year towards our continuing goal of enhancing the classrooms, offices, research and study areas, building comfort, general accessibility and overall aesthetics into the College.

- A noisy exhaust fan unit in the corridor between the Belltower Cafeteria and Theatre 100 was replaced.
- All weather-stripping on the exterior chapel doors was replaced.
- Extensive renovations to make classroom 225 an "active learning" space were completed. This included new moveable seating, desks, white boards, flooring and AV equipment.
- Near Eastern and Biblical Archaeological Laboratory (NEBAL) development Phase 6: in early January, 2017 Dr. Haskel Greenfield and Randall Kinley submitted an application for Phase 6 funding to the Federal Research Support Funds program (RSF) to the Vice-President (Research and International). This funding was for the acquisition of modern lab furnishings and equipment, and for an accessible lift. The funding application was successful and the requested upgrades were installed.
- Two building entrance signs were built and installed to replace the current Dysart Road entrance signs.
- Air quality and comfort of graduate carrel room 301 was enhanced with installation of an air conditioning unit.
- A proposal to embark on an ambitious three-year project to make St. Paul's College entirely accessible has been developed and proposed in partnership with the University of Manitoba.
- In addition, to further enhance accessibility and wayfinding within the College, additional accessibility signage was installed.
- Two stained glass windows were installed in Christ the King Chapel.
- We have entered into negotiations with a highly experienced group to finance, build and operate a 300-bed student residence project on St. Paul's College land under a long term lease agreement.

Our College projects were accomplished with financial support received from our student members, our donors and friends of our St. Paul's College Foundation Inc., St. Paul's College Students' Association, St. Paul's College Ignatian Society, and the University of Manitoba and the Richardson Family.

"I love calling myself a Paulinian, because as an international student from Nigeria, St Paul's College feels like home. The expectation as a Catholic is to join my church community, and St. Paul's College has become like a second home for me. Everyone is welcoming and very supportive.

Both the College community and the Catholic Studies program have completely impacted my life in so many ways. # COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT OFFICE

The Office of Community Development oversees the management, the fundraising and donor stewardship activities for St. Paul's College and St. Paul's College Foundation Inc. Our priority is to be accountable and transparent to our students and alumni members, donors, and to our community. Our goals include securing and stewarding gifts that meet the current demands of the College's community while looking to the future for sustainable funding; particularly for our impressive set of academic and outreach programs. Additionally, our office provides daily organizational, and event planning, along with communication support to each of our College units.

The Community Development office leads the coordination of our annual Celebration of Giving and Sharing. The event, an open house for our community, also acknowledges our volunteers and donors. Each event is unique in theme, menu, and decor. Be watching your mail as the 2019 Event will offer an expansion of this warm and inviting evening.

An active Alumni gathering that is gathering a great deal of momentum is our Ignatian Society Baccalaureate Breakfast. Held prior to the Baccalaureate Mass and Ceremony this past April we greeted well over 150 guests into our Belltower Café. Designed to welcome our graduating student members to the family of Paulinian Alumni our guests have the opportunity to meet and hear from an Ignatian Society leader. Our 2019 speaker was Dr. Angus Reid.

He spoke about his involvement in College and the University, meeting the person who he would become his most valued relationship, his wife Margaret, and his insights into the important role St. Paul's College plays with the University of Manitoba. Thank you to Rinella Printers and Winkler Meats for sponsoring this year's event. Our gratitude extends to Michael C. Burns, Gerald Clancy, The Hon. Philip S. Lee, Tri-Star Technical, and others who have given to The Leadership Fund.

Since 2014 the Foundation's Academic Award portfolio has grown from awarding $65,000 to over $200,000 annually. While financial support for our students will always remain a priority for the College, we now must turn our attention to an equally valuable endeavor. Every year our Foundation's Endowed program funds provide less than $20,000 for operations. This is a heavy burden for our Foundation and College. Moreover, despite our many successes and impressive list of credentials, this problem directly affects our student and alumni experiences. We are more. We are a vibrant community of students, faculty, staff, volunteers, alumni, and friends, who are recognized for their service for others, leadership, and commitment to academic excellence. Our community stewards the Jesuit intellectual, spiritual, and social traditions in teaching and research, and values its commitment to peace, justice, and conflict resolution locally and throughout the world.

"To me, St. Paul College was a pleasantly unplanned encounter in my life. When I came to study at the University of Manitoba, it had been suggested to me that I check out the Campus Ministry program at St. Paul's College.

Most of my previous schools had been Catholic-based, and so the idea of getting involved in serving the church was nothing new to me. However, I thought that my involvement in the Church would have ended after I had graduated High School, but it seems that God had a different plan for me, as I got another call to serve Him and others at Christ the King Chapel and it has enriched my life at University in more ways than I imagined."

ST. PAUL'S COLLEGE FOUNDATION

St. Paul's College Foundation Inc. is a registered Canadian charitable foundation. Its purpose is to advance the educational and religious objectives of St. Paul's College at the University of Manitoba through fundraising and stewardship of alumni members, donors, its community, and its investment portfolio.

Men and women from the College's community are invited to serve as directors of St. Paul's College Foundation Inc. They bring to St. Paul's College a keen interest in Catholic higher education and are prominent members of the community with a record of achievement in charitable work. They are experts in one or both of the two major tasks of the Foundation, fundraising activities and stewardship of investments, and enjoy working with others in the accomplishments of these important tasks. The Foundation calls for the appointment of 16 members, four of whom will be ex-officio – the Archbishop of Winnipeg, Rector of the College, Chair of the Board of Governors, and one member of the Alumni and Friends Association of the College.

Your Foundation works in conjunction with the Board of Governors for St. Paul's College to approve the annual disbursements from the Endowment Fund and distribution of donations from the General Fund. The Directors of the Foundation work hard to provide the best possible financial returns of the gifts they receive.

VALEDICTORIAN ADDRESS

What a special day this is in front of the faculty, our family and friends, and all of these honoured guests. For a long time, through all the cold walks around campus to attend morning lectures and through all the late nights of papers, lab reports, and exam cramming, graduation seemed so far away. Yet here we are. Doesn't it feel great?

I am excited to be moving to the next chapter of my life, but I am also a bit sad to be saying goodbye to the College. The College has really been a home base – a community. I remember feeling overwhelmed in my first year of university before being nudged by my good friend Jeremy Semchyshyn, who I am thrilled to be graduating with, to get involved at the College. I became part of the students' association and began spending a lot of time around the College. When I think of how to describe St. Paul's College I keep coming back to the idea of it being such a strong and supportive community. The College is more than just a building on campus, it's the friends that you can lean on, thoughtful professors, it's the Belltower Café where Peter will serve you the best food on campus, and a nice library with a helpful staff and a great study space, and it's a place to pray.

There are brilliant students studying such an exciting range of bachelors, masters, and PhD programs, and I am honoured to be part of such an impressive class of graduates. I have no doubt that my classmates here will go on to be the leaders in the fields from which they are graduating. Throughout six years on campus completing my undergrad degree and now throughout law school, I am truly lucky to have found such a thoughtful and supportive community.

I would like to recognize a couple people who made my college experience an incredible one. I would like to thank Dr. Adams, who has been a mentor to me. He has been very encouraging as I pursued my political studies and law degrees and I appreciate all his wisdom and support. I would also like to thank Dr. Dan MacLeod, who has been a mentor for me throughout these university years. I first met Dr. MacLeod about four years ago, when I took an Intro to Catholic Studies course at the College. It was a fantastic class and I took a couple of courses with him and I later worked as his summer research assistant. In addition to being an excellent professor he is a great person, mentor, and friend. I am lucky to know him, and I look forward to staying in touch after graduation.

We also heard a great speech from Dr. Angus Reid this morning, and if we were to ask him to run one of his famous opinion polls, I am sure that it would show that many of my fellow graduates would agree that they have found both mentorship and friendship among the faculty at the college.

Of course, a lot of tough days and nights went into our graduation here today. We did it! And not only did you make the choice to graduate from the University of Manitoba, but you made the choice to graduate from the College (unless you're a Semchyshyn, in which case you're born into it) and the choice is one that my classmates and I made because of the values of the college.

This college is a special community. When I was part of a few fundraising campaigns on campus I noticed that the students and faculty at this College are particularly generous compared to the other buildings of this campus. A professor encouraged me to come into his lecture hall and make a presentation and then told his class he would match donations. The students, faculty, and alumni have a generous sense of community and they donate their time generously.

I also found you really get to know your classmates and friends at the College. It's an honour to be graduating with this particular class of excellent students. People at the college really check in on each other, and I think this is just a wonderful place at the University of Manitoba to call home. The values we have learned from the college, values of social justice, values of faith and reason, values of putting others first – these are all things we will take with us in the next chapter of our lives, whether it is continuing our studies or starting our careers.

The main thing I would like to end with, on behalf of our graduating class, is just to express our gratitude. Thank you to everyone at the College for supporting us, thank you to our families in the crowd – we could not have done this without you!

Thank you those who have made our graduation possible through scholarships and funding and thank you for allowing me to take up a few minutes of your time. I am so glad that I found this community and I appreciate all those at St. Paul's College who have made my university experience what it was. Thank you.
